DEDICATION

Mr. I. A. Rosen

Mr. Rosen, we hope that the dedication of this yearbook comes as somewhat of a surprise to you, who are so deserving.

We admire your sacrifice of time to not only the teaching of English and heading the English department of our school, but also serving as sponsor of our school publications, the Herald and the Lancer.

Hamlet and Macbeth would never have been the same without your emphatic explanations and unforgettable gestures, and the Herald and

Lancer deadlines would never have been met without your constant "push".

This is the only way we could think of in which to express our gratitude for your patience and understanding with all of us. Your instruction and guidance has helped an inexperienced staff to plan, set up, and produce a yearbook which we hope you can be proud of.

It is for these reasons that we are dedicating our 1959 Lancer to you.

Prologue

ONCE UPON A TIME, not so very long ago . . . A Kastle, (Royal Oak Clarence M. Kimball High School, to be precise), was built in the northern section of Royal Oak. The inhabitants of the Kastle were called the Knights. Not unlike the Knights of yesterday, the Knights of Kimball were divided according to rank; Serfs, Pages, Squires, and Lords, and they were bound by a common spirit - pride in their school.

Just as the educational ingredients blended to produce a chivalrous Knight in the days of King Arthur, so they now blend to produce a well-rounded and balanced modern Knight.

The Knights of yesterday learned the skill of jousting for enjoyment. Today, the Knights enjoy participating in football and basketball. Religion and the intensive study of the Bible played an extremely important part in the education of a Knight. The present noblemen are absorbed in the studying of English and world history. Chivalry was the mark of a truly accomplished Knight; activities are now the mark of a well-adjusted Knight.

Just as the actions of the Knights of yesterday were recorded, so have the activities of the Kimball Knights been recorded during the past year. A look into the following pages will reveal that the noblemen of Kimball were just as ambitious and busy as the Knights for whom they were named.

Academics

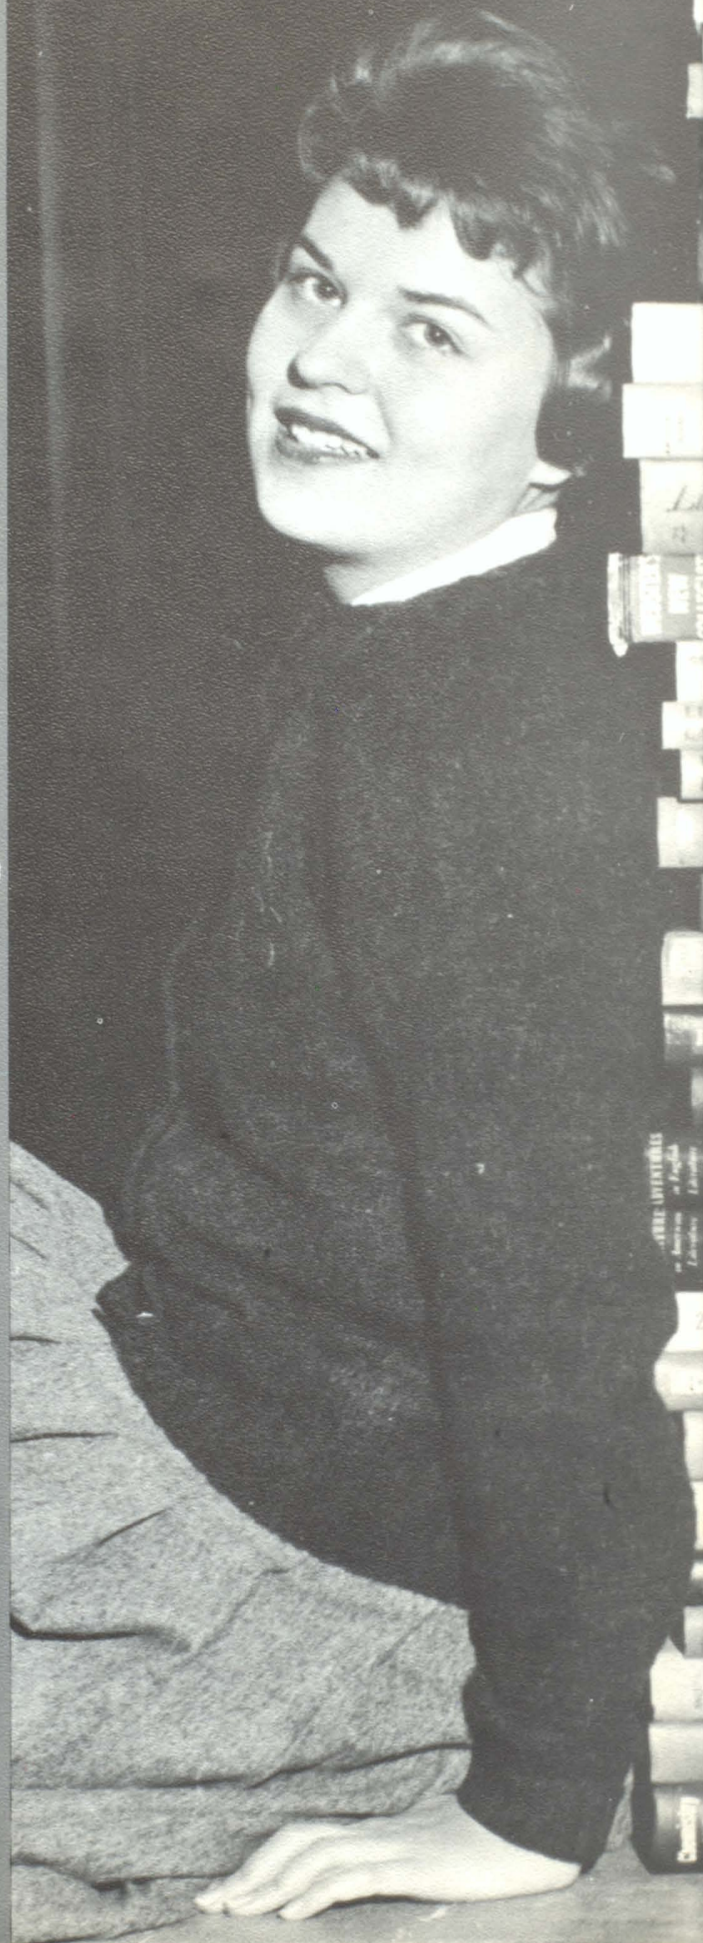

Upon looking at the academic life at the Kimball Kastle during the past four years, we found that it was more than just a 'pile of books' and an endless amount of work. All students agreed that the long hours of homework were not their idea of fun, but they must admit the chores did benefit them.

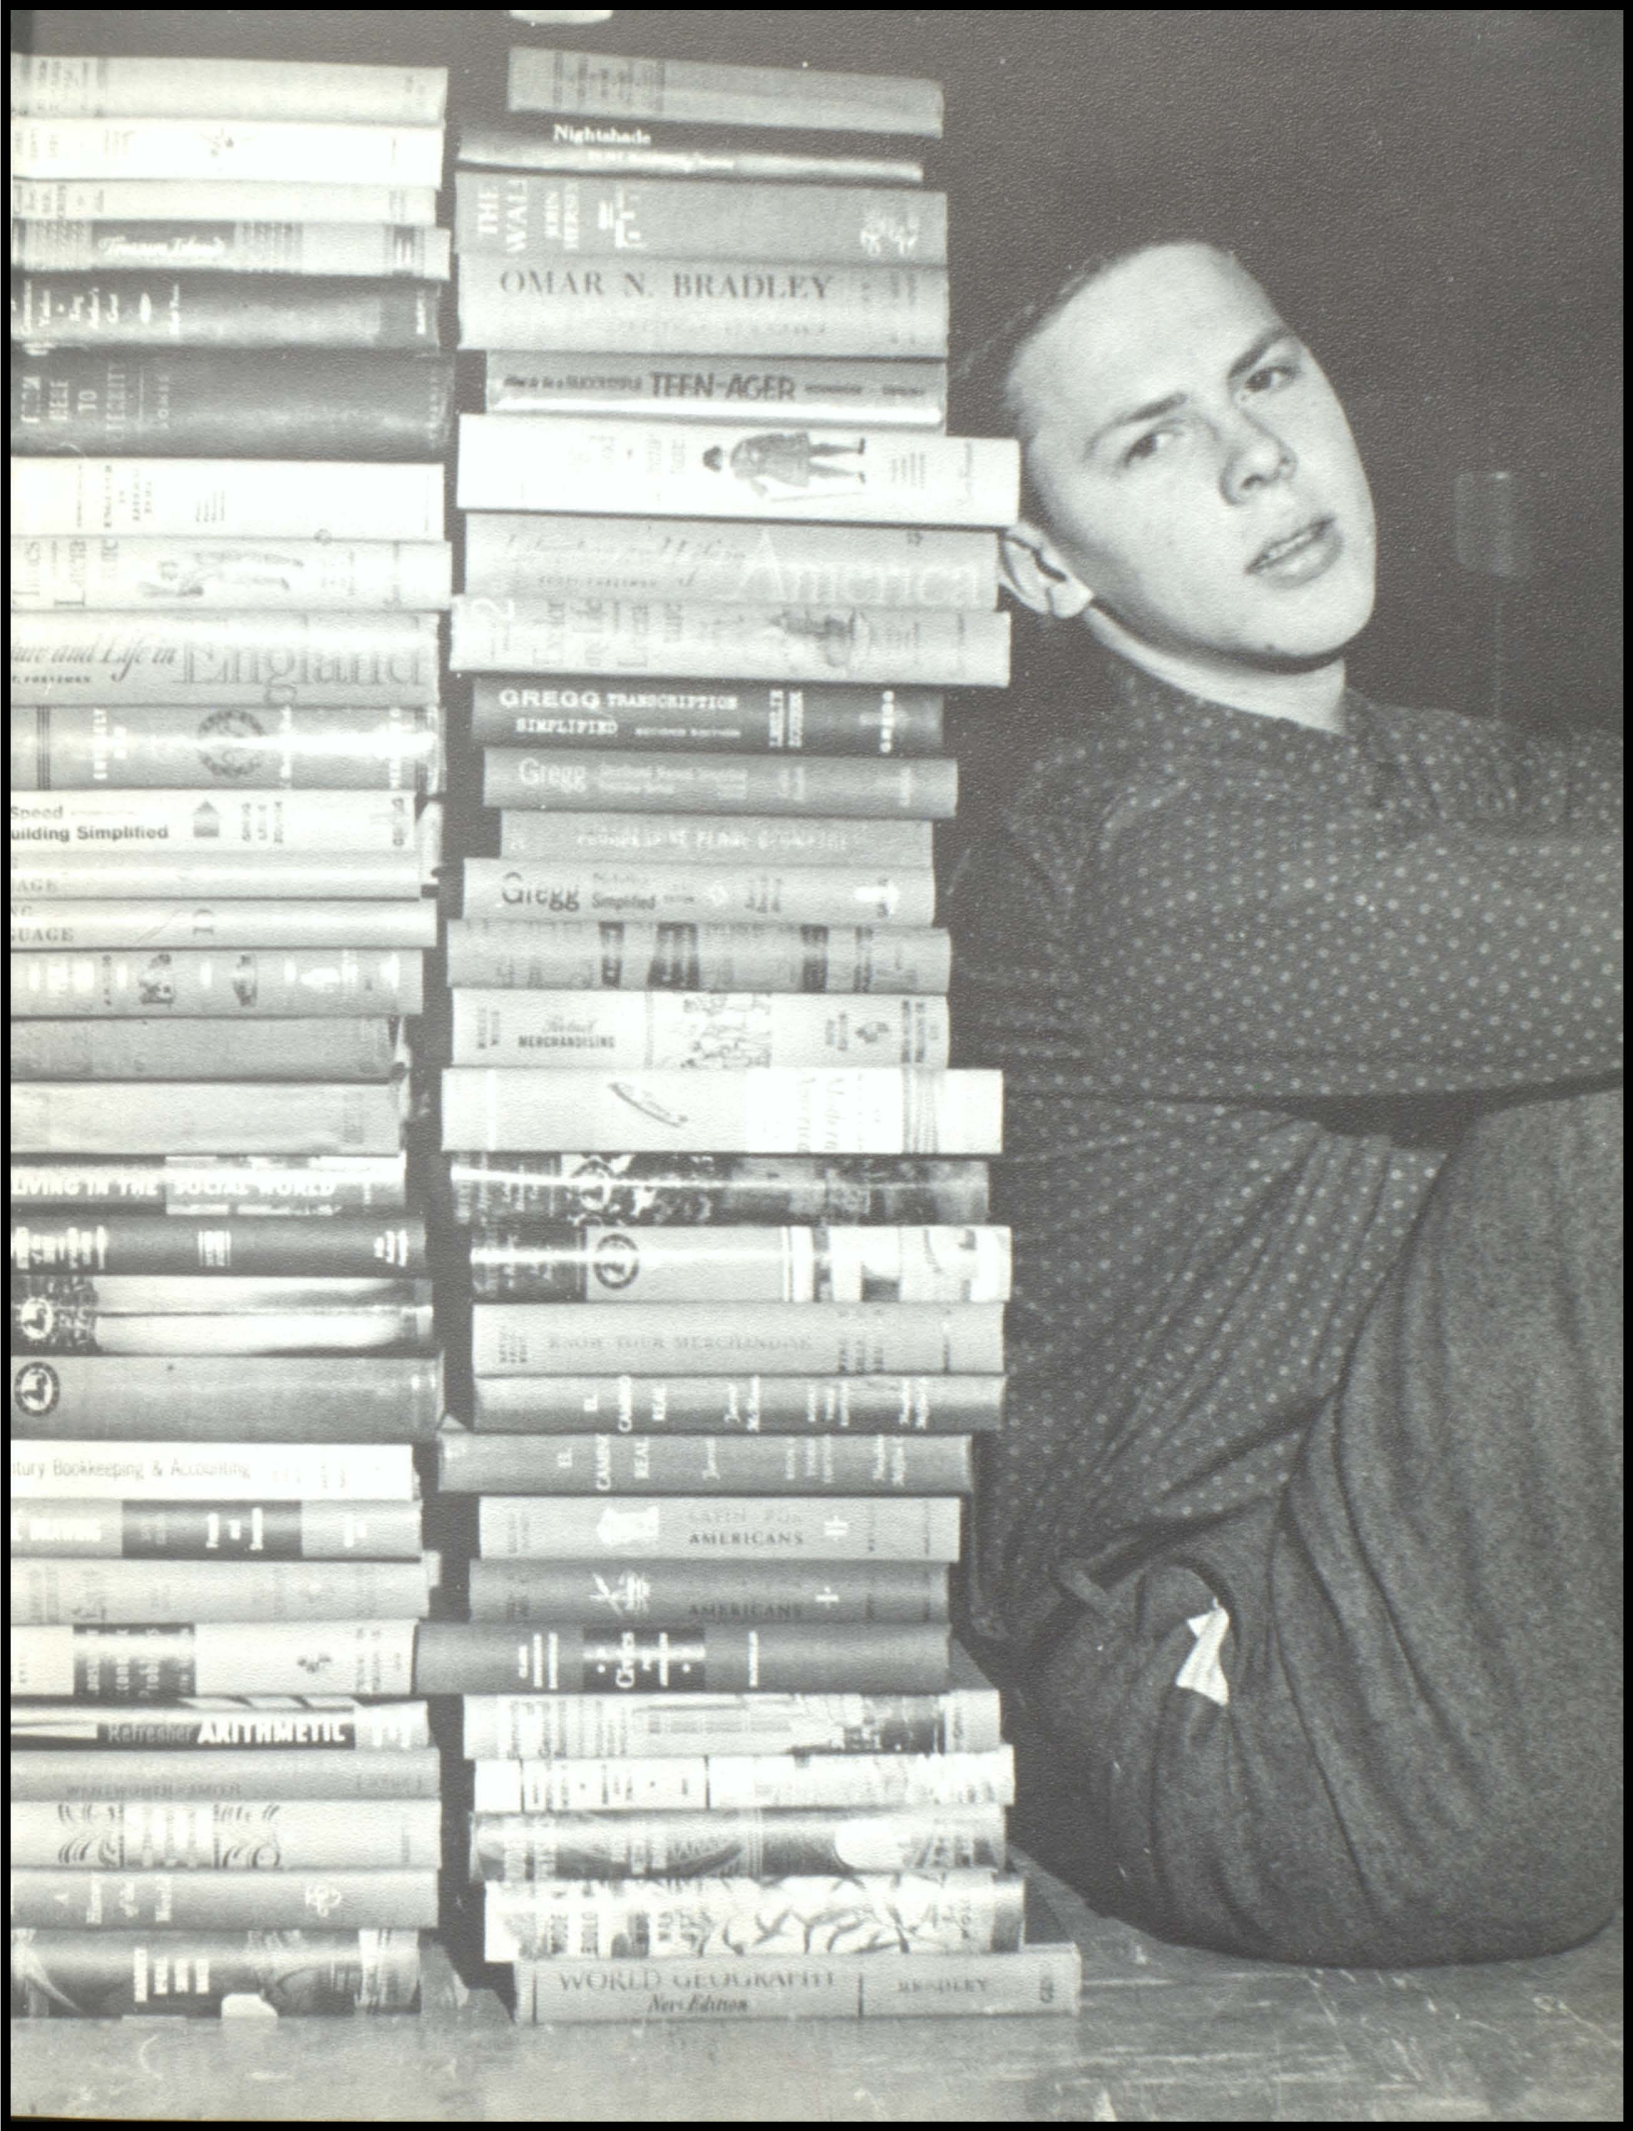

As Serfs, we suffered through English and the reading of David Copperfield. Our English foundation was shaken when we found that the ABC's did not spell out words in Algebra.

When we progressed to Pages, we conquered those difficult languages with the peculiar sounds, and no Latin student could ever forget fighting the losing battle against Caesar and his conquering army. We also found the 'home-row' and discovered just what a frog looked like - inside.

We finally reached the rank of Squires, and as such became more aware of our surroundings and the fact that we were "upperclassmen." The longest ten minutes of our life also occurred this year, when, as a bundle of jangled nerves, we presented our ten-minute speech to the rest of our classmates.

From the memorization of the alphabet to graduation from high school, the learning process played the most important and influential part in our lives. The following pages will serve as a pictorial guide into the last four years of learning. . . .

Serfs Enter . . .

Upon entering Kimball High School, the serfs are recognized immediately by certain characteristics such as their wide-eyed wonderment at the magnitude of the school, their dilatory behavior in the halls and classrooms, and their amazement at discovering there is no room 403 around the corner, beyond the ramp, down the stairs, through the doors and to the left. However, what would the rest of the noblemen do if there were no lowly serfs? To whom would they sell their worn out elevator and lunchroom passes, if this innocent and unsuspecting species did not exist? Although this may present a bleak picture of these fledgling students, they have the undeveloped potential to become the leaders of the school.

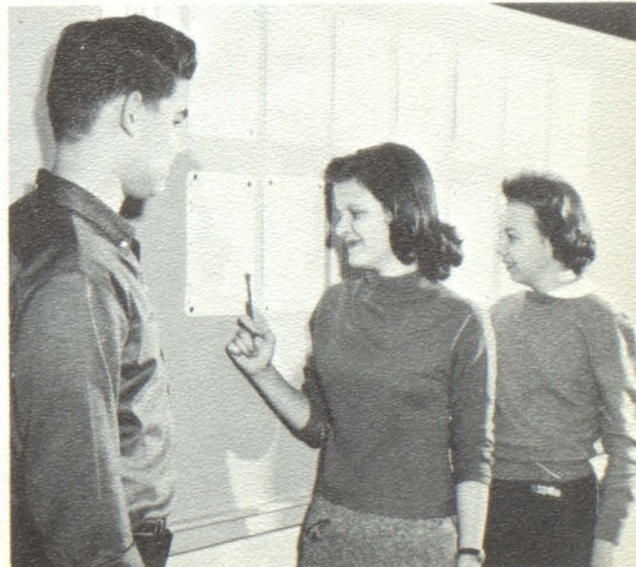

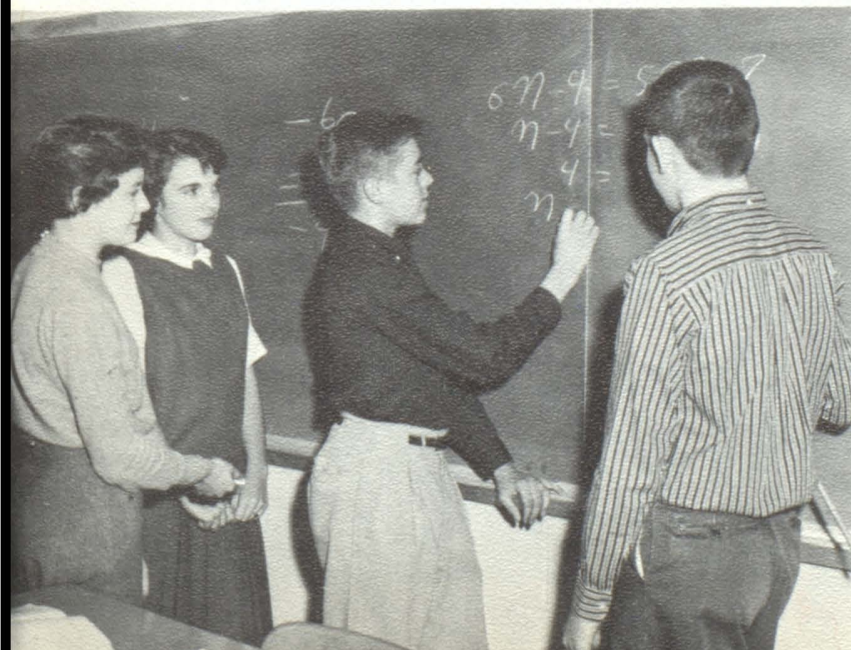

Under the watchful eye of Mr. Donald Bush, Diana Ball in Civics points out the ever-solid Rock of Gibraltar. Her classmates, Jackie Akins, Larry Struter, and James Annesser, have a perplexing look on their faces. Mr. Bush explains that this rock belongs to the British Empire, is located off the coast of Spain and is quite heavily populated.

... To Learn Academically ...

Remember back in your Freshman year when you were often puzzled over some of the Algebra problems? John MacDonald seems to have found the correct solution to this problem with the help of Sandy Renner, Frances Odbert, and Ken O'Brien.

While demonstrating how to read a graph, Judy Gross appears to have found something amusing. But Dave Matthews and Judy Dunn seem puzzled over the strange dots and lines.

Danny Gamble demonstrates the correct way to cut a board on the electric saw. Watching Danny are his fellow classmates.

Learning how to play volleyball is one of the many sports that is taught in girls' gym class. Karen Ely is about to score a point while Margie Sved, Kitty Cullens and Julieann Repp look on.

"Look at Mike blush," says Janice Cooper to Judy Harvey. This is Mrs. Young's smallest Latin I and II class which gives the students a chance to receive individual help. Don't they look attentive?

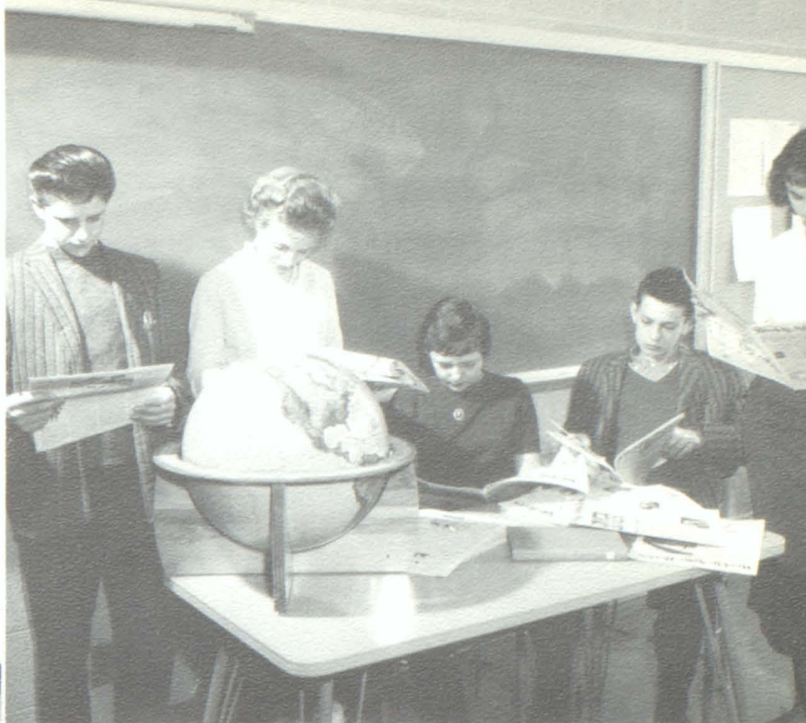

"Is my lipstick on straight?" asks Tom Custance, mocking the girls in his class. "All they ever do is primp!"

While Christine D'Alleva reads about various landmarks of France from her French book, Ed White points out the different cities in which they are located. Helping them are Sheryl Wallace and Jim Burns.

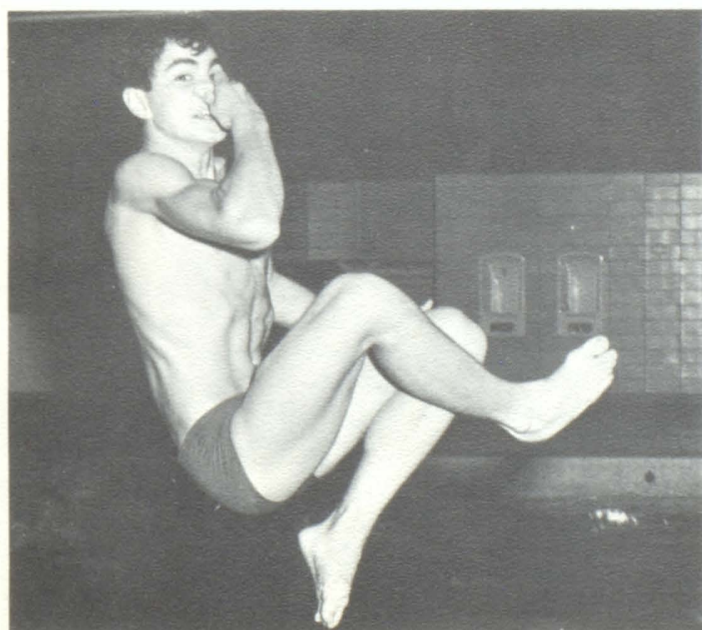

"What in the world's going on? If you read The Weekly News Review you'll know!" Bob Barnes, Barb Gregory, Nancy Skinner, Don DeGain, and Donna Stever usually find the joke page the most popular section in the paper, but by their expressions it seems like today's punch lines are stale.

ALL-SCHOOL PARTY

As Nancy King anxiously awaits Bill Schewee's reply to her invitation to the all-school party, Judy Gross exclaims, "Take your hands off of him—he's mine—I asked him first!" Pat Woldex, Lynne Hatch, Jo Ellen Junod, and John Beedle await the outcome of the conflict. John enviously remarks, "What's he got that I haven't got!"

As freshman Larry Johnson tries to perfect his dive in pool class, he exclaims, "Help, I forgot my nose plugs!"

The cameraman gets an evil look from freshman Ruth Hengen as her fellow 151 homeroom colleagues, Barbara Sain and Barbara McDowell, look on with "cheese" smiles all ready for the picture.

Pages Adapt . . .

Once removed from the lowly Serfs of Kimball are the Pages, who have several special characteristics for which they are known. Since they have passed through the lowest stage of nobility, and it is still very fresh in their minds, they want revenge for their mistreatment during that period. This revenge takes the form of making life miserable for the serfs. However, besides this desire for revenge, the Pages have become accustomed to the routines of the school. They seem very anxious to be a part of everything, so they join every club they possibly can. In this manner, the Sophomores begin to recognize the fact that they have some characteristics of leadership. The one trait, however, for which these fair ladies and noble lads are renowned is their undying affection for one another. They see no reason to keep this a secret, and thereby they create a wonderful exhibition for the rest of the Knights — as evidenced by the photograph on this page.

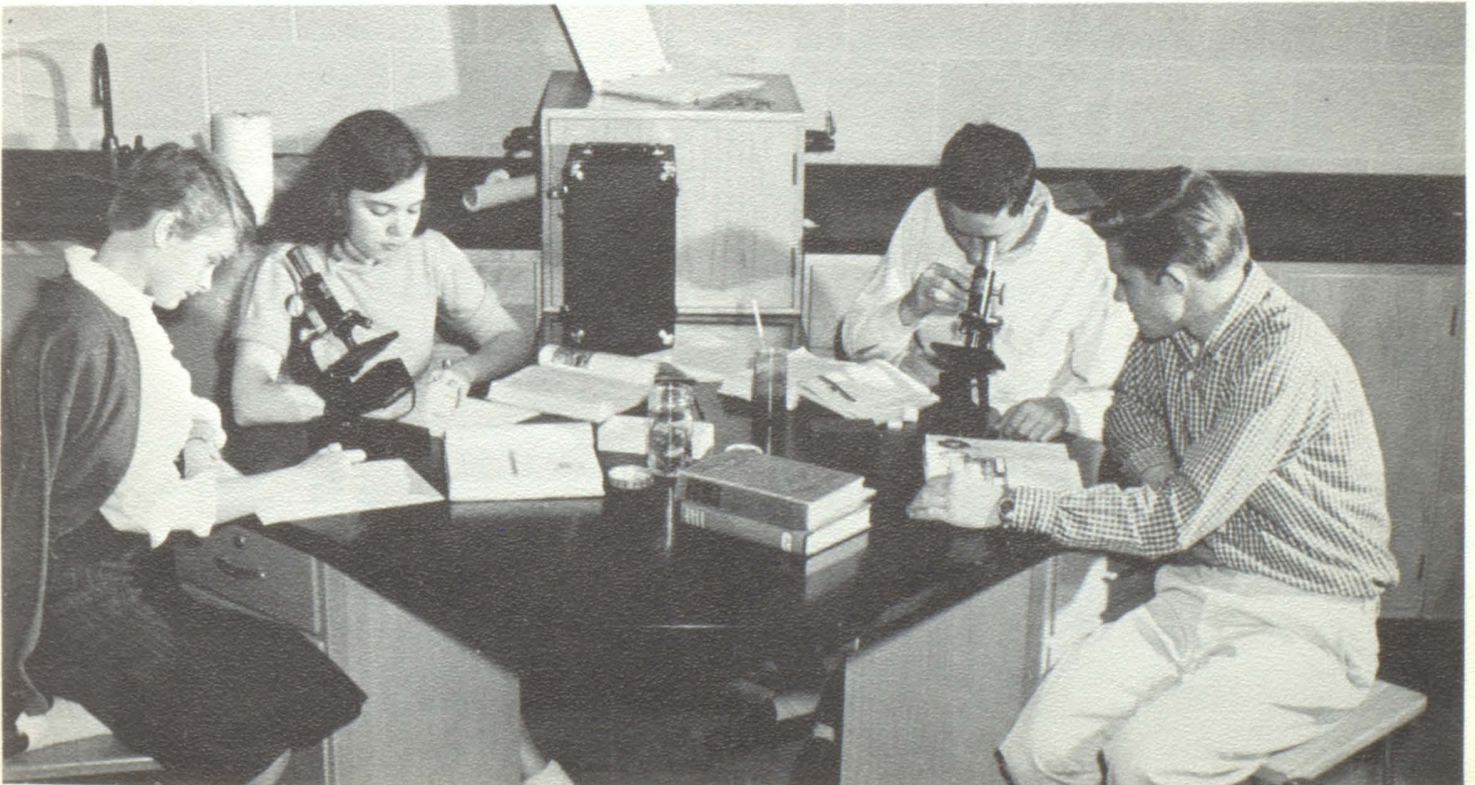

Florence Williams, Lillian Freeman, and Karen Lami are hurrying to finish the daily Typing 1 lesson. They no doubt will master the keys by the time they move up to Typing 4, seventy words a minute.

Roger Hicks and John Johnson are enjoying the pictures that Sheryl Walker is showing her World History class. Stephania Lee and Mary Navarre seem to have an interest in the subject.

Bob Hewitt appears to have found something very interesting as he looks intently through the microscope at the specimen on the slide.

(He's using a 400 power lens.) Also working on the biological experiment are Elaine Berryman, Pam Gazowsky and Dan Williams.

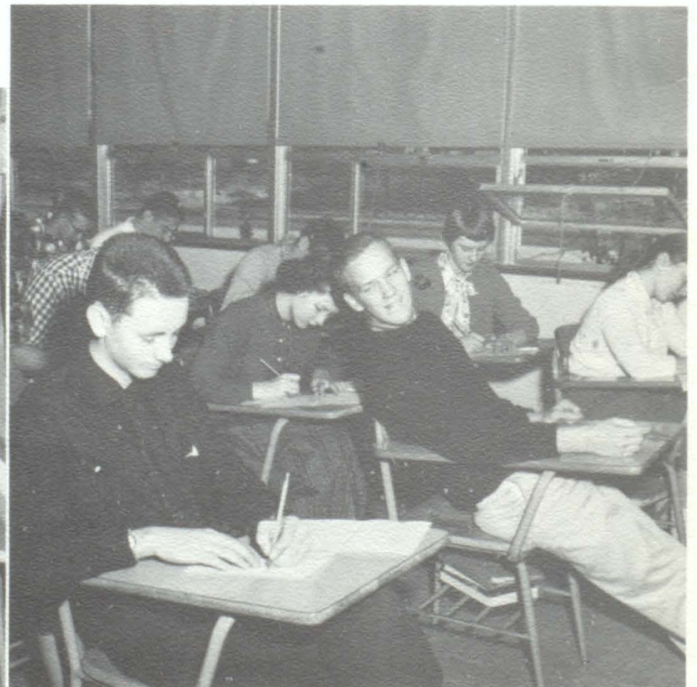

"Well, friends, that just goes to show you; it can happen to you. But I just don't understand it; it's against all laws of nature," says Mr. Stoolmiller. Proving it can happen to anyone are Don Hicks, Tony Avizenis, Ken Bright, Wayne Bird and Rand Kulkis.

... To More Difficult Courses ...

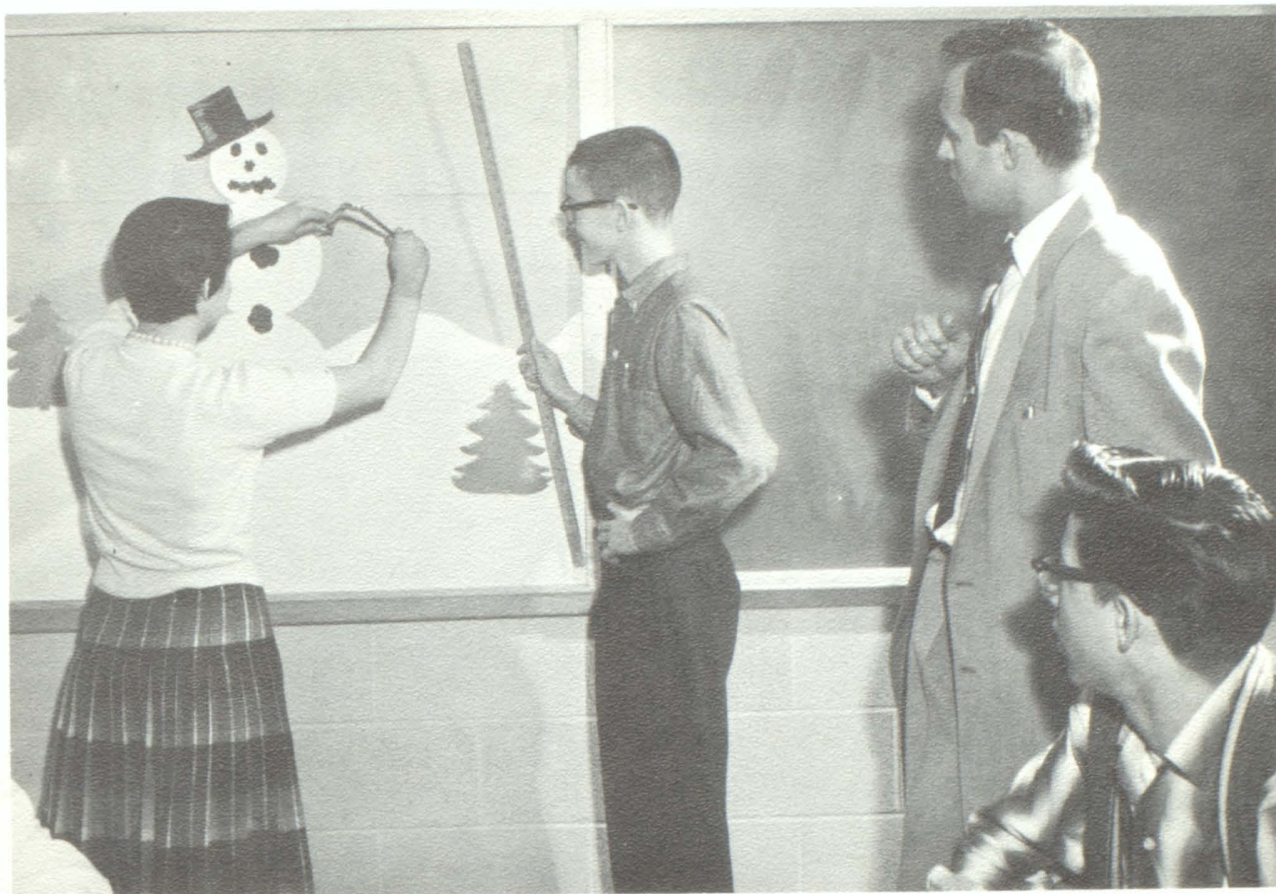

Paul Shortt and Barb Perrino demonstrate their talent during their Spanish class by doing the well-known Mexican Hat Dance, while two nearby sleepy hombres are illustrating the art of taking a siesta.

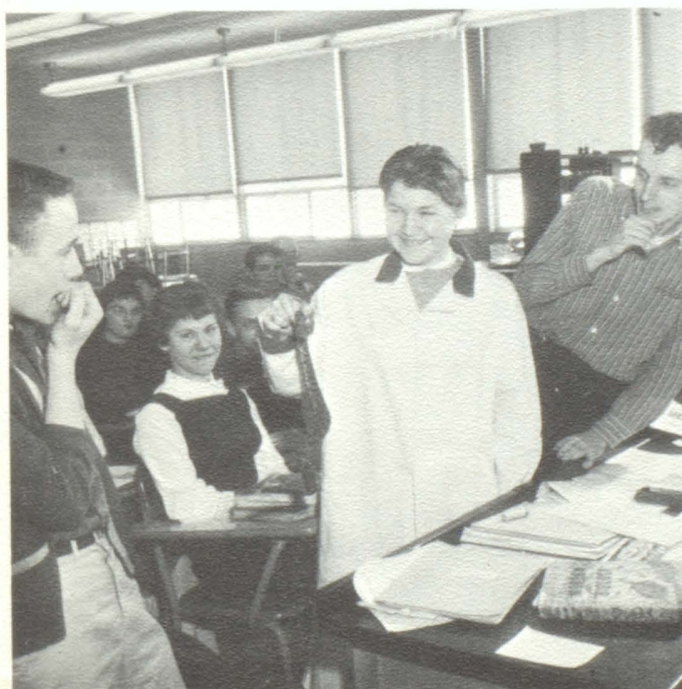

You say you forgot your pencil today, and the teacher won't let you take the test without it, and Ron MacFadyen knows what he is doing. Is that what is troubling you, Brad Kurilik?

In keeping with the winter spirit, Carol Brandenburg constructs a difficult geometric snowman under the direction of Peter Gentry. Mr. Grosskopf seems to be commenting on the way to construct it also. These students, from Mr. Grosskopf's Geometry 2 class, find it easy to put their learning to practical use.

... And More Fun Socially

Gary Jordano and Ernest Mack appear to be afraid of something. It could be Mr. Gasiorowski's favorite pet, held by Lynn Spedding. This, too, proves who the weaker sex really is. (No offense meant, boys!)

"I wonder who he'll hurt next," ponders Ken Sandri. Butch Harris and Florence Williams seem to be his two most recent victims. The rest of his class await their doom. (Only kidding, girl!)

Squires Prepare . . .

Ranking second only to the Lords and Masters of Kimball are the Squires. They have limited their participation in the clubs to those which include their special interests. Academically, the Squires realize they must maintain and/or raise their average. Socially, they find they are meeting more and more students, being taken up in the social whirl, discovering the delight in being handed the car key for the first time. Another wonderful experience is receiving their class ring, for it is then that they really feel a part of a group working together. As juniors, they choose those students whom they feel will lead them capably and graciously as their officers.

Thus, at the end of three years, the once lowly Serfs have progressed through the stages to Squires and are now ready to use their discovered and developed potential as Lords and Masters of the school.

Miss Hamilton gives dictation to the future secretaries of tomorrow in Shorthand 1. In the picture starting at the left are: Carol Bilatta, Jo Rangus, Diana Mueller and Gayle Stock.

Pointing to the Louisiana Purchase, acquired by the United States in 1803, is Diana Broome, as George Krell and Ron Melnick give her their undivided attention in Mr. Barker's American History class.

In Mr. Hawarny's English 5 class, Jon Bonner is challenging Jack Higdon as Diane Kuiger and Beverly Czismadia look on. Sarah Bengamin and Janet Meissner appear interested in something else.

Enjoying the comfort of one of Kimball's locker lounges, we find a group of enthusiastic students finishing up their homework. These scholarly students from left to right are Sharron MacDonald, Mike Paleolog, Dave Berg, Sharron Yousoufian, Karen Hammond, Ralph Richards, Brenda Palazzolo, Bill Consilyea.

... Both in and out of Classes ...

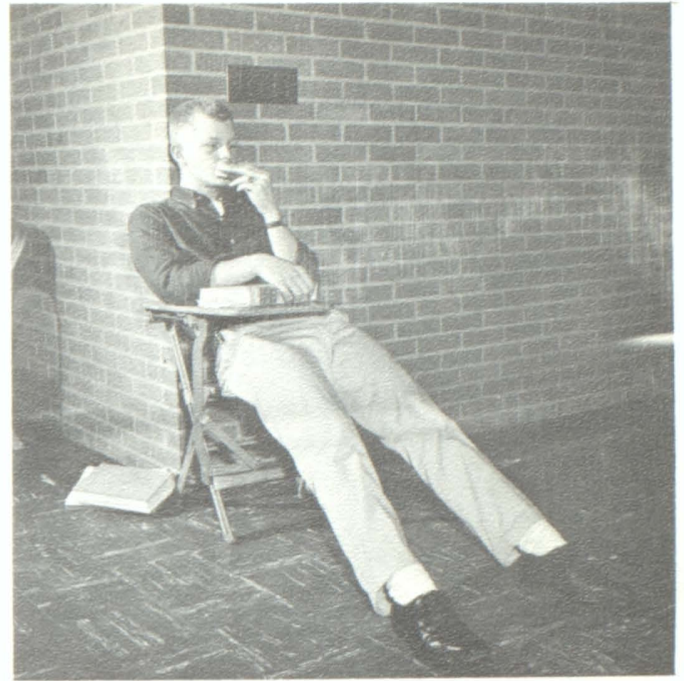

Larry Wasen is demonstrating how to do an algebra problem as Iris Cracknell watches on with keen interest. It looks like Larry is a little stumped.

The girls in this "Foods" class are in for a good meal as Marilee Hanson, Joan Patterson and Alice Bedard prepare a delicious-looking chicken.

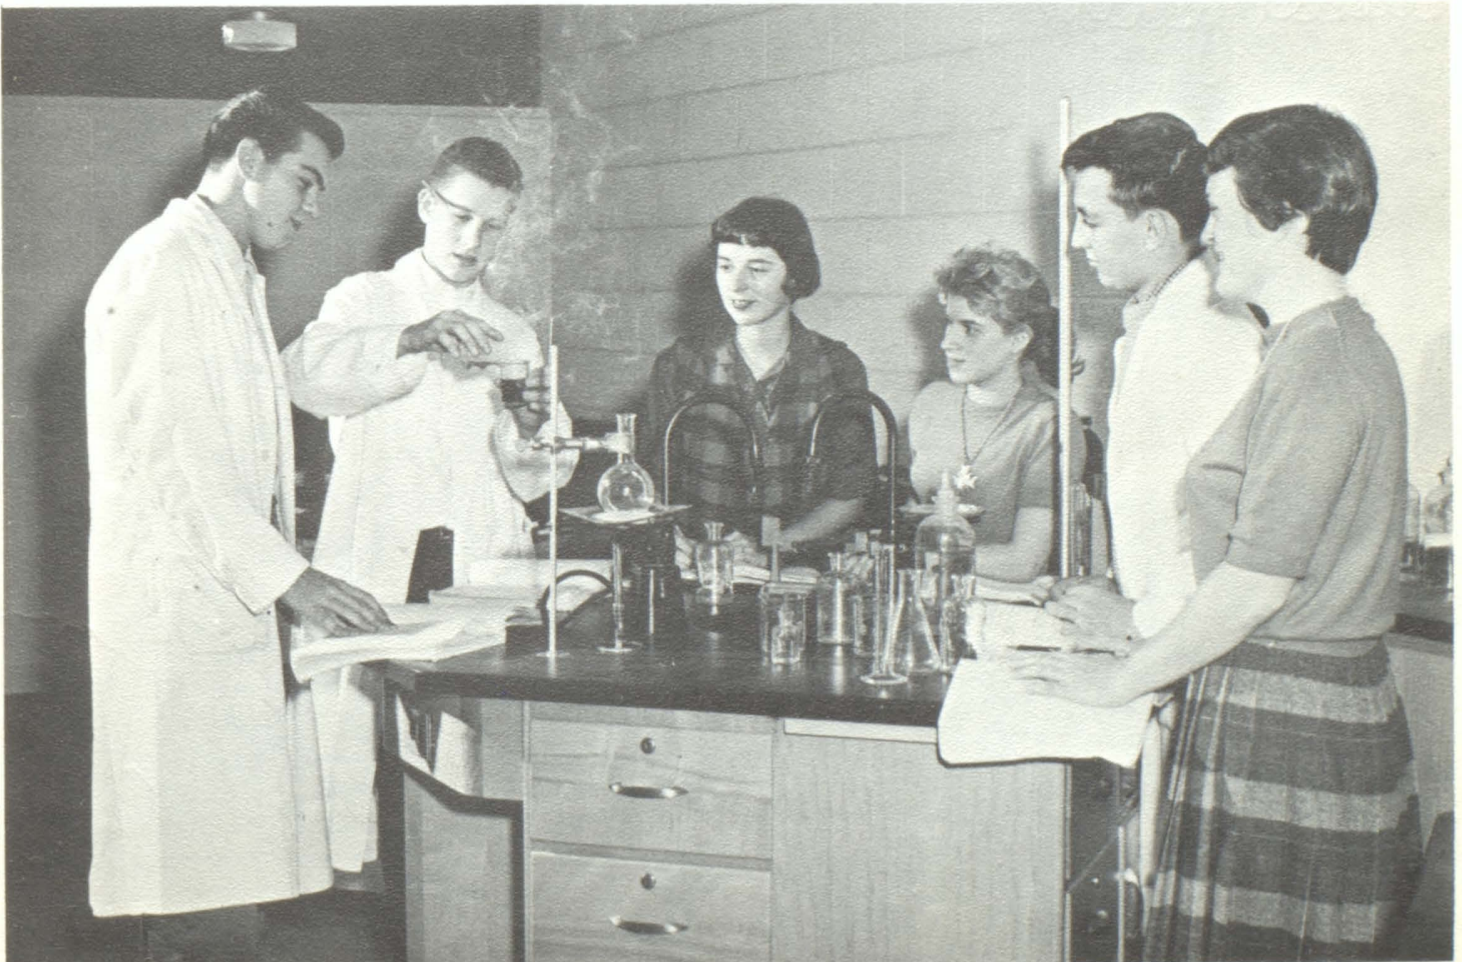

At one of the tables in Kimball's large cafeteria we find Roger Gieger, Ray Bachyniski, Gary Wirth and Jack Valentine finishing up their lunches.

Busying himself with the strenuous duties of a hall patrol is Bob Martin, munching on his lunch which, by the way, is against the rules.

Frank Duca and Dave Berg are shown while performing one of their experiments. With all that smoke, the onlookers Nancy Baldauf, Sandy Neid, Jerry Polino and Sandra Haach should be prepared for the worst. The next project will be to find the missing link.

Under the able direction of Mr. Russell Peters, our band has enjoyed one of its most successful seasons.

... And The Band Played On ...

Mr. Russell Peters

The Royal Oak Kimball band has now finished its second year under the direction of Mr. Russell Peters. There were 70 members in the band who rehearsed at 7 A.M. every morning, come rain or shine.

The trips and activities which they took part in were: a trip to Canada in May, playing in the Memorial Day parade, a trip to Lansing for Michigan State Band Day, and on April 24 they took part in the all-city band festival.

At the March 5 concert, each person who had been a member for two years and hadn't missed one rehearsal or concert received a gold pin.

The brass section of the band readies itself for another practice session before participating in the next event on its schedule.

Mr. Peters, director of the band, taps out the appropriate rhythm with his baton, as the band members "get the beat."

"Good grief! Where in the world do you see THAT note?" Mrs. Dodge proves that the life of an orchestra director is a trying one.

Practicing for an orchestra concert is a serious and grueling task, as is revealed in the faces of Sharon Weisman and Beverly Csizmadia. Roger Mead practices, too.

The orchestra of Royal Oak Kimball High School proudly poses for this picture in order to show off their brand new uniforms.

Orchestra Completes Busy Year

The Kimball Orchestra's 37 members have completed a busy season of many "firsts." After playing for "A Man called Peter," the industrious group settled down and practiced for their first concert and the District Orchestra Festival at which they received a high rating. New uniforms were purchased for the orchestra with the proceeds of a candy sale held by the musicians. Also, several solos and ensembles from the orchestra competed at the District Solo and Ensemble Festival where five entries received the highest rating possible.

After playing for "Books and Crooks," the orchestra planned another concert. To close their busy season, the orchestra said "Good-bye" to the Seniors by playing at Commencement.

Mrs. Ann Dodge

Under the direction of Mr. Keith Lancaster, our A Cappella supplied us with excellent music and interesting concerts throughout the year.

Kimball Offers Drivers' Education

Every year the Drivers Education course teaches over fourteen hundred students. It is in demand more than any other course because of the elimination of a two year wait and lower insurance rates.

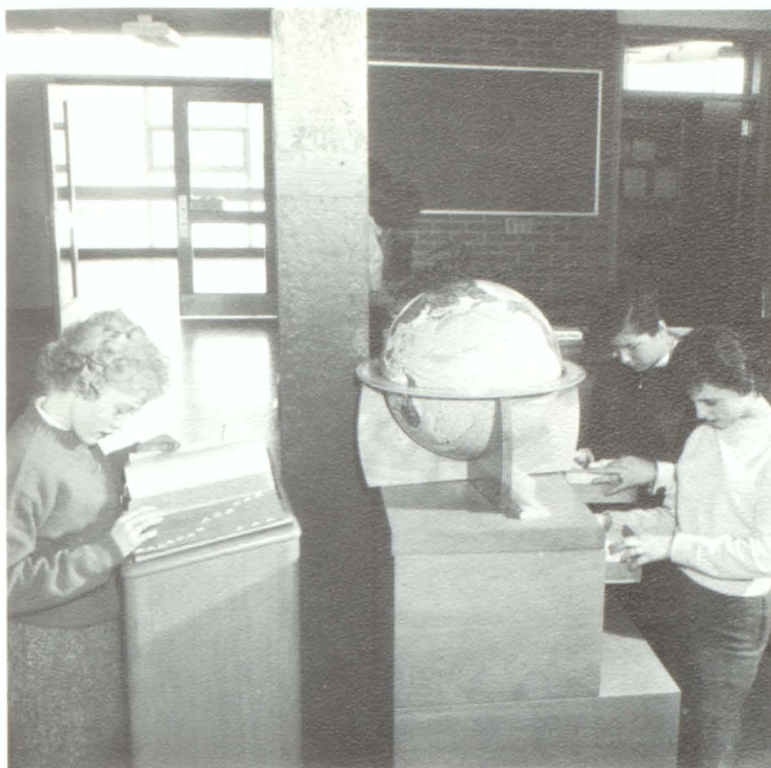

The course consists of thirty hours in the classroom and six and one-half hours behind the wheel.

The classroom section contains training devices such as brake reaction, vision, steadiness, and depth perception tests. By these means, the student not only is able to find his weaknesses but the instructor is also able to help in these fields. Besides the tests, the students read and discuss daily assignments given from the text.

The actual six and one-half hours behind the wheel consists of two weeks on the driving range and one week on the road. While on the range the students learn how to shift, stop, start, park, and back up. They practice precision driving by weaving around flags. The one week on the road consists of driving in everyday traffic. When a student has completed the entire course, he is not yet ready to drive alone. He must first take both a written and a road test at the local police station.

The depth perception test is taken by Anita Good while Bill Bartlett, Sue Porter and Kathy Retell watch.

Library Staff Works Earnestly And Efficiently

Mrs. Winifred Hartwig
 Librarian

The Kimball library is one of the most important facilities the school has to offer, housing nearly 6,000 books which provide a storehouse of knowledge for all ambitious Kimball students. The library has space for approximately 150 people and accommodates up to 600 people a day. During all hours of the day, students from speech classes, science rooms, and study halls enter the library for research, study, or just plain relaxation. The selection of books is many and varied, the magazines keep Kimball students well-versed on all current happenings, and audio-visual devices are also available.

The library staff, headed by Mrs. Hartwig and assisted by Mrs. Braeuninger, is made up of 36 Kimball students who are interested in obtaining valuable experience in library science. They receive credit for their first two years on the staff and if they wish to continue with the work, they do so with no credit for the remaining semesters. A Library Science Award is given to a deserving graduating staff member who has given extra time and energy to the library.

Sports

There was one aspect of our school life that all students found necessary — SPORTS.

In the fall, we experienced the thrills and excitement of watching our noble Knights tally a 7-2-1 record. No one can possibly forget our Homecoming Weekend — the climax to the marvelous gridiron season. The weekend started out with the greatly anticipated clash with our cross-town rivals, Dondero. We were extremely proud of our team, even though we lost the game by one exciting point.

The end of the football and cross-country seasons ushered in the beginning of basketball, wrestling, and swimming. Even though our basketball team did not do so well in the league standings, we were proud of the boys for their excellent display of determination. The grapplers fought their way through their second season and ended up with a fine record.

Perhaps, one of the most exciting sports was swimming. Our Knights streaked past Birmingham to bring the first Eastern Michigan League championship to Kimball.

The first touch of spring found the track, baseball, golf and tennis teams practicing diligently.

We look back now on the 1959 sports year and feel elated that all our teams tried hard and displayed the most important quality attainable in athletics — sportsmanship.

Knights Close Victorious Season, 6-2-1

Another football season has come to a close. With the Knights ending up with an excellent record of 6-2-1.

In Kimball's second year, the team placed eighth in the state because of the able coaching of Pin Ryan.

Repeating history for the second time, the gridders tied their first game with Southfield 27-27. They then went on to conquer Berkley 25-0, Hazel Park 18-6, and Dearborn 6-0.

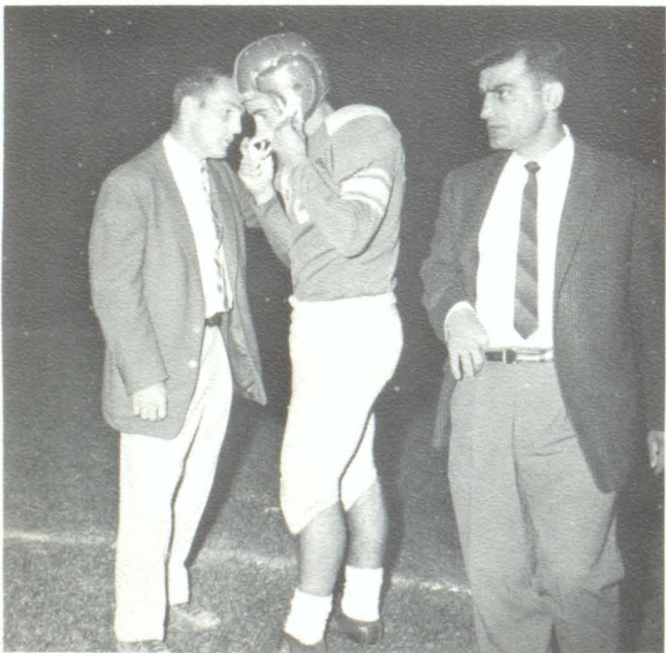

The Knights then tasted defeat from Grand Rapids-South 12-0. The Kimball squad struck back and downed Taylor Center 27-0, Fitzgerald 40-7, and Birmingham 7-0.

In the first annual Oak Stump Game, Kimball was edged by Dondero 14-13. The inter-city game replaced the annual Royal Oak-Birmingham game.

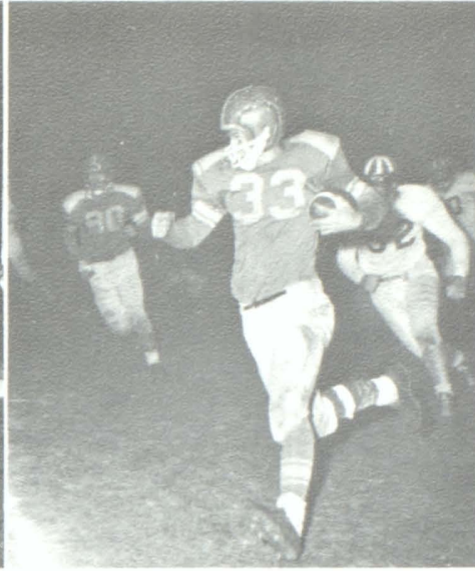

The Knights scored on the opening kickoff. However, at the end of the half, Dondero held the lead 14-6. Kimball scored late in the fourth period to make the final score 13-14.

In the second year of competition, the Knights gained state-wide recognition. Two of the Kimball eleven made honorable mention on the All-State team. They were Dave Brazier at guard, and Don Furhman at tackle.

Kimball also placed three men on the first string of the All-SOC Team, they are Dave Brazier at guard, Mark Hector at center, and Frank Voeffray at back. Honorable Mentions were Don Furhman at tackle, Larry Wassen, Dale Sparrow, and John Holbrook all backfield.

Frank Voeffray, Kimball halfback, listens attentively to Coach Ryan's advice as Assistant Coach, Paul Temerian, views the field of play.

Left - Dale Sparrow eludes Grand Rapids South tackler as he fights his way for a first down, with the aid of an unidentified blocker.

Right - Larry Wasen shows grim determination as he sprints past two Birmingham defenders on another long gain.

It seems as if half of the Grand Rapids Football team is after Kimball's Frank Voeffray, who is off on another jaunt, which proved futile as the Knights lost, 12-0.

Right - Kimball's Frank Voeffray grimaces while being tackled by an unknown Grand Rapids player after an end run.

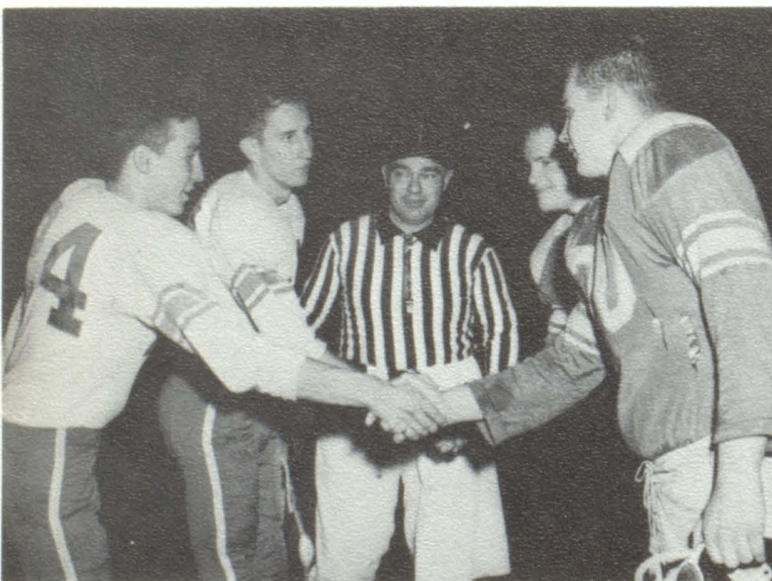

In the Southfield game, Mark Hector (50) deflected this pass to Larry Wasen (33) who, unfortunately, was hit by an unidentified opposing player trampled in turn by Dave Brazier (64).

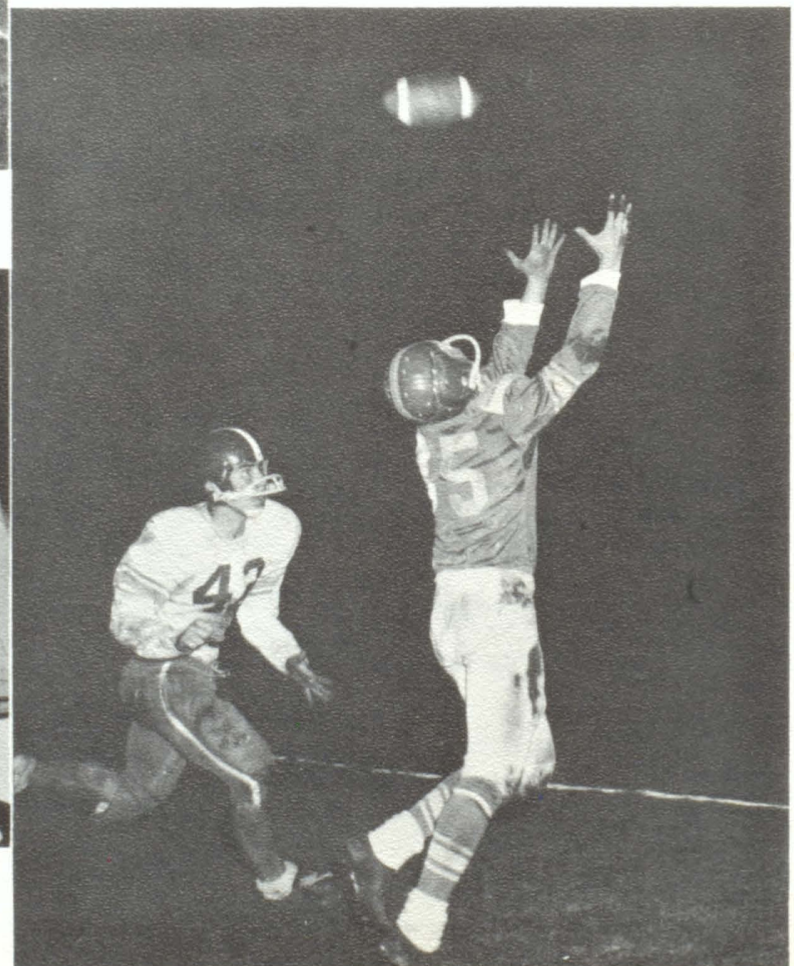

Mike Omalev and Dean Flipppo exchange greetings with Mark Hector and Don Fuhrman before the game began. The atmosphere became less cordial, however, as the game progressed.

A tense moment is reached in the game as Kimball's Gary Wirth stretches to grab a pass. Bill Waldrup of Dondera tries to foul the reception.

An athletic coach is a person composed of many characteristics. At times he must be hard and solid while at other times he must be kind and sympathetic. There is also a time for sorrow and remorse, just as there is a time for the gladness of having a winning team. Royal Oak Kimball's head football coach is the possessor of these various traits which constitute the making of a very fine coach.

The first picture shows Ryan in a quizzical mood as he is talking with assistant coach, Dick Zulch. It seems as though he is asking, "Who missed that pass?" The second picture shows Mr. Ryan in a state of meditation, as if he is contemplating his next move. The next view depicts the enthusiasm that the coach develops during the game. In the last picture, the game is won, and he can finally relax and say, "Good job."

Tom Duering, Larry Kuehn, Dave Dreifuss, Art Armstrong, and Ed Place.

Harriers Compile Impressive Record

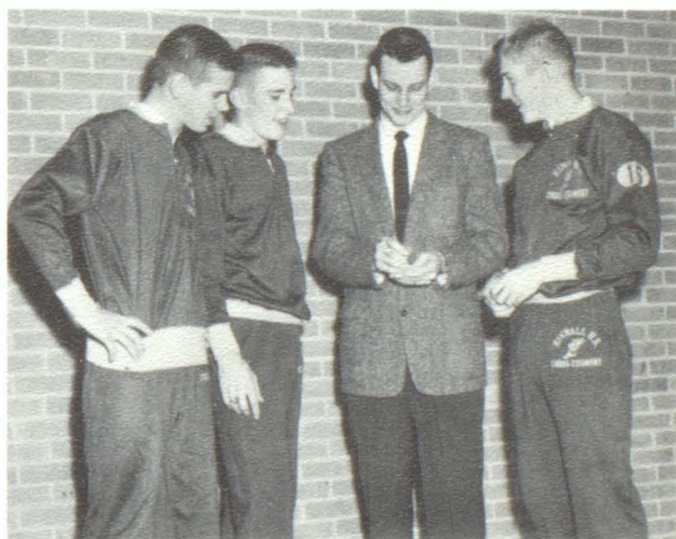

During the fall months, Kimball students noticed a handful of boys in sweat suits faithfully doing calisthenics led by captain Morris Emigh. This group was the Kimball High harriers who, for the second straight year, compiled an impressive record under coach Jim Glick, whose first year of coaching was quite successful.

Kimball's cross country team won eight out of ten meets. The scores were: Dondero, 15-50; Hazel Park, 26-30; Mt. Clemens, 21-40; Port Huron, 21-38; Ferndale, 18-43; Clawson, 22-1/2—34-1/2; Birmingham, 37-21. In addition to this fine record, Kimball finished second in the Eastern Michigan League meet and fifth in the regionals.

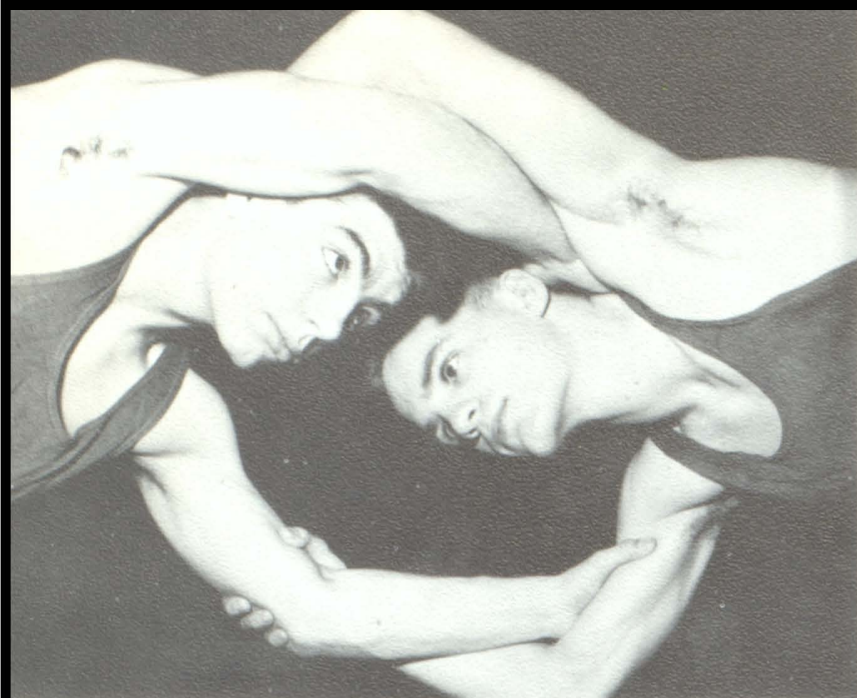

Senior varsity letter winners included Jim Carr, Bill Dallavo, Morris Emigh, John Kreag and Dave Reed. Stand-outs were Morris Emigh who placed twelfth in the state regionals and forty-third in the state finals; and Bill Dallavo who placed first in the state regionals and twentieth in the state finals. Bill Dallavo, who was undefeated in eight races, broke the record set by Tom Harris with a 10:31.5 clocking.

Junior Chuck Armstrong and sophomore Bob Currie, also varsity letterwinners, will form the basis for next year's team.

Reserve letter certificates went to the following boys: Bill Allen, Art Armstrong, Dave Dreifuss, Tom Duering, and Larry Kuehn. Keith Wolcott received his freshman numerals.

Recording their timing from a recent cross country meet to Mr. Glick are Chuck Armstrong, Bill Dallavo and Morris Emigh, the captain of the team.

Featured in this picture are John Kreag and Butch Harris showing one of the various techniques that helped Kimball attain its 10-2-0 record for 1959.

After a fine season for a second year sport, the Kimball wrestling team ended its second season with a record of ten wins and only two losses. Throughout the season, the wrestlers were conditioning for their toughest match, Hazel Park. The extra effort paid off well, as the Knights downed the Vikings in one of the season's most thrilling meets. The grapplers also maintained their supremacy over Dondero, Fitzgerald, East Detroit, Southfield, Pontiac Northern, Pontiac Central, Farmington, Berkley, and Hazel Park, but lost to Ann Arbor and Port Huron. Still the Knights tied for the Eastern Michigan League championship despite these defeats.

In the regional tournament the wrestlers took third place.

John Kreag, Paul Shortt, Butch Harris, Bob Dillon, Dave Brazier, Frank Voeffray, and Don Johnson qualified for the state tournament in which our matmen captured fourteenth place.

Wrestlers End With Fine Record

Kneeling, l. to r. are: Doug Whan, Don Johnson, Don Pirkola, Frank Voeffray, Dave Brazier, Bob Dillon, Butch Harris, John Holbrook, John Kreag and Paul Shortt. Second row: Coach Mike Rodriguez, Steve Marges, Bob Boorsma, Jim Walker, Bill Scott, Tom Custance, Bob Riddle, Jerry

Regional—third place

State—Fourteenth place

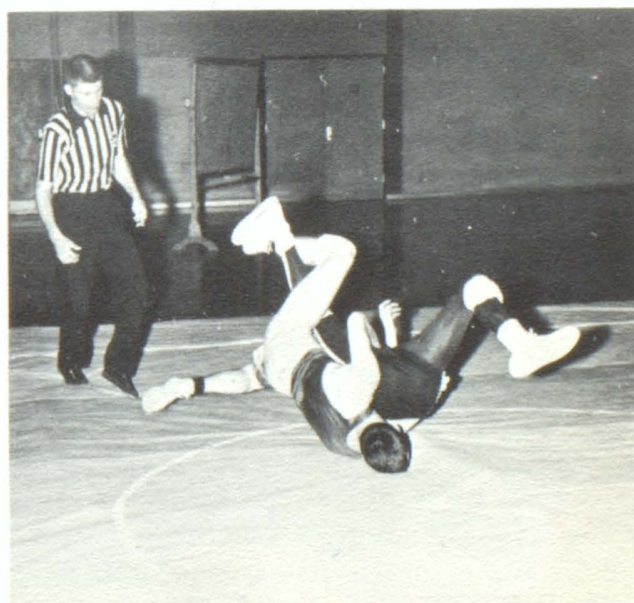

John Kreag accumulates points for Kimball by reversing positions with his opponent. The referee designates the number of points and signals them to the scorer.

Two points go to grappler John Holbrook as he, by use of an unmitigated headlock, attempts to pin his opponent and win the match.

Coach Mike Rodriguez, one of the finest in the state, and his team captain, Don Johnson, pose near the mat before a meet.

Wham! Frank Voeffray is either on his way up—or down. This photo proves, though, that wrestling is a rough sport and full of action.

The varsity basketball team members are from left to right: Bill Santerini, Bill Pace, Chuck Dallavo, Duane Cummings, Craig Kirby, Gary Moody,

Team captain Mike Harris, voted the most valuable player the last two seasons, practices his "eagle-eye" shooting.

This year the Kimball basketball team, under coach Vince Sigren, compiled a 1-11 league record. Throughout their losing season of tough competition and close scores, the Knights never gave up. The team put their all into every game and, with a few timely breaks, could have had a winning season.

Kimball was led in scoring by all S.O.C. guard Mike Harris with 223 points followed by seniors Bill Pace and Bill Santerini. Next year's captains, Gary Moody and Duane Cummings, provide a good nucleus to work toward a better record.

The junior varsity, under coach Dick Zulch, was winless in fifteen starts with Bill Chilton leading in scoring.

Chuck Dallavo tries to score the hard way; by shooting from behind the basket!

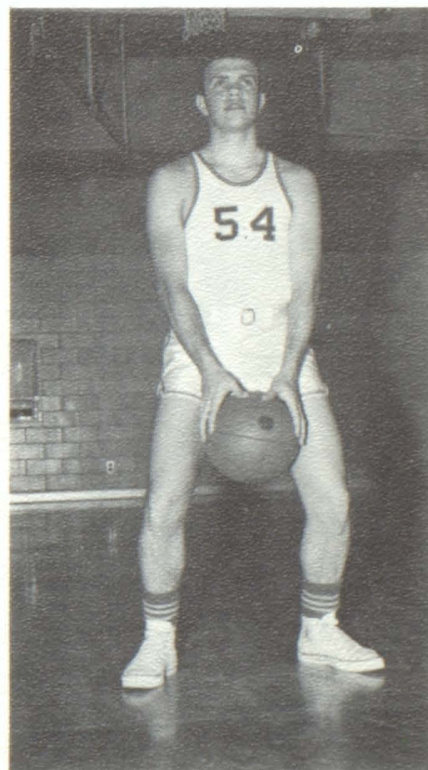

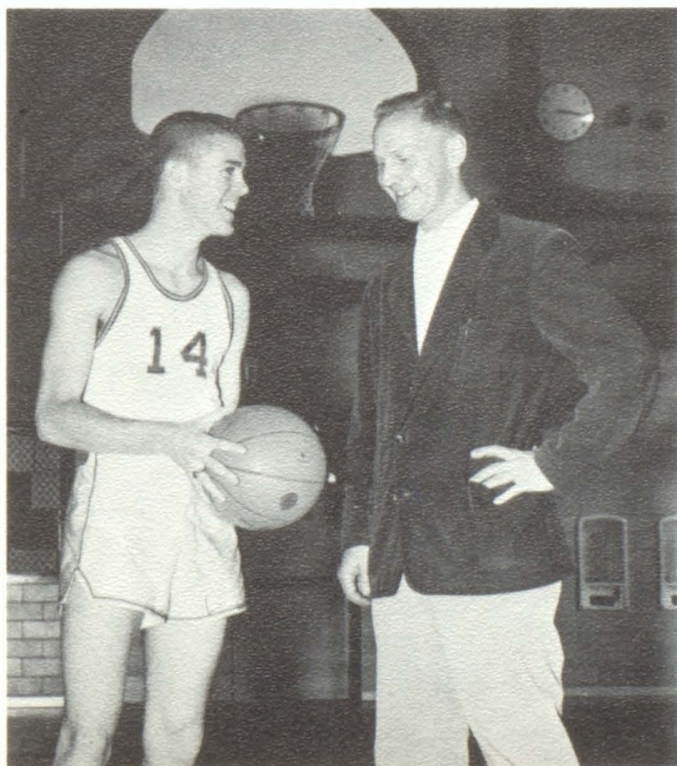

Steve Michalik displays his speed, as he dribbles down the court.

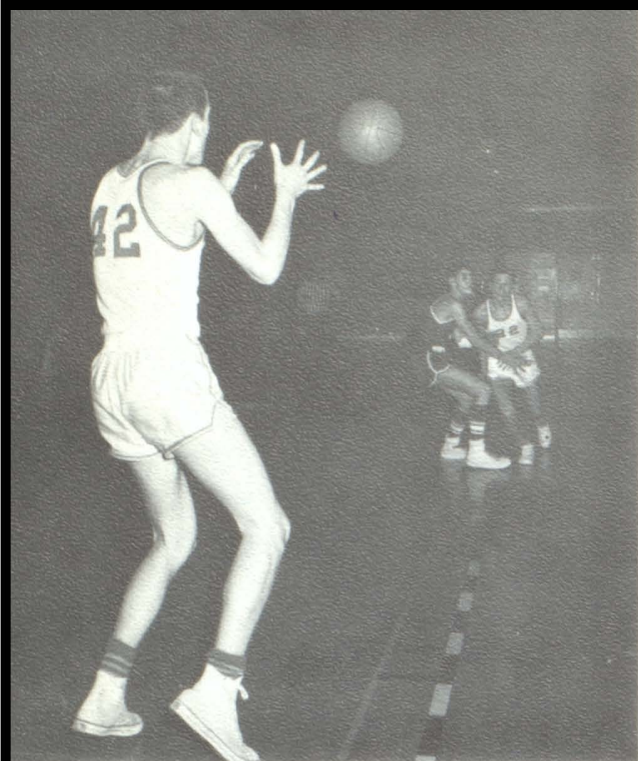

Up and in! Bill Santerini's dog shots have scored many points for Kimball.

With Kimball Cagers

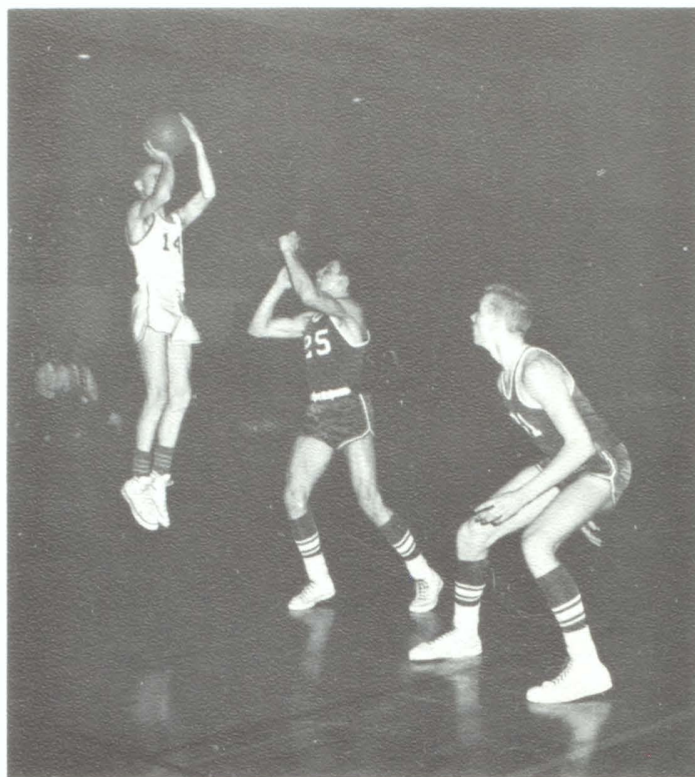

Captain Mike Harris and coach Vince Sigren are seen here at a practice session, discussing their plans for the team.

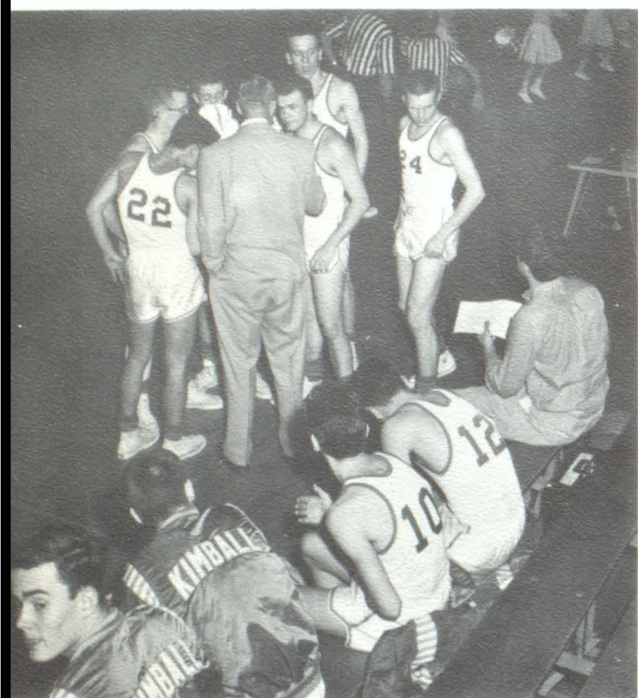

Ready at the foul line for a free throw is guard, Bill Pace.

Kimball retains possession of the ball as Gary Moody (42) receives this pass from Bill Santerini (22).

Mike Harris jumps and shoots for two points at the Birmingham game, which closed the season for the Knights.

Planning to turn the tide of the game, the team meets in a time-out huddle.

Gary Wirth appears to be trying a new technique by scaring the opponent, and it looks like he's succeeding!

Larry Stewart jumps high for the rebound and gets it to the dismay of the opposing team.

Swimmers Cap EML Championship

Kimball has earned its first Eastern Michigan League Title. The swimming team is the champion, finishing with a 14-0-1 record.

The Knights dunked Dondero 61-35, Thurston 64-32; 59-33, Ferndale 74-22; 72-20, Hazel Park 60-36; 75-21, Mount Clemens 74-22; 65-31, Southfield 66-26; 76-20, Utica 80-16; 74-22, Birmingham 48-48; 50-46, and Fitzgerald 66-30.

Kimball's hardest meet was Birmingham, former champs, whom the Knights dumped to gain the title.

The swimmers also won the EML League meet to be the undisputed leaders. With the League Championship, the Knights were given a second place rating in the state for dual meet competition.

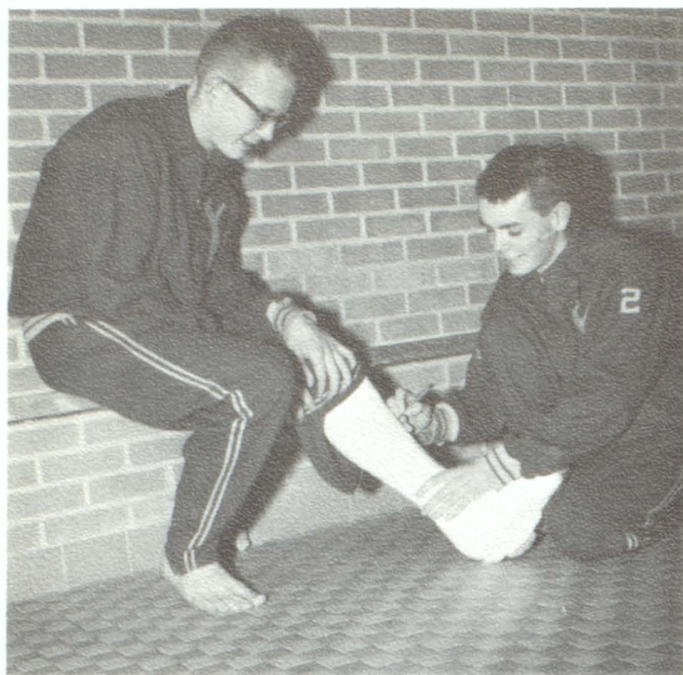

In the league meet, six new records were set, two of them going to Kimball. Carl Goeckel in the 100 yard butterfly with the time of 60.8, and Barry Johnson in the 150 individual medley with the time of 1:32.9.

The natators then went to the state finals where they placed fifth. Six boys qualified. Carl Goeckel fourth in the butterfly, Jim Hands third in the 100-yard freestyle, and Barry Johnson second in the 400-yard freestyle.

The 200-yard speed relay consisting of Barry Johnson, Bill Spreen, Mark Hector, and Jim Hands placed first, setting a new state record with the time of 1:33.8. This time was four tenths of a second off the national high school record.

Wally Dean, Assistant Coach Ed Campbell, Coach Art Solow, and Earl Ryan check over their score sheets for the day.

Carl Goeckel autographs Al Richter's cast as Al seems happy about his fast recovery from a disappointing mishap.

Representing Kimball at Michigan State during the week-end of March 13-14 were these members of the All-American Speed Relay. Front: Barry Johnson and Jim Hands. Back: Mark Hector and Bill Spreen.

Mark Hector, fifty yard free style and speed relay swimmer, anxiously awaits the signal of the gun which starts the race in this meet.

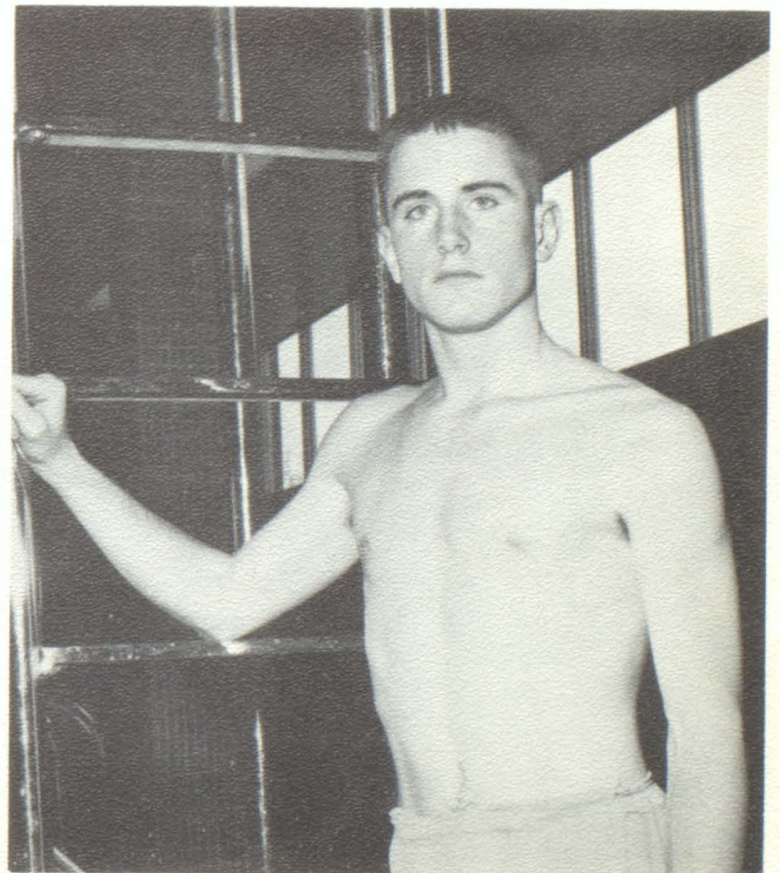

The look of victory is once again evident on the face of varsity swimmer, Barry Johnson.

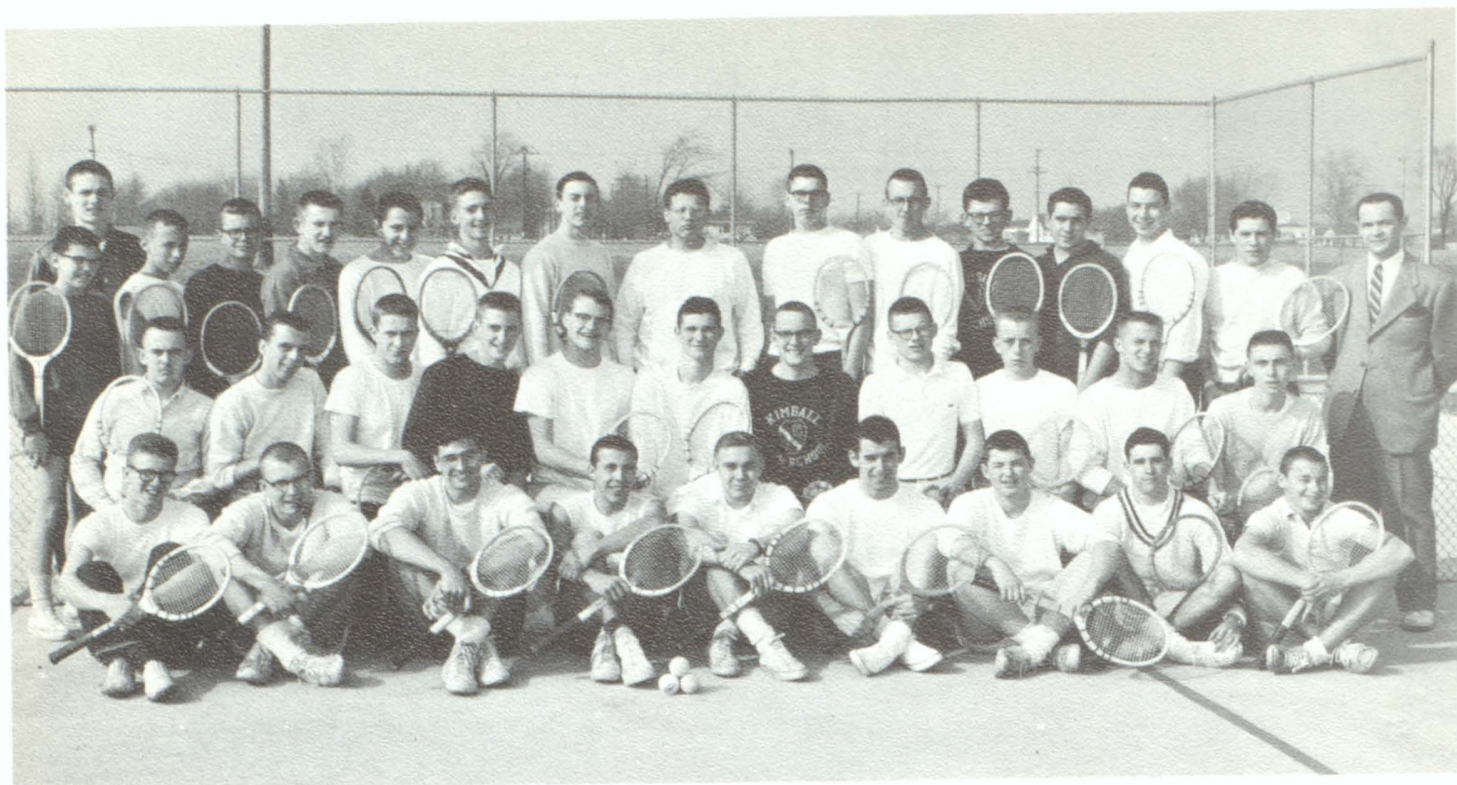

Preparing to mount the steps of the high board in the Kimball pool is diver, Bill Dallavo, of the varsity swimming team.

Jim Hands takes his last big breath before hitting the water during one of Kimball's home meets.

TENNIS

Dave Mandeville, manager, checks some vital statistics with Mr. Stoolmiller before an important match.

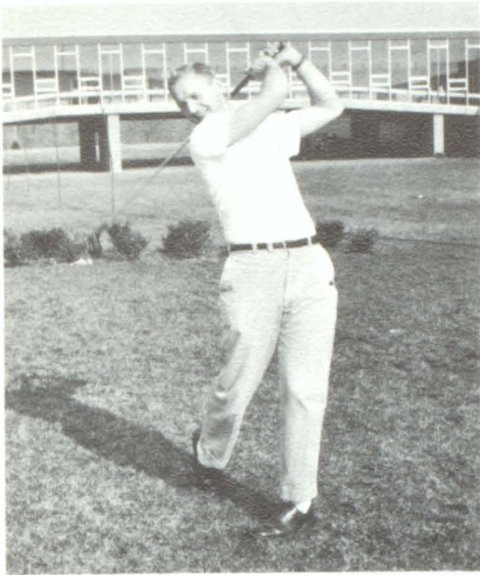

Coaching this year's team was Mike Stoolmiller. With the large turn-out for the team, the outlook was very good. Eight lettermen returned from last season. Last year's team had an overall record of 3-11. Matches played were:

GOLF

Fore! With a smile, Vince Sigren, this year's golf coach, shows just how it's done on Kimball's own green.

The coaching of the golf team was taken over by Vince Sigren, who felt that this was an outstanding year. Kimball had four returning lettermen. This year's turn-out for the team was around fifty boys hoping to make up the varsity team. This year's matches included:

Joe Allman. Row three: Coach Ed Campbell, Jerry Riutta, Gary Wirth, Larry Wasen, Paul Parkashon (manager), Butch Coss, and coach Paul Temerian.

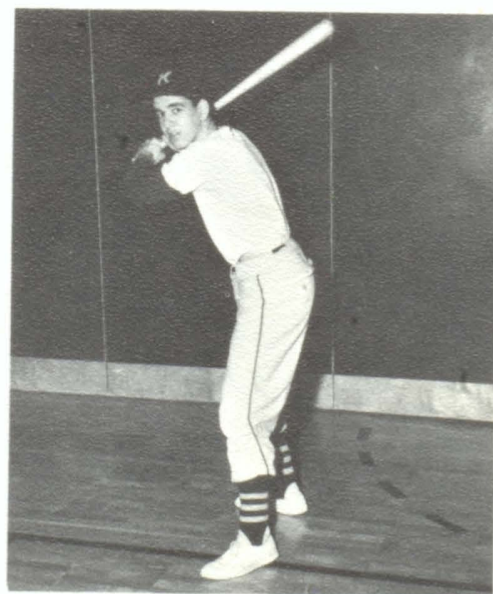

BASEBALL

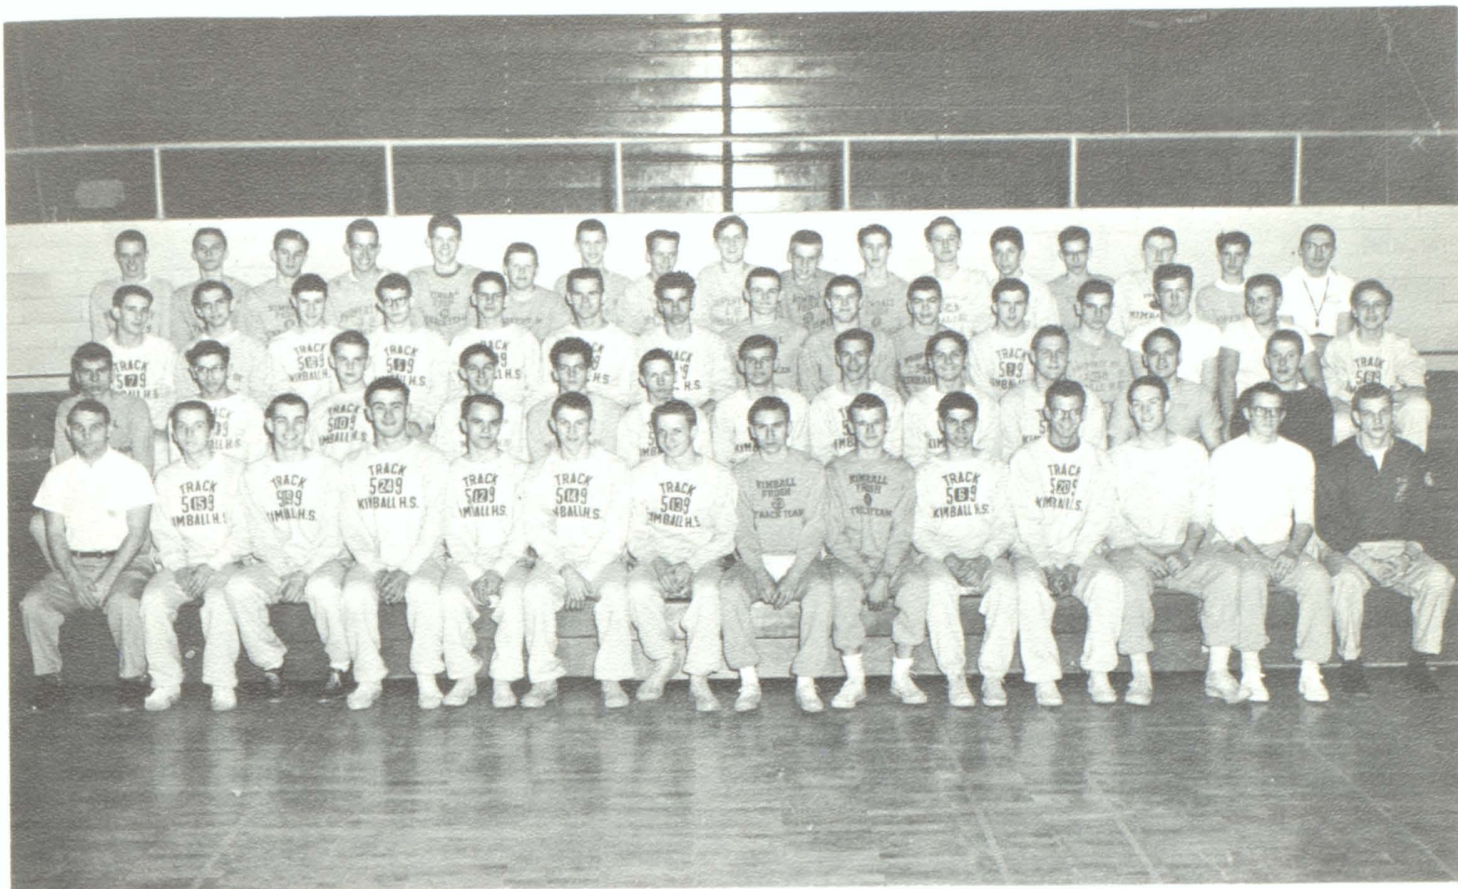

Coach, Paul Temerian, checks the starting line-up for the season's first game with assistant coach, Ed Campbell.

The 1959 squad looked forward to the EML Championship with nine returning lettermen. The team hoped to have an undefeated season. Captain of this year's team was senior, Jerry Norman. They were coached by Paul Temerian and Ed Campbell. Although not in league competition last year, the Knights ended up with a 6-5 record. The schedule for the 1959 season was:

| | |

. . . . Leads Knights To Success.

The varsity cheerleaders take time out from their busy schedule to pause for a moment of peace and quiet. They are: Ann Goullaud, Margaret Hurley, Barb Swanson, Karen Hemphill, Nancy Farrell and Sue Scholle.

Cheerleaders Spark Knights to Victory

Junior varsity cheerleaders are from left to right, standing: Elaine Berryman, Pat Rossoll, and Kay Bennett; kneeling are Kathy Rohn, Carolyn Swartz and Kit Trimble.

The 1959 cheerleaders, headed by Karen Hemphill and coached by Julie Kelly, have done a great deal more this season than just add zest to the football and basketball games. Besides the time spent at the games and during sixth hour practice, the girls have been busy selling blue and gold pins and pom poms. Their skits at the pep assemblies have amused everyone.

To add even more to their busy schedule was "Blue Moon," the first of what the girls hope will become the annual homecoming dance. Margaret Hurley had the job of chairman. Her assistants were the other cheerleaders and members of the Varsity Club.

Early this year, Miss Kelly left us to be married and Mrs. Donna Rosetti stepped into the difficult position of sponsoring the cheerleaders.

Every year tryouts are held for the improvement of the squad. The prospective cheerleaders were judged this year by qualified teachers and a graduating senior. Both boys and girls were invited to tryout. A special emphasis was put on their smiles and ability to draw response from a crowd.

First Homecoming Climaxes

The highlight of the first annual Homecoming Dance was the coronation of the queen. Here, Judy Moncrieff is overjoyed as John Kennedy places the crown of white mums upon her head, proclaiming her Queen of the dance. Standing to the sides are Amy Cardon and Judy Burnett, elected by the students to serve as the queen's royal court.

Football Season

Excitement and suspense were evident throughout the week of nominations for the honored position of Queen for Kimball's first Homecoming Dance. It was held on November 15, where the Queen and her Court were announced and crowned. The Queen and her court were selected by the student body after an all-school assembly where each girl was introduced.

The Queen, Judy Moncrieff and the two members of her court, Judy Burnett and Amy Cardon reigned over the semi-formal dance. The Queen's official reign was short, but sweet. The Homecoming Dance, being the first for the school started the traditional theme of "Blue Moon". The dance was sponsored by the cheerleaders and the Varsity club. To promote good will between the two R. O. schools, Dondero was cordially invited.

The Homecoming Dance was the perfect ending to a good and satisfying football season which the knights ended up with 6 wins, 2 losses and one tie. In the future the dance will be a traditional affair for Kimball, taking place after the Dondero game.

The Homecoming dance "Blue Moon" brought a thrilling football season to an end. Students danced to the music of Al Garen and his band in the school gym.

Urging the entire school body to attend our last football game of the season against Royal Oak Dondero is Norm LePage who portrays one of our fighting knights.

The three finalists of the first Homecoming dance at Kimball are escorted up to the steps by Don Fuhrman, John Kennedy and Mark Hector respectively.

Activities

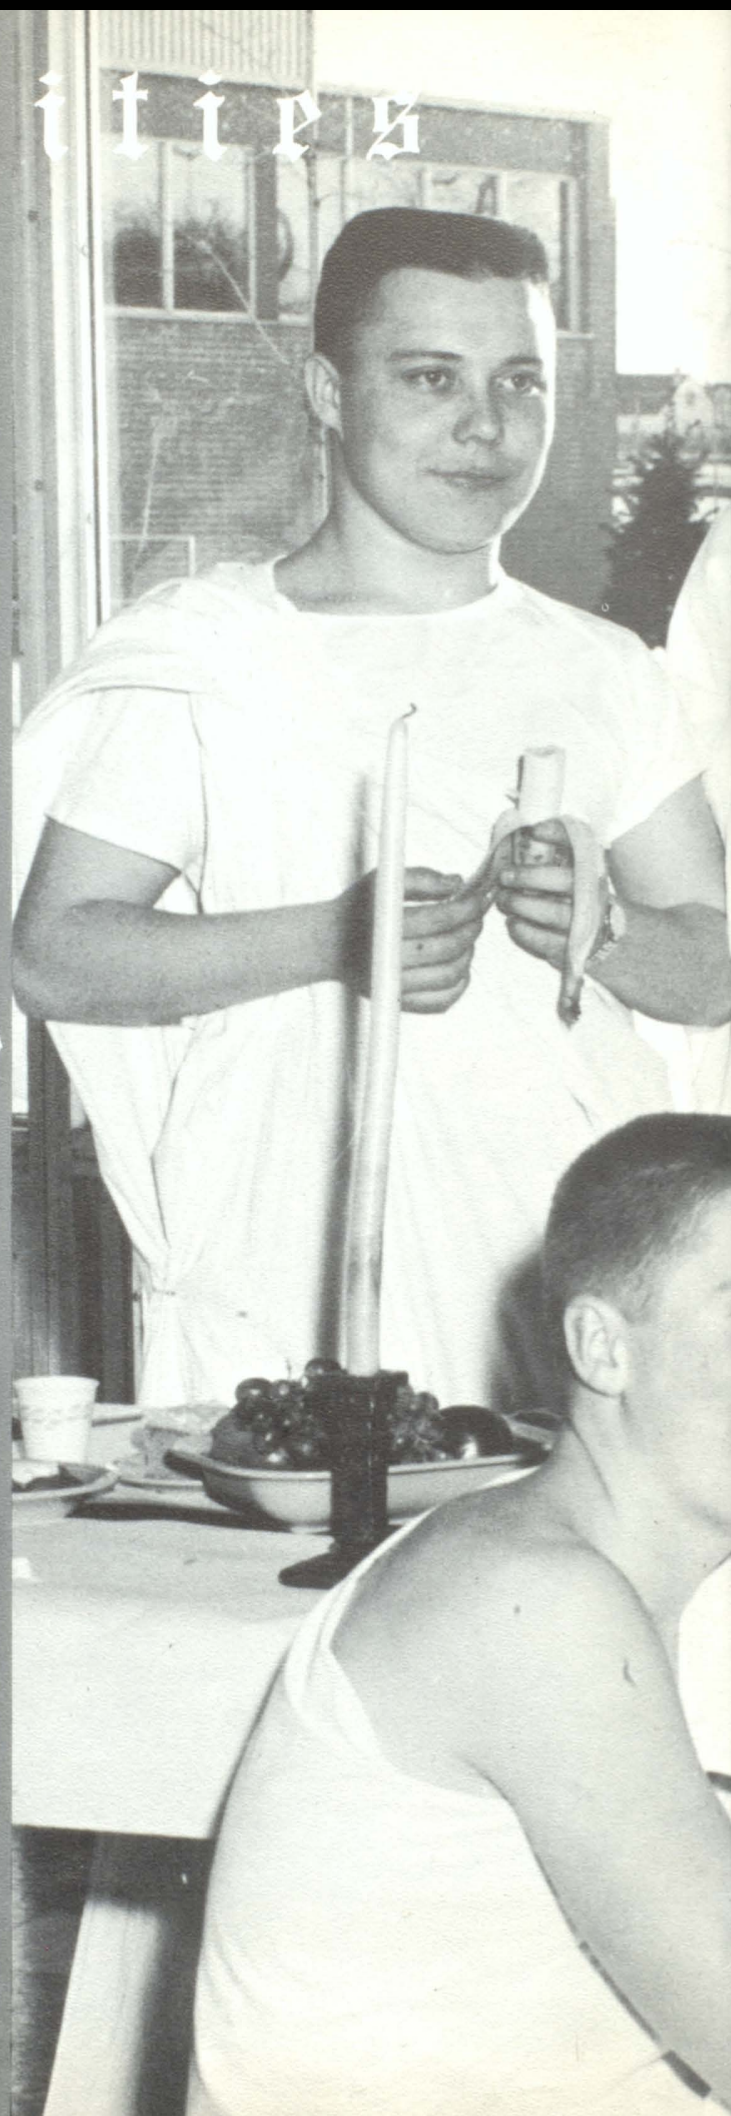

Second in importance only to scholastic achievement were activities, which constitute a major factor in creating the student harmony so necessary for a "complete" high school.

Each Knight has had the opportunity and invitation to belong to some activities of his choice; be they foreign language, chess, movie, dramatic, conservation, athletic, future vocation, or literature clubs, journalistic publication, or musical organizations.

Most activities provided entertainment for more than their own memberships, too. For instance, the entire society, for Knights to Knaves, was invited to: the Homecoming, Spanish-French club and Athena dances, the Roman banquet, some WOAK broadcasts, band and choir concerts, Thespian productions, water ballet, as well as movies in the kastle auditorium.

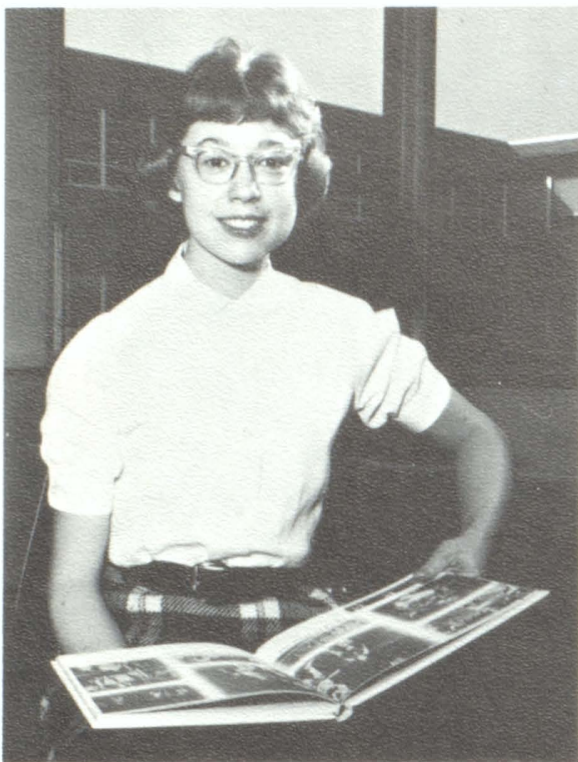

And what Kimballite had not been amused watching the Serfs practicing menial initiation pranks so as to be admitted into the Hi-Y, Latin, Y-Teens, French and Varsity clubs? Everyone was entitled to read the Scribes' Herald and voiced his opinions to the Roundtable also.

Each activity also had a sponsor or chaperone and because heading an organization was often times harassing, these teachers are honored, along with twenty-some clubs and their capers, in the following pages.

The 1958-59 Lancer staff found many responsibilities and activities to keep them busy during the long period between the securing of ads to finance the book to the final ad-checking days early in the spring. The staff members' first assignment was to sell Lancer tickets, after which they went on a soliciting assignment to secure the necessary ads.

The staff, consisting of approximately twenty enterprising seniors and a few industrious underclassmen, learned much about the organization of a yearbook. Among other things, the staff learned to organize and draw up dummy pages, write copy and cutlines, and absorb, in general, many of the principles of publishing a yearbook. Under the direction of the Lancer advisor, Mr. I. A. Rosen, the staff not only gained by but enjoyed the education they received.

JoAnn Buck and Sue Libbey check over copy which Carolyn Bröwning has just composed and is typing for the yearbook.

Here staff members Carol Voeffray, Pat Benner, Sue Libbey, Roberta Jones and Cloudette Counts combine their efforts to write copy for this years Lancer.

With the deadline having been met, the issue goes to press. Here in Mr. Pray's print shop, the work is done. Dave Roberts counts the copies as they come off, and Dick Kessler checks the final copy.

Dick Dunn watches a picture as it is being made into a plate for printing on this complicated looking apparatus called a plate-maker. "All in a day's work," he says in preparation for printing an issue.

Roundtable Governs Kimball Well

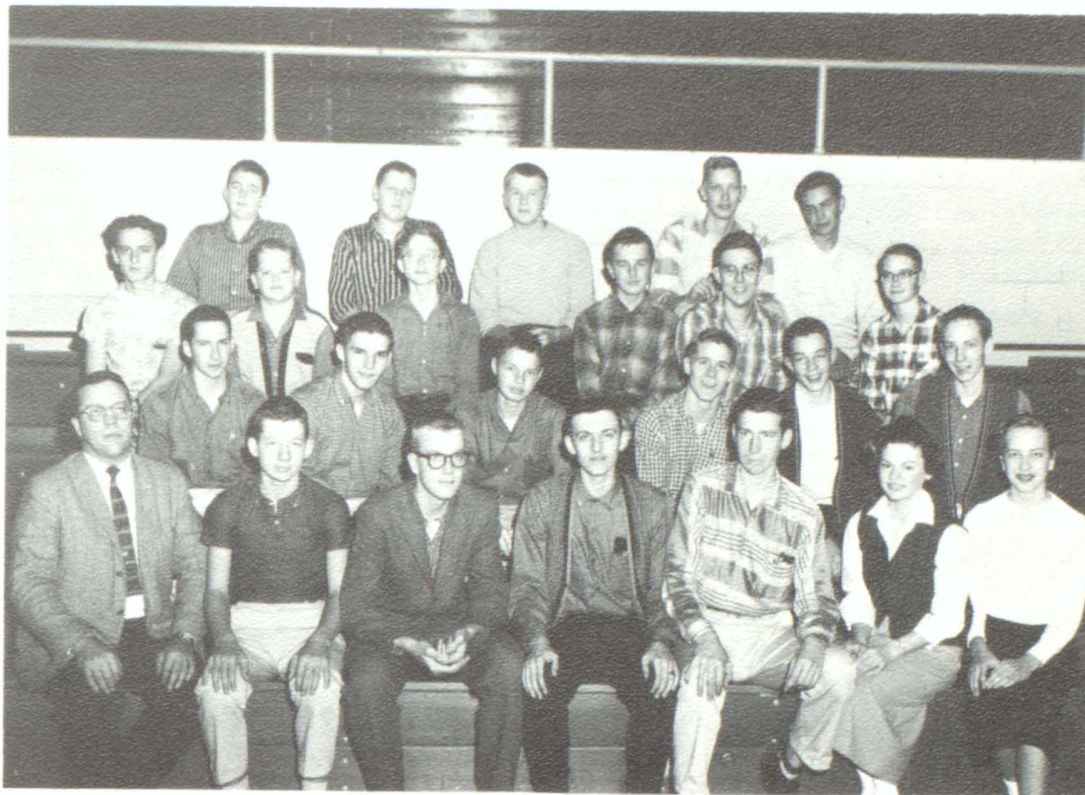

"The meeting will come to order," states president JoAnn Sellers at a session of the Roundtable. Secretary Judi Harvey is busy recording notes with vice-president Barbara Campbell looking on, and Pam Nickolics tending to the parliamentary procedure. Treasurer Carol Sanders is not present.

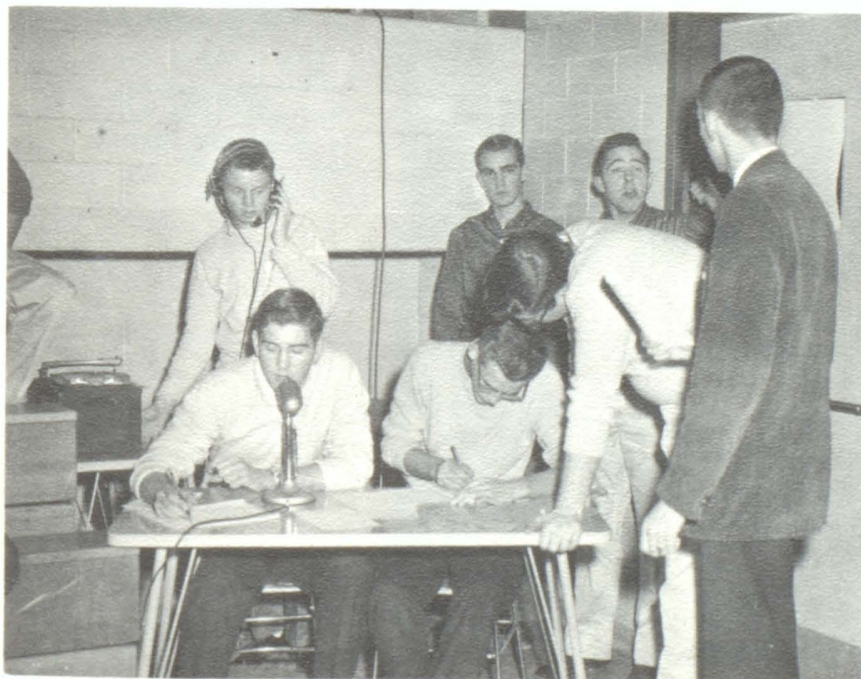

The Roundtable, whose members are elected from every grade and each counseling division, offers the means by which the students can voice their opinions and suggestions on such matters as regulations for student election posters, lounge conduct, etc. The Knights of the Roundtable have as duties: the raising of food and clothing for charity drives which occasionally arise; co-ordinating of various club activities so that they do not conflict; judging of inter-mural contests; and an additional multitude of tasks.

One important project of Roundtable this year was the hosting of the Eastern Michigan League conference of student councils. Another was to help administer the American Field Service program for the school in sending a student to Europe and aiding a foreign visitor at Kimball for a year. Sponsor of the group is Miss Barbara Dobben.

"They said it couldn't be done". They said you couldn't operate a high school radio station, but WOAK disproved this theory by taking to the air in early 1957 from studios in Dondero. Since that time, the station has expanded to large and modern studios at Kimball and Dondero. With transmitter at Kimball, programs originate at Kimball over a special line maintained by the Bell Telephone Company.

Programs are broadcast every school day and cover the gamut from elementary education to popular music.

Besides acting as an agent for the National Association of Educational Broadcasters, WOAK hi-lights high school news and sports as well as the weekly broadcast of the Royal Oak City Commission meetings and a weekly high school report called "OUR SCHOOL ROUNDUP" on WEXL in Ferndale.

"Books and Crooks" Performed

The All School Play, Books and Crooks, will be remembered by everyone as the best comedy to be given at Kimball. It was presented on March 19 and 20 under the direction of Miss Barbara Dobben. Student director was Kathy Beaubier. Starring roles were played by John Block, Carolyn Bright, and John Smokevitch.

Participants in the play "Books and Crooks" include: Jim Dyer, Carol Thompson, Mike Rehner, Mary Beth Grimm, Joanie Smith, Kathy Beaubier, Jim McGill, Gary Barnett, Carole Biddle, Marsha Montgomery, Keith Haiser, John Block, Ginny Campbell, Judy Gale, Jonell Austermann, Judy Erickson, Carolyn Bright, Sally Nash, Thelma Lee Whitman, John Smokevitch, and Dave Mandeville.

hold, Liz Szymon, Marilyn Horodnicki, Bev Csizmadia, Sandra Nied, Judy Grubb, Mary Ann Burks, Mary Hubbard, Gayle Daubenmeier, and Joy Kuhlow.

Showing off the costumes for one of numbers in the water ballet show are Dorothy Locy and Amy Cardon. This is the third year for both girls, and they are both in duets.

This year's water show, "Sea Nymph's on the Ivory's," was presented on April 23 and 24. Members of the cast were: Arelene Baldwin, Carolynn Browning, Sarah Bingaman, Mary Ann Burks, Kay Bennett, Dorothy Carruthers, Gail Daubenmeier, Pat Dieben, Amy Cardon, Cathy Bieber, Allison Brown, Elaine Berryman, Chris Danielsson, Ricky Gilbert, Mary Beth Grimm, Judy Grubb, Karen Hemphill, Jo Holdsworth, Marilyn Horodnicki, Mary Hubbard, Joy Kuhlow, Melissa Hocking, Barbara Swanson, Dawn Leslie, Dorothy Locy, Karen Lazenby, Mary Navarre, Pam Nikolics, Janice Patrick, Jill Quinlin, Carol Rienhold, Sue Shimmin, Sandy Neid, Liz Szymon, Pam Thompson, Pat Waldon, Gaye Westerby, Carol Wulfmeier, Liz Valade, Mary Ann Zimmerman, and Diane Ellsworth.

"Point those toes," shouts Miss Davies as Chris Danielsson and Ricky Gilbert practice their ballet for the show.

Couples whirled to the strains of dreamy music at the French and Spanish Club's third annual dance entitled "Christmas Fantasy."

Bob Martin and Dennis Custance enjoy the refreshments served at "Christmas Fantasy" by members of the club, Diane Marvicson and Pam Wood.

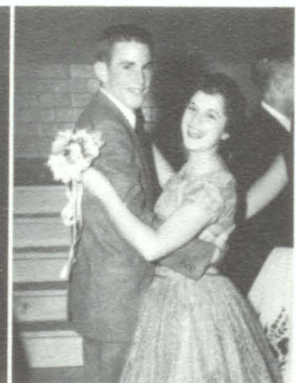

Oh, How They Danced

This smiling mask represented the main theme of the 1959 January Commencement Dance, "Mardi Gras," and proved to be the focal point. "Mardi Gras" was put on by the June 1959 graduates and provided a night of entertainment for all.

"Takes two to tango."

"Look, a camera!"

"Say cheese."

"Teenage crush."

"This is fabulous!" shouts Mrs. Ellis, while swinging out with Mr. Gus Scholle, Sue's father, at this year's Homecoming Dance. Here she again proves her ability to keep up with the younger set by displaying her talents as a "bopper."

Bob Baker waits impatiently for his partner, Sandra Clark, so they can begin their dance. Dick Rodocker seems to be having trouble locating himself a partner. Wait, there seems to be a prospect amidst the crowd.

Knights whirl to the band at Kimball's first Homecoming Dance. The dance started the tradition of future dances to come. Miss Judy Moncrieff, January graduate, was chosen this year's queen out of the eleven semi-finalists.

J u n i o r S e n i o r P l a y

The entire cast of the Junior-Senior Play is lined up for a well deserved curtain call after two successful performances. Top Row: Bob Bean, Jim Dyer, Ken Knepper, Bonnie Buchanan, Kathy Beaubier, Pam Scherer, Chuck Dallavo, Bob Baker, Alice Lucas, Jo Ann Sellers, student director, and Carol Thompson. Bottom Row: Myrna Birdsall, Diana Broome, Mike Paleolog, Barbara Perrino, Jimmy Scherer, Sue Luginbil, and production sponsor, Miss Dobben.

A Man Called Peter, the Junior-Senior play for 1959, directed by Miss Barbara Dobben and student director Jo Ann Sellers was given Oct. 30 and 31, and starred Mike Paleolog in the role of a Scott, Peter Marshall, noted Chaplain of the U. S. Senate. Represented in the other roles included two spinster sisters played by Pam Scherer and Kathy Beaubier. Jim Dyer played a juvenile delinquent who was helped by an understanding Senator, Chuck Dallavo.

Parents of Dianna Broome and Bob Bean, an engaged couple, were Bonnie Buchanan and Ken Knepper. The two teen-age girls were Sue Luginbil and Myrna Birdsall. A very untidy and utterly scatterbrained maid was played by Alice Lucas, and the small son of the Marshalls was portrayed by Jimmy Scherer.

The Junior-Senior play of 1958 was a big success and drew sell-out crowds both nights it was presented. Everyone who attended the performances agreed that all those who worked on the play did a creditable job.

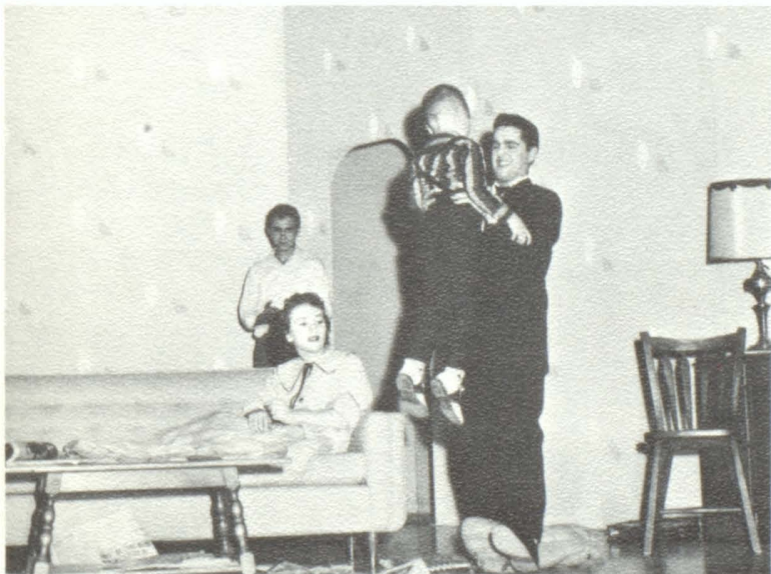

"Will you please stop trying to run my life?" Bob Baker tells Kathy Beaubier and Pam Scherer, his two aunts, who have always handled his affairs. Mike Paleolog offers his support.

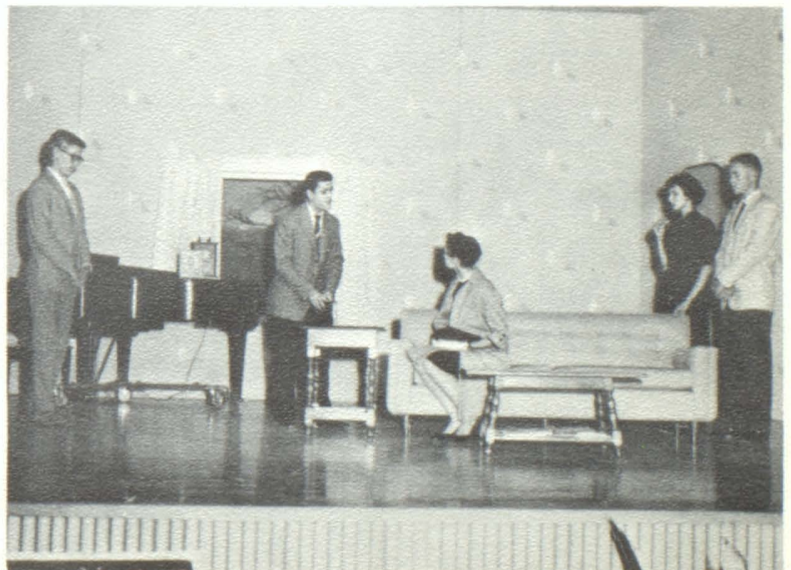

In this portrait, Jim Dyer, Bob Baker, Myrna Birdsall, Sue Luginbil, Jimmy Scherer, Mike Palealog, Barb Perrino, Kathy Beaubier, Pam Scherer, Diana Broome, and Bob Bean gather

around the piano near the end of the play for a good old fashioned sing fest.

With an expression of joy, gigantic Mike Palealog, lifts his son, "little Peter." Sharing his glad feelings are Catherine, his wife, played by Barb Perrino, and Bob Baker, as Peter's nephew

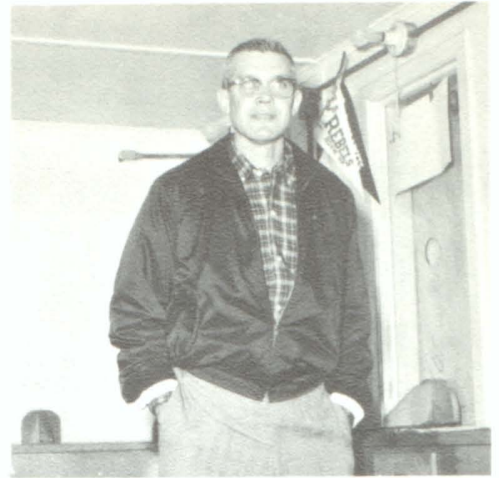

Mike Palealog, as Peter, talks to Mr. and Mrs. Grant, while Diana Broome and Bob Bean, as two lovers, are looking on.

"That was a good one," says Mr. Gasiorowski to Mr. Spurck during the halftime.

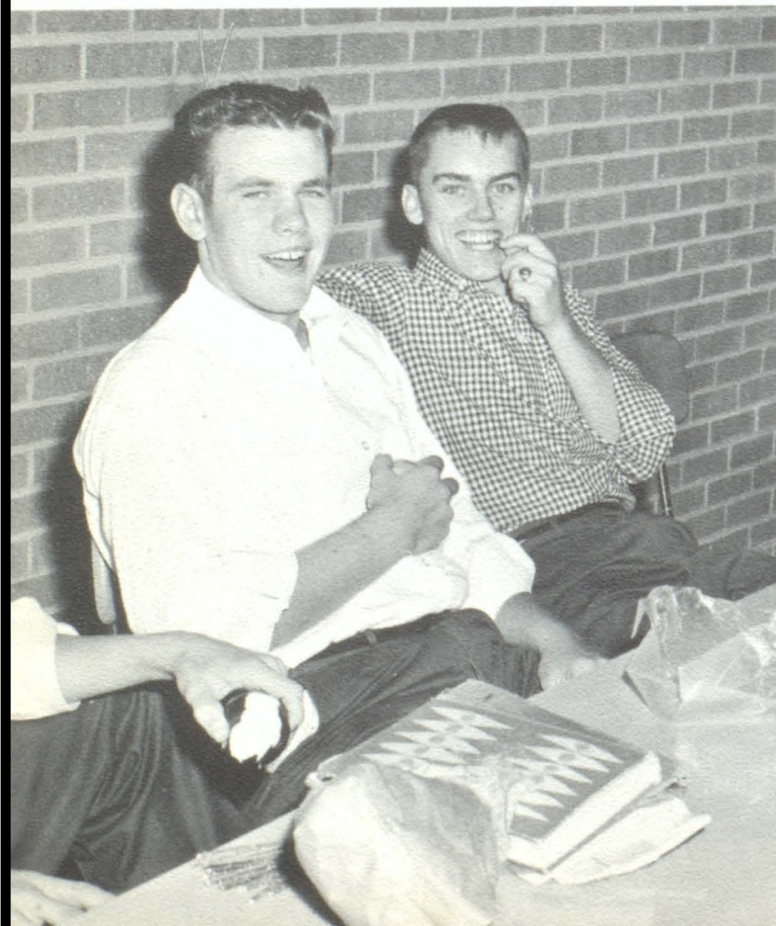

"I can't feel a thing," groans Mr. Lancaster, taking his polio shot with a smile.

"Off on cloud nine" seems to be the expression of Mr. Barker after selling tickets at a football game.

Showing that wolfy look, Bill Duncan resembles a creature from Mars with his pretzel-stick horns supplied by Dave Ross. "Picking one's teeth is a tasty task when done with the proper tool," Dave adds.

This cheery Yuletide scene decorated the main corridor during the holiday season. As one of the biggest displays on view, it impressed visitors to the school as well as the students and faculty at Kimball. It was skillfully constructed by the art department.

Richy Goeckel smiles approval at Faye Briggs' outfit, in the true Goeckel tradition, as they enjoy a fast number at Kimball's "sock hop." Karen Burkheart's tell-tale sox seem to tell their own story.

Unstationary hall patrol, Dave Dreifuss, inspects the passes of Nancy Baldorf and Joan Paterson on their way to the library.

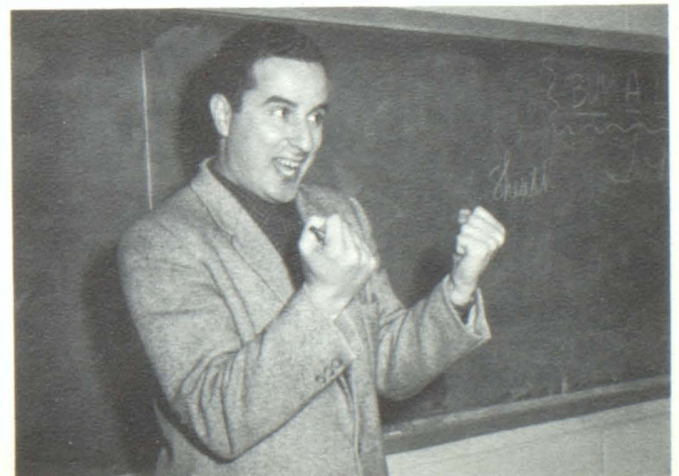

Newly initiated members of the National Honor Society proudly inspect the pins they have just received in honor of the occasion.

"You'll read this Shakespeare and like it!" shouts Mr. Rosen, distinguished English authority, as he emphatically puts across his point.

"A cold does not seem to be too valid an excuse," frowns Miss Davies as she exhibits her own excuse from her wheelchair.

Seniors

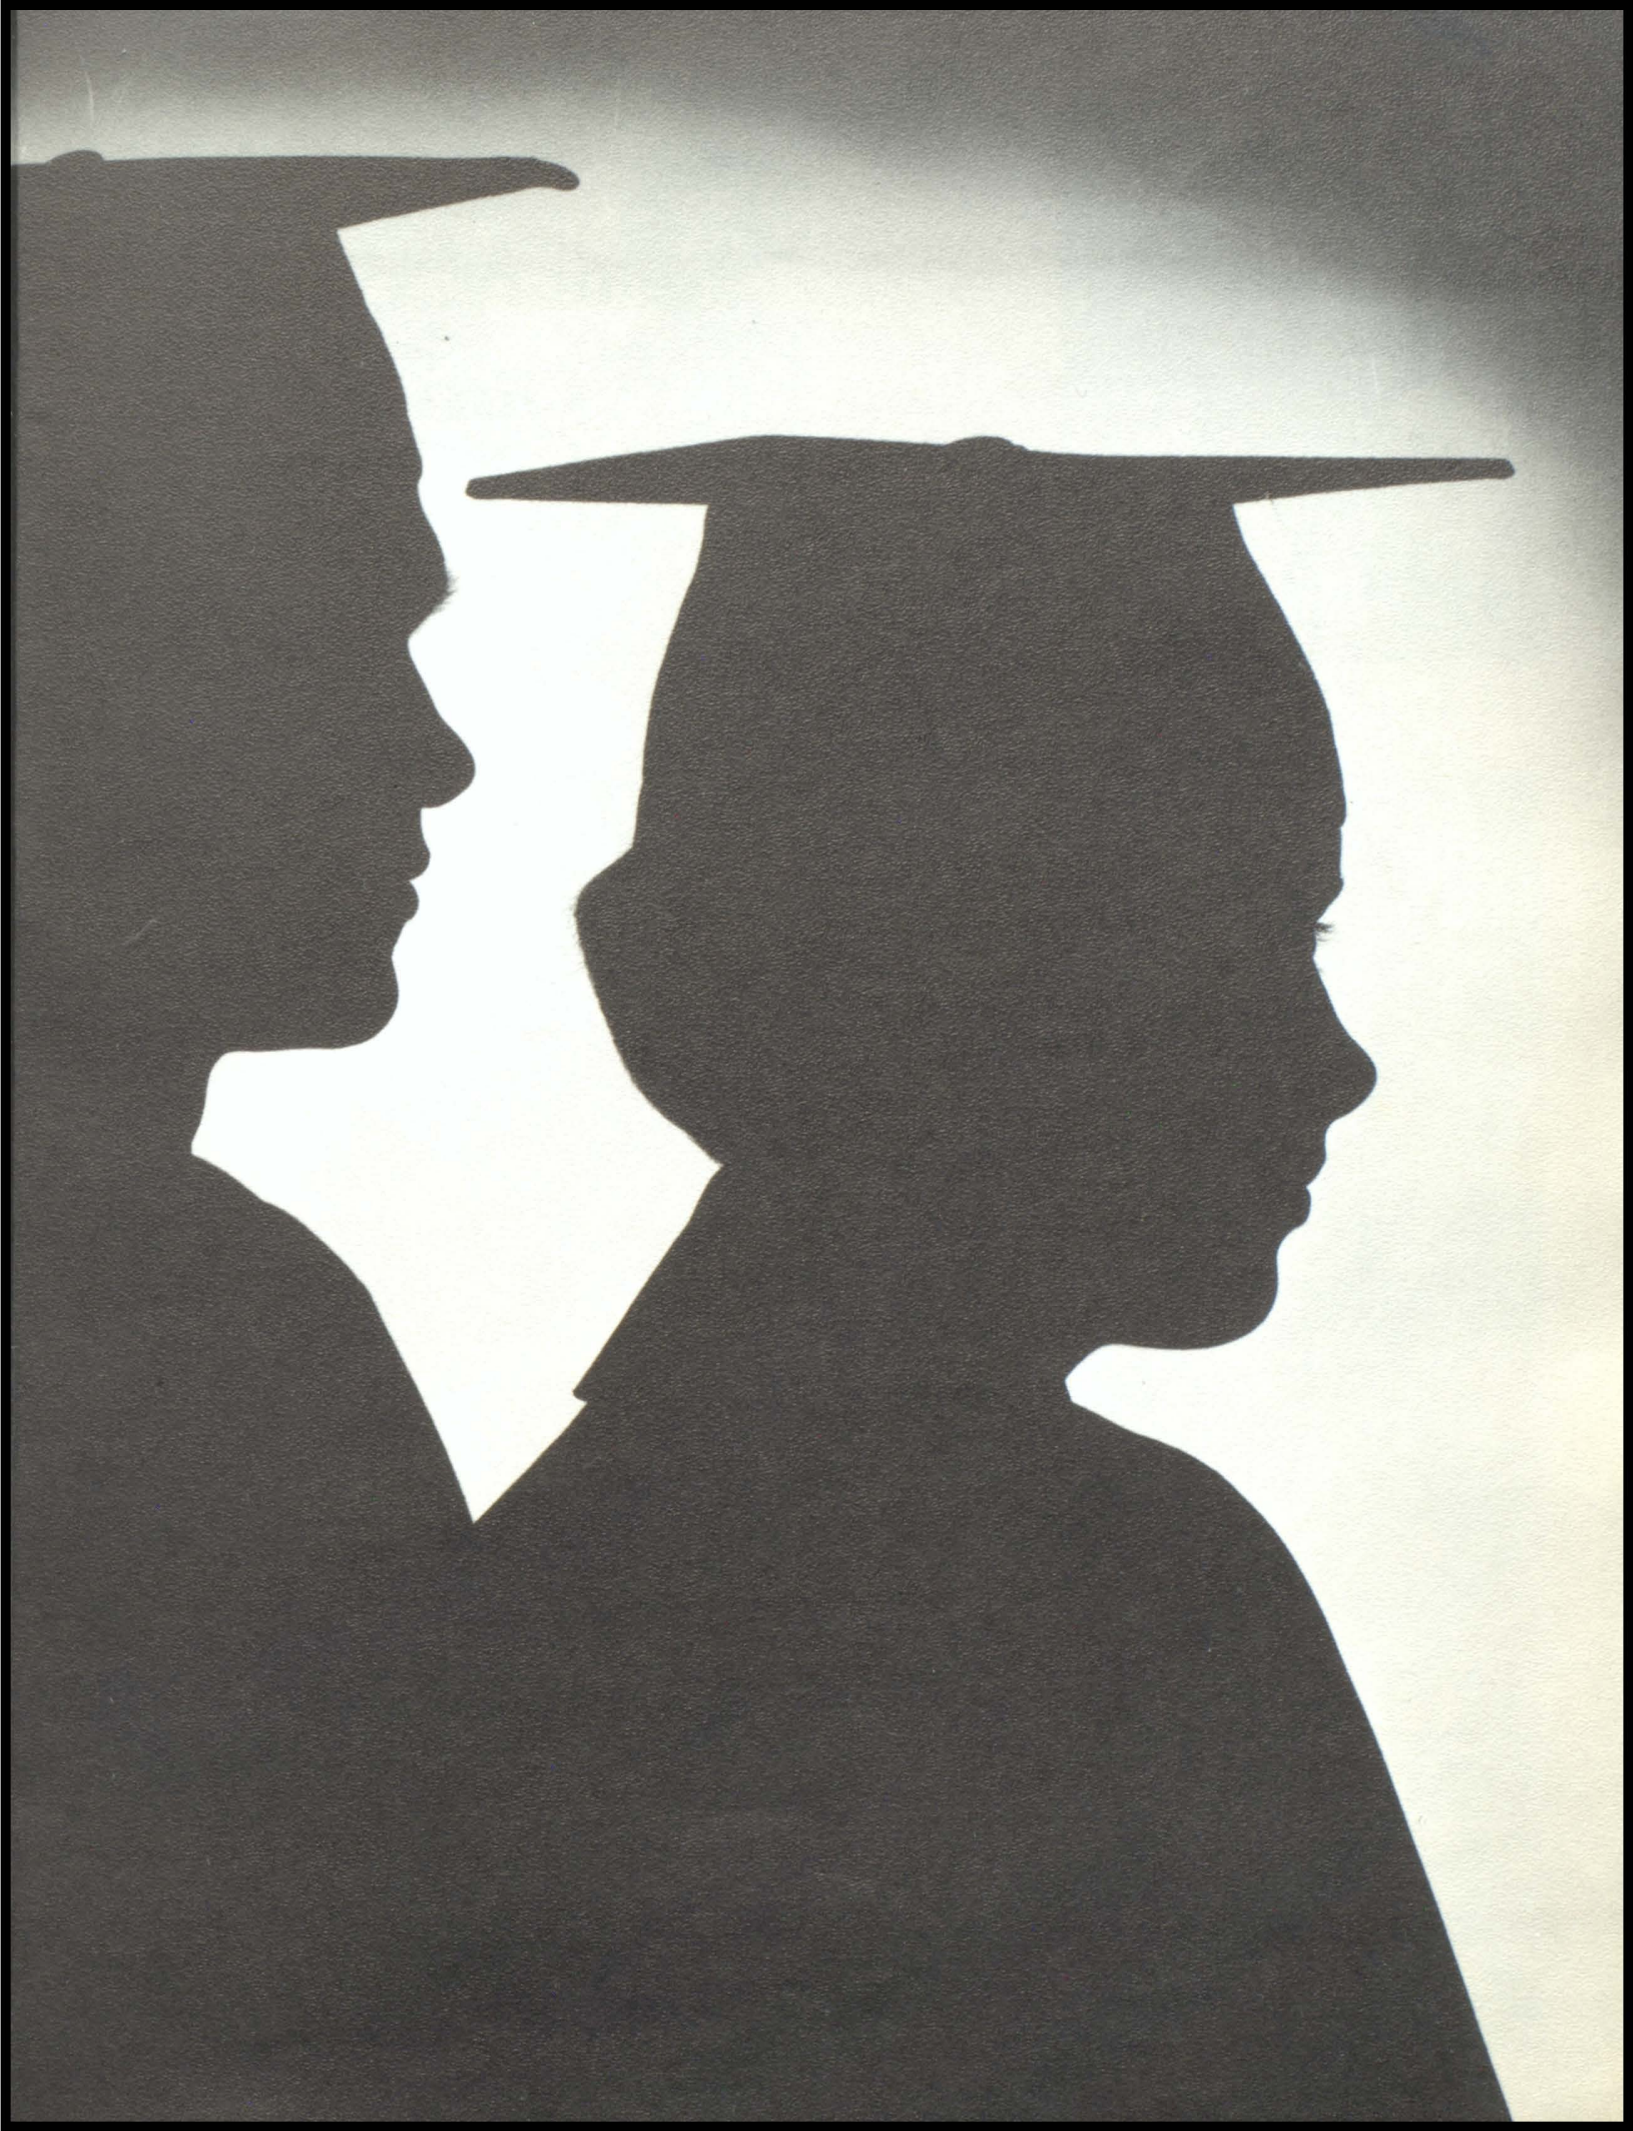

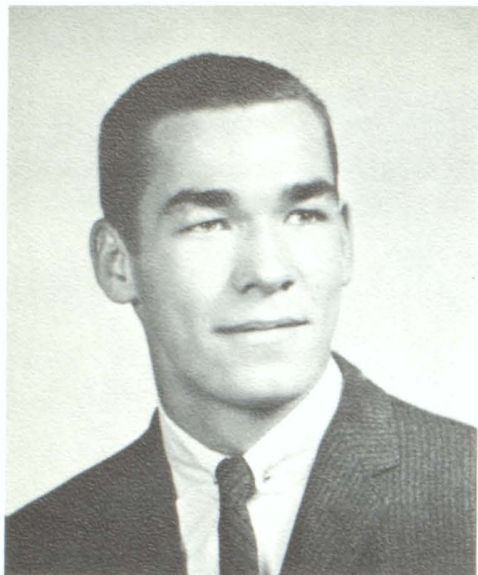

The past year was a very exciting and busy one for the Lords and Ladies of the Kimball Kastle. We found that the more unpleasant tasks fell by the wayside, and the wonderfully pleasant activities blended into one image - that of having fun together. We had fun in helping to establish the various clubs and in setting up traditions to be followed by students in future years.

As the Class of '59, we had the pleasure of taking part in the first, which was also, as Seniors, our last football game with our friendly rivals, Dondero. We attended many parties and dances, and some of the best times had during the year were when we met the "gang" at the Totem Pole or the Big Boy.

However, not to be forgotten were the more serious aspects of our life as Lords. Budgeted between our active social life was a very busy academic life. We discovered we actually enjoyed learning. Suddenly, those "boring" teachers were very interesting and enlightening, and school work took on a new meaning. As seniors we felt a basic need for education and the subsequent benefits which followed it, and it made no difference where our future paths were to lead - whether we were going to college, into the service, or to work.

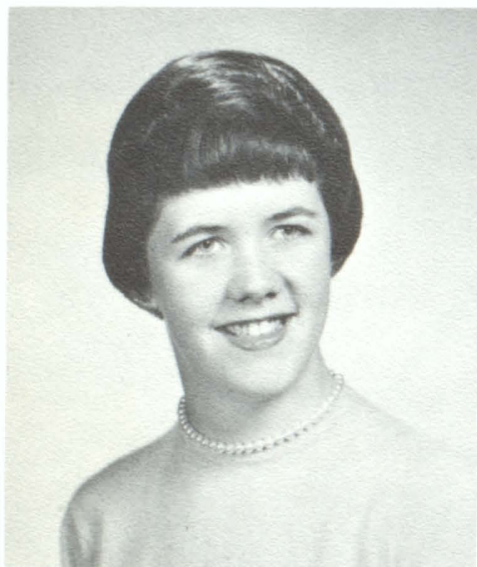

The Senior Trip and the whirl of events that took place during our last week of school . . . Convocation, Baccalaureate, and finally Commencement and the Commencement dance . . . were, perhaps, the most exciting and memorable of the four years.

"No man can ever rise above the goal at which he aims."

"Okay, Ruthie, let's show them the old one-two," says John Kennedy. Ginny Charlesworth and Ben Settle also seem determined not to let the evening go to waste.

"And away we go!" says Al to his fellow grads, John Kennedy, Ruth Sloane, Jim Eaton and Pat Desilets.

Everyone seems to be enjoying himself at the January Commencement dance, held January 22 with a 'Mardi Gras' theme. It was a night of enjoyment, but yet of sorrow, since this was the last get-together for the January '59 graduates.

"All right, seniors, say cheese." The 1959 January graduates beam with joy as they are all together as a homeroom, in 140, for their last picture. They willingly admitted that their senior year was one that they would always remember.

Many A Tear And Sigh . . .

. . . As Seniors Say Good-bye.

From happy smiles to serious looks, these seniors began to wonder what the future held for them. They realized that this was one of the most important moments of their lives as, one by one, they receive their diplomas.

Introducing Our Senior Advisor . . .

Mr. Ray Harwarny, a member of Kimball High School's English department, divides his valuable time into three parts. As advisor to the Radio Workshop, Kimball's voice of the air, he supervises the production of programs and the overall activity of the staff. Although, as of now, he has no free period to devote entirely to Radio Workshop, he hopes to have, in the future, more time for this most interesting and important aspect of life at Kimball.

The teaching of speech and English 6 probably occupies the largest portion of his time, but it is a portion highly enjoyed by Mr. Harwarny. The ten-minute speeches in speech class and the reading of American literature in English 6 make up the essential core of each course.

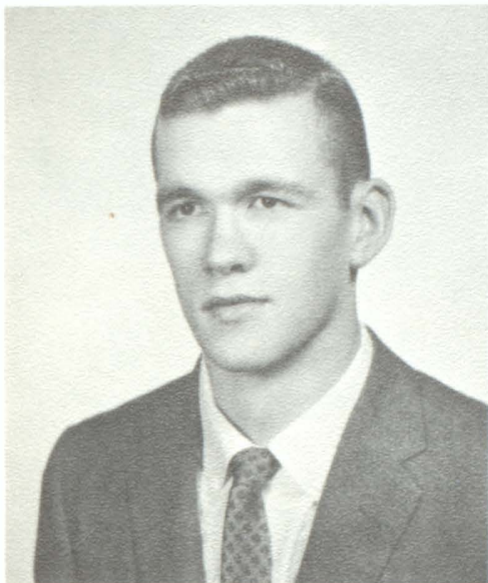

Aside from these two highly important duties, Mr. Harwarny has also taken over the duties of advisor to the graduating seniors. He co-ordinates the many activities planned by the officers such as the senior trip, convocation, class night, and calls the regular meetings held to discuss senior class business.

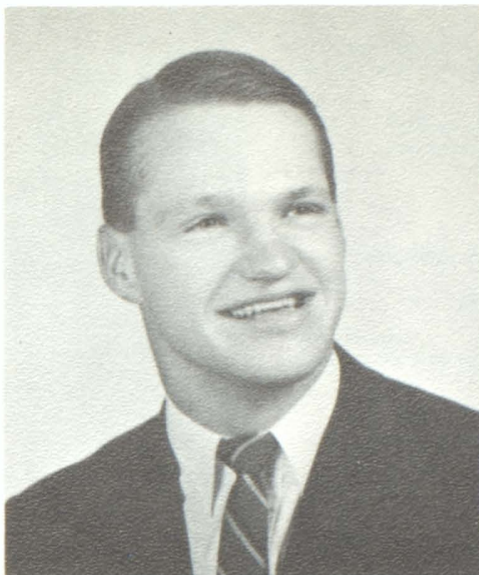

Mr. Harwarny is seen here planning a senior party with the June 1959 officers. They are from left to right: Don Johnson, Vice-President; Barbara Johnson, Treasurer; Mark Hector, President; and Carole Patrick, Secretary.

Senior Officers

June,
1959

Don Johnson, Vice-President
"He is high in height,
sports, and friends."

Mark Hector, President
"In our high school's Hall of Fame,
Mark has won an honored name."

Barbara Johnson, Treasurer
"Peppy, jolly, full of fun;
fine company for everyone."

Joyce Jumisco, Valedictorian
"She doeth all things well."

Carole Patrick, Secretary & Salutatorian
"Beauty and brains - a rare combination."

Juanita Adams

Some think she's quiet,
others doubt it, others know her.

Jackie Alagna

She is the same, in sunshine or rain.

Larry Anderson

Sigh no more ladies, no more sighing do;
for he is just as nice
to all the girls as he is to you.

Ronald Anderson

Mild manners accompanied by a gentle heart.

Deanna Austin

A good heart with a sweet face to match - she'll make 'a real good catch'.

Arlene Baldwin

Like a bubbling brook she goes on forever.

Carol Baldwin

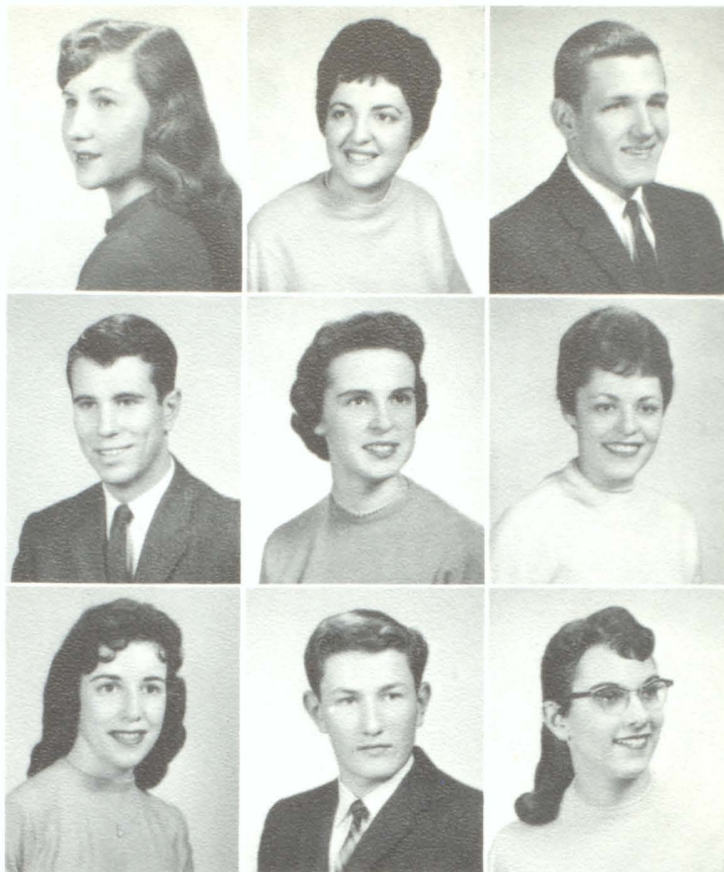

Love stole into her heart one day.
Just came for a visit but decided to stay.

David Behrendt

A little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men.

Pat Benner

A clever girl we'll all agree,
all smiles, all A's, pleasing to see.

Veronica Bettendorf

Never a dull moment
when this lassie is around.

Sharon Bird

Pleasing contours and flirting eyes,
she's the one who'll snag the guys.

Meredith Bohde

Calm, cool, and captivating.

Adelaide Brandenburg

With a heart where it belongs,
and a smile upon her face,
this young lady finds room every place.

Dave Brazier

Those shoulders don't come with the football uniform.

Grace Brierley

She is blest,
for she has the gift of making friends.

Carolyn Bright

A warm heart is shown by a warm smile.

Harold Brondum

I know the value of silence.

Carolynn Browning

Good and kind her graces show her,
we are lucky just to know her.

John Buckingham
For he's a jolly good fellow.

Frances Budak
Her ways please all she doth befriend.

Joyce Burdette
Better to be small and shine than large and cast a shadow.

Judy Burnett
How far the little candle throws her beams.

Bob Campbell
Like gold and silver and rubies fair - a friend like Bob is very rare.

Amy Cardon
Just three little words - what a doll.

Art Carian
Take life easy - you live but once.

James Carr
They're truly great who are truly good.

Pat Chapman
Quiet but gay, we wouldn't want her any other way.

Jon Chesney
It isn't what you do,
but what you get away with.

Bob Chutorash
Good nature is one of the nicest gifts.

Michael Cobb
Football and girls
have always been his game.

Dave Cole
What little he has to say is worth waiting for.

Barbara Collins
Sugar and spice and everything nice,
one of these days she'll be covered with rice.

Jack Cornett
Little we know of thee
but that which is good.

Joyce Cory
Cheerful, gay, full of fun,
she is eyed by everyone.

Claudette Counts
Haste is a foreign thing in my nature.

Joanne Cyr
There is no cosmetic
for beauty like a smile.

Charles Dallavo
Full of fun and laughter, pleasure first and business after.

William Dallavo
A smile for every boy,
and two for every girl.

Doris Davenport
We know her by her golden tresses.

Sharon Davison
She couldn't see any use to wait,
so she found herself a mate.

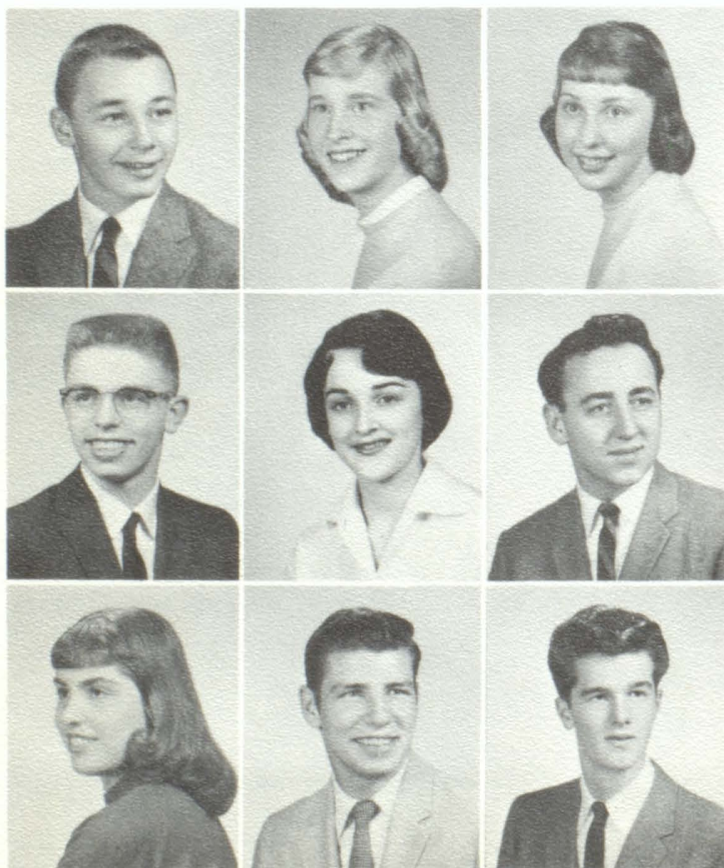

Judith Dawe
If all good deeds were a cent,
she'd be a millionaire.

Douglas DeForest
Out into the wild blue yonder.

Shirley Delamarter
We all love a nice girl.

Janan Dickman
A witty woman is a treasure;
a witty beauty is a power.

Robert Dillon
I am the better half.

David Dreifuss
It's quality rather than quantity that matters.

Linda Dubbs
A little shy perhaps,
but not too shy to be friendly.

Sharon DuBois
Never shy - never bold,
she's really worth her weight in gold.

Thomas Duering
A smile for everyone.

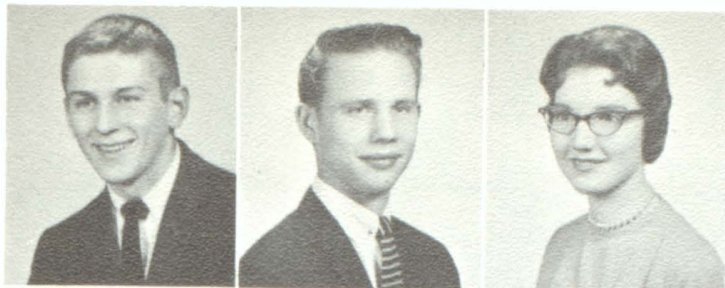

Catherine Duffy
A girl with quiet charm.

Richard Dunn
The only way to maintain a good character is to deserve it.

Nancy Ellis
Her goal is high, and she will reach it.

Eric Ellison
I hate nobody; I am in charity with the world.

Jim Emerson
Not that I like work less, but fun more.

Morris Emigh
His shoulders are broad, he's on the beam, he'd be the man for any team.

Raymond Erickson
Work fascinates me, I could sit and watch it for hours.

Patricia Fooks
A soft answer and pleasant smile,
race other virtues and beat by a mile.

Patricia Foster
A maiden so fair, so quiet.

Carole Fredericks
A quiet manner many wish they had.

Ruthann Frye
Always happy, full of fun,
a sunny smile for everyone.

Don Fuhrman
Kind of shy but loads of fun,
he's got the fair sex on the run.

William Gasser
Behold! I graduate.

Carl Goeckel
All great men are dead or dying,
and I feel a little sick myself.

Edward Grattan
He never speaks a word unkind;
his type of character is hard to find.

Virginia Gravlin
Short and sweet.

Laurel Green
Give me a horse that I can ride and also a partner at my side.

Gregg Gregory
There ain't no sense in gettin' riled!

Richard Groulx
Laugh and he laughs with you,
frown and you frown alone.

Diane Gustairs
Charm, poise, and talent.

Barbara Hall
T'was her thinking of others that made me think of her.

Lloyd Hancock
Often seen — seldom heard

Garrett Hansen
Still water runs deep.

Mike Harris
In sports, personality, any feat, you'll find him hard to beat.

Sharon Harrison
A disposition sweet and sound,
a girl who's a pleasure to have around.

Keith Haskin
Over potatoe chips and coke,
please tell me a little joke.

Arlene Hauck
Oceans of pep,
and a giggle on every wave.

Karen Hemphill
Pep should be her middle name.

Printha Heib
My affections are constant - only the object changes.

Bill Hengel
With dark hair and shiny eyes,
oh what a man to be so shy.

Roger Hicks
It's true that there are other fish in the sea - but they're not half as good looking as he.

John Holbrook
Let's have a party.

Bonnie Hooker
Women like not only to conquer,
but to be conquered.

Mike Howard
The smile that won't come off.

Barry Hunter
Take life easy - you live but once.

Lisa Irvan
Blond hair and a sweet disposition, she'll go far in any position.

John Janeck
I never trouble trouble,
and trouble never troubles me.

Dave Johnson
Talk little - think much.

Gloria Johnson
A ring on her finger and stars in her eyes.

Bill Johnston
I never saw an angel with red hair.

Grace Jolly
May she never change except in name.

Roberta Jones
A smiling face and a twinkling eye, you simply can't pass her by.

John Kidwell
There's room at the top but climbing makes me so dizzy.

Ross Kauppila
Looks and eyes that make us sigh, could break a dozen hearts if he'd but try.

Charles Keilholz
If man were judged by his height, he'd be a king in his own right.

Tom Kennedy
I can resist anything except temptation.

Ralph Klee
He knows the score and plenty more.

Fred Kolpack
How well he can persuade.

Gary Krause
Handsome is as handsome does.

John Kreag.
Personality and loads of fun,
we can't count the friends he's won.

Robert Kreiner
As a diver on our swimming team,
he's the answer to a mermaid's dream.

Ken Kryscio
Just the pipe and slippers
by the fireside type.

Norm Kurilik
Young fellows will be young fellows.

Tom La Meau
He's certain to be found when fun and mischief brew.

Sharon Latimer
Fifty years from now,
when her hair is white, she'll be the same,
just as well liked.

Karen Lazenby
There's mischief in her eyes when she smiles.

Donna Lemma
Looks and personality - who could ask for more.

Norm LePage
Ready wit - but never a word that hurts anyone.

Susie Libbey
The better you know her
the better you like her.

Francis Loncharte
A quiet nature has he,
but mischief lurks beneath.

Ed Lovins
Come with me to . . . Kentucky.

Alice Lucas
Always happy, never glum,
a cheery pal, a peppy chum.

Robert MacDonald
He will leave large footprints
in the sands of time.

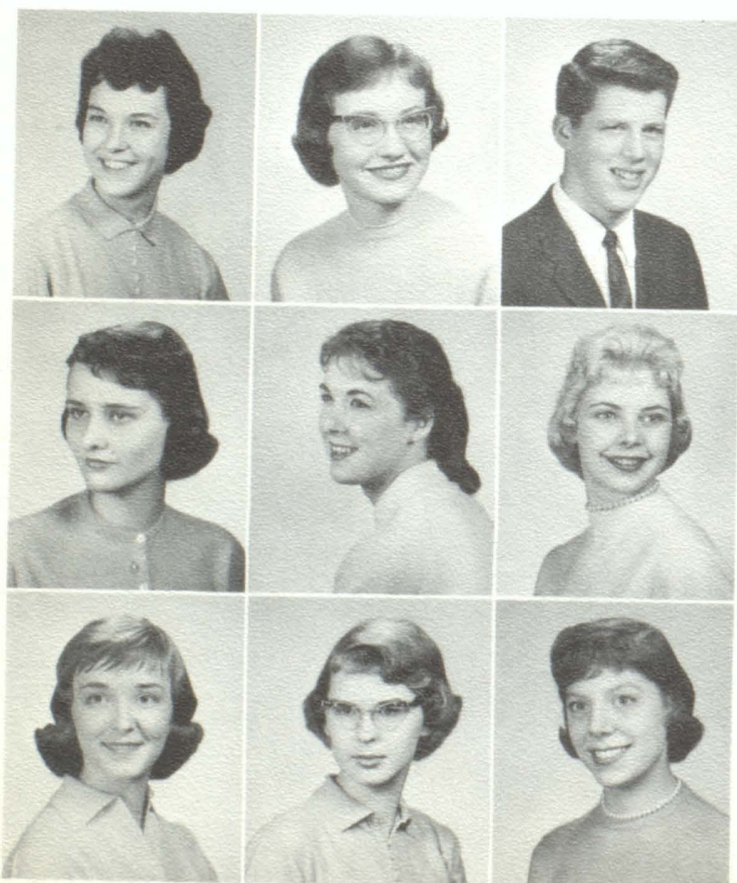

Charles MacFayden
He's one of a few men of few words.

James Manor
Labor I dodge, trouble I bar.

Patricia McDonnell
Cute as a bug's ear.

Donald McKercher
For a friend who's good and true,
world we give our Don to you.

Betty Meeks
Cute and sweet, she's nice to meet.

Dana Merrill
All eyes watch her as she twirls her baton.

Mary Moll
Always smiling, always gay,
nature made her just that way.

Michael Montgomery
A smart man is one who hasn't let a woman pin anything on him since he was a baby.

Janice Morgan
She talks so quick and walks so fast, she's hardly here before she's past.

Judy Morgan
Full of pep, full of fun, never quiet, always on the run.

Elaine Morris
Wicked blue eyes are dangerous things,
they often keep us from sprouting wings.

Gwendolyn Morton
Because is a woman's reason.

Janet Needham
A rather quiet little lass,
and a loyal member of our class.

Mary Nelson
She has a smile for every girl,
and two for every boy.

James Nenni
His circle of friends will ever grow - for he's the kind that's well to know.

Brent Nettle
A man who blushes is a man indeed.

Dorothy Nichols
True to her word, her work and her friends.

Jerry Norman
We know him by the noise he doesn't make.

Diana Oberstadt
She's going to be a big note on the musical scale.

Jack Ogden
To worry is folly,
let's smile and be jolly.

Betty Ann Oniga
One of those gals you can't do without.

Margaret Osgood
Her fountain of laughter never runs dry.

William Pace
Courteous, manly, always frank - ready is he for any prank.

Pauline Parent
What little we know of you is good.

George Parkoshan
A man of sense talks little and listens much.

Roy Passerelli
As likeable as he is inches tall.

John Pavlik
Silence is the essential condition of Happiness.

Judy Pedlar
Just like an angel's visit - short and bright.

Peggy Pfaehler
She answers with wit and wisdom.

Alton Pollard
As nice as the day is long.

Janet Pollom
Her ways are ways of pleasantness.

Jane Reagan
No gold she needs to wear,
she shines exceedingly fair.

David Reed

Happy am I, from care am I free!
Why aren't they all contented like me.

Michael Rehner

Without music, life would be empty.

Allen Richter

Al's disposition is bright and cheery,
a ray of sunshine when things are dreary.

Doris Riddle

Pretty, popular, and pleasing.

William Santerini

According to our methods of inspection - we think Bill's near perfection.

Sybil Savory

She's game - but not everybody's

Herb Scheerer

Of all the things I like the best,
I much prefer to sit and rest.

Judy Schmidt

You never see a frown or a pout - one of those girls you can't do without.

Richard Schulte

He has a lot of freight on his train of thought.

Joan Scott

A gal to be depended upon - no noise - but poise.

JoAnn Sellers

I love to wind my mouth up and listen to it go.

Patricia Semifero

Conscience does make cowards of us.

Penelope Sheppard

A penny for your thoughts.

David Shortt

He looks like an angel and acts like one too; but you never can tell what angels might do.

Jeanette Shtogren

Shes quiet - but don't judge her by it.

Juliana Shtogren

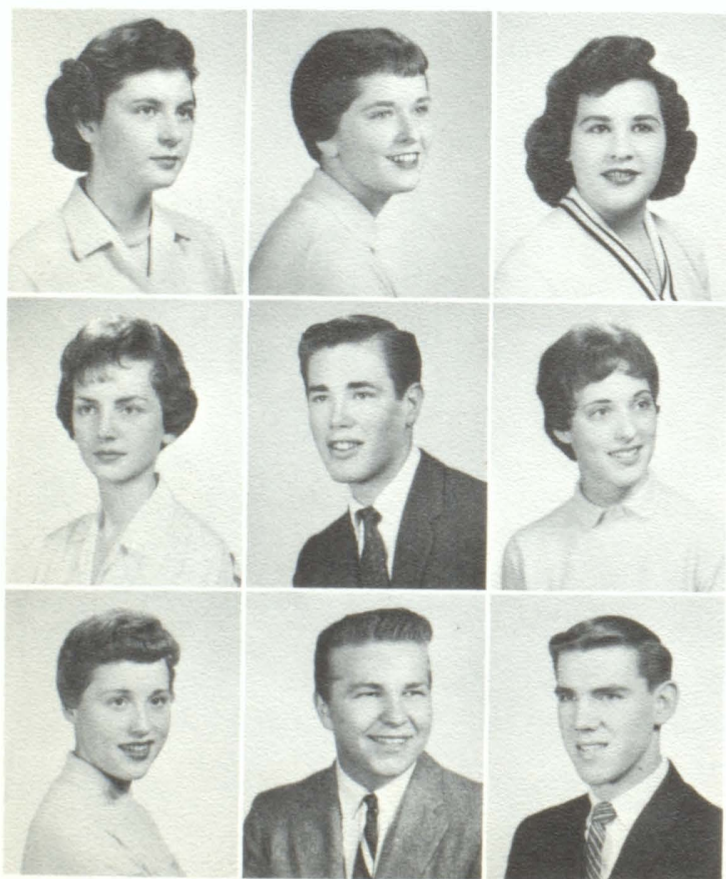

Good to look at - better to be with.

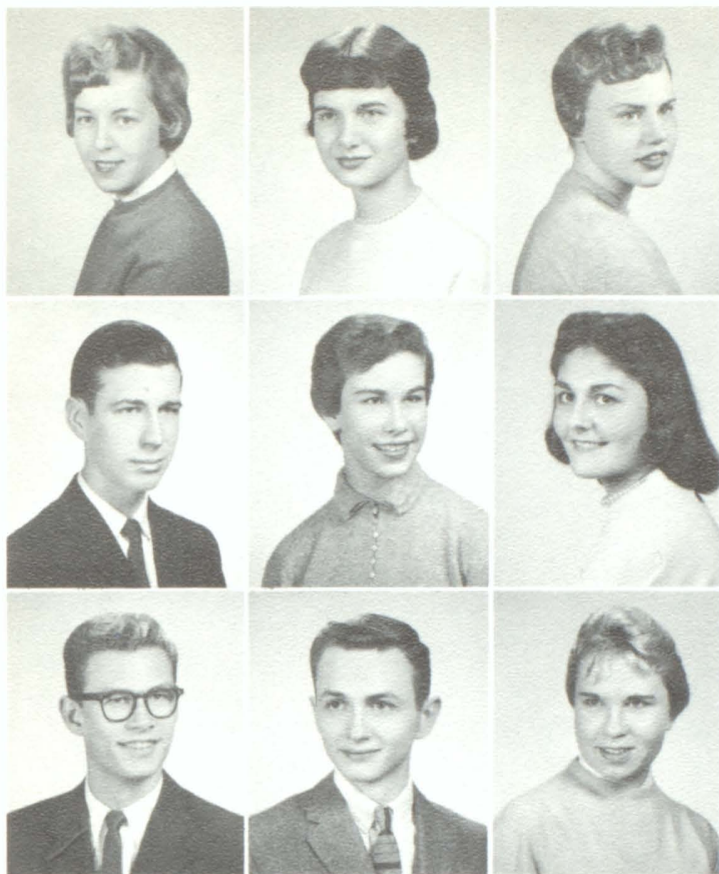

Larry Smith

The world may go on without me, but I doubt it.

Dale Sparrow

Although his manner is almost pleasing,
it doesn't stop his constant teasing.

Kay Springer
When Kay stops her flirting,
Santa Claus will shave.

Phyllis Stapleton
We know her for her sincerity.

Sue Stenzhorn
Always full of fun,
popular with almost everyone.

Peter Stewart
No one else could be his parallel.

Gayle Stock
Her eyes are full of sparkle, matched only by the sweetness of her personality.
of her personality.

Gloria Stoykovich
Friendly to all, to all a friend.

Terry Szymon
Good natured and a friend to all.

David Thomas
Likeable and easy going.

Sheryl Tomc
A quiet girl with quiet ways.

Dawn Tovey
There's mischief in her smile,
there's devilry in her eyes.

Marilyn Townley
A style all her own.

Linda Troxell
Her smile will pave her way through life.

Joan Turanski
Here's to the girl with eyes of brown whose spirit you can never down.

Nathaniel Upton
Healthy and free, the world before me.

Alan Usler
He cries, at last I'm out.

Elizabeth Valade
Those who know her best, praise her most.

Jack Vaughn
If I am studying when you come in—wake me up.

Carol Voeffray
She turns her back on boys,
then walks backwards.

Frank Voeffray
Friends, Romans, and Countrymen, lend me your girls.

Sandra Wagner
Foot loose and fancy free.
That's the way she wants to be.

Barbara Walch
A good disposition
is more valuable than gold.

Shirley Walsh
A good heart is better than all the heads in the world.

Clifford Westbrook
So quiet he hardly makes a sound,
but a welcome person to have around.

Bette Westerby
Pep and vitality—a great personality.

Joanne White
Devout in faith—sincere in action.

David Williams
If you see him studying, it must be Fords.

Florence Williams
Quiet people are welcome everywhere.

Barbara Craig
A talented writer is she.

James Whan
He knows that football isn't the only place a line is needed.

Mary Ann Zimmerman
Her looks, her friends, her vivaciousness, will bring her a lifetime of happiness.

We'll Always Remember You

A charming portion of another world was brought to Kimball this year by friendly, blonde, blue-eyed Kerstin Danielsson, our American Field Service exchange student from Kumla, Sweden.

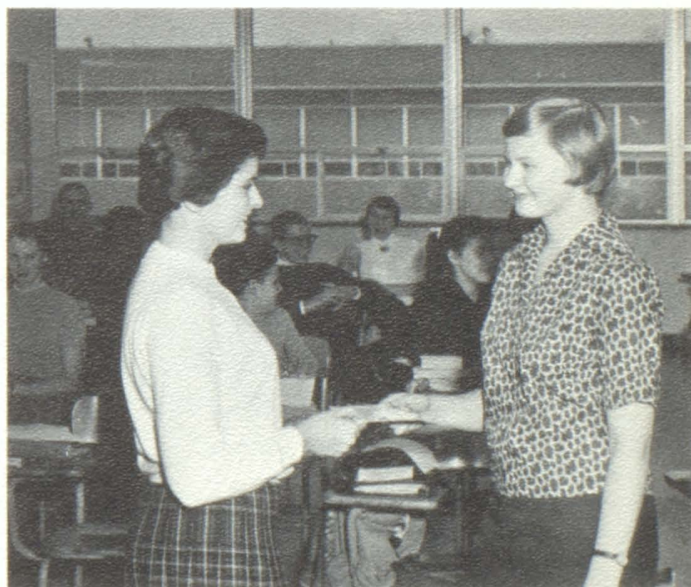

Chris, as she is called by many of her classmates, was an active member of both F.T.A. and G.A.A. and she appeared in this year's water show. In a girls' meet against Hazel Park, she won a trophy for speed swimming.

Besides carrying a five course schedule, she was a member of Roundtable where she contributed valuable ideas and helpful service to our school. Outside of school she was active in her church group, M.Y.F.

Before returning to her homeland she will take a tour of the United States with other A.F.S. students. Back in Kumla she will continue high school for three more years and then enter the University of Uppsala, located north of Stockholm. At present she hopes to take up the study of medicine.

All of us who have known Chris and benefitted from the experience of her friendship certainly wish her the best of luck and happiness in whatever she attempts.

Chris Danielsson gets a few pointers for her forthcoming algebra homework assignment from Mr. Mack. He happily gives her a few tips on how to work a more difficult motion problem. Chris is in Mr. Mack's fourth hour algebra class.

The Kimball student body gave their exchange student, Chris Danielsson, a check for Christmas to call her parents who live in Sweden. Here JoAnn Sellers, president of the Roundtable, is presenting the check to Chris who accepted it gratefully.

"Hi ya' cutie. Whatcha doin' tonight about eight?" says flirtatious Bob Campbell to his best friend's girl, Shirley Delamarter. "We can paint the town pink with my little red hot rod."

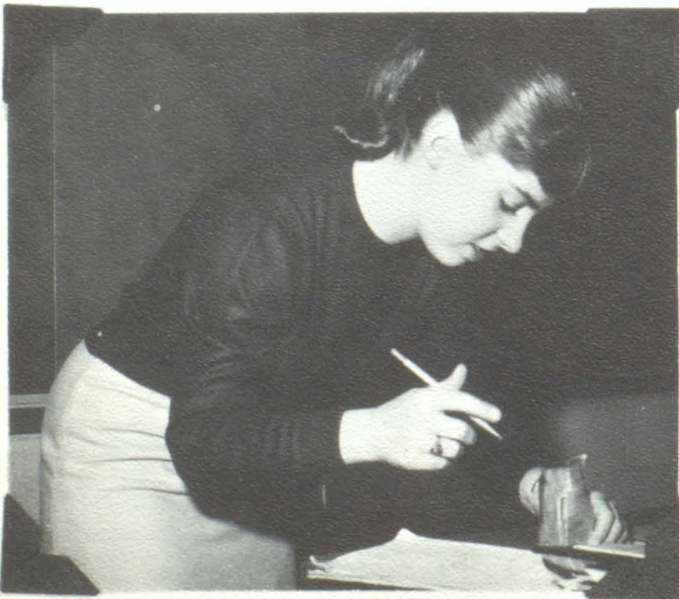

Guess who didn't do his homework? Dick Shulte, Penny Sheppard and Al Pollard here look too bored to even have bothered. "Oh, sociology doesn't matter anyway. Who wants to graduate?"

"Did you hear about the guy with the gleam in his eye?" asks Laurel Green of Kay Springer. But with Kay's male friend passing by, she is too busy to listen.

"Ah Hahl Another one of you honor society culprits who hasn't paid your dues," cries president, Nancy Ellis delightedly. "That make $47.00 in the treasury and just enough for my senior trip."

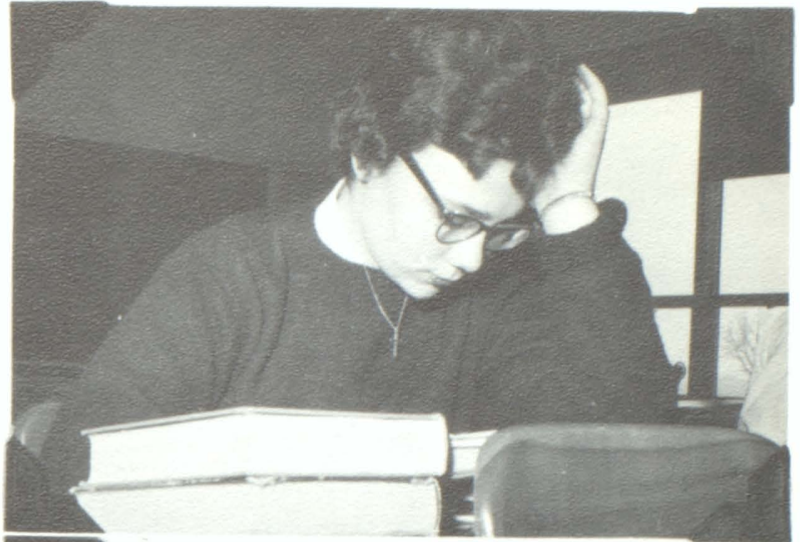

"He's not in class, and he's not on the absence list. You'd better mark him as skipping, Jo Ann," says Sandy Wagner, shown here playing the role of teacher's little helper.

Here we see Carolynn Browning so eagerly studying that she seems to glow with the light of knowledge. The question which appears is exactly what is she studying???

"Oh, stop shoving, you hall hogs!" disgustedly blurts Carolyn Bright to Janice Morgan as her books slowly slip from her exhausted arms.

It seems impossible, but we are actually seeing Chuck Dallava, Jon Chesney, and Don Johnson studying and in a serious mood instead of goofing off.

"One, two, three, ugh! Step, two, three, ugh!" It seems as though "the boys," John Holbrook, Dave Brazier, Tom Kennedy, and Frank Voeffray, cannot get the hang of that crazy cha-cha. You can bet they won't give up though.

It looks as though Meredith Bohde was struck by cupid's arrow. He must really be something to put her in a trance like this. Mike Cobb seems to be wondering just who the lucky fellow is. Anyone we know?

Mr. Broomfield is the center of attraction in government class, as Dave Williams, Eric Ellison, Karen Lazenby, Kay Springer, and Bud Loncharte view his picture.

"Okay, you're gonna get it, buddy," cries Margaret Osgood to Al Snyder as John Holbrook, Roy Passerelli, and Don Johnson watch Marg make a "big hit" in Advanced Speech class.

Barb Johnson typifies busy senior life as she "marks" time dreaming of the "hectoric" weekend coming up. (Didn't think we'd put it in, eh, Barb?)

"If she doesn't quit reading me that pack of lies, I'm going to let her have this hot dog right in the face," thinks Judy Burnett.

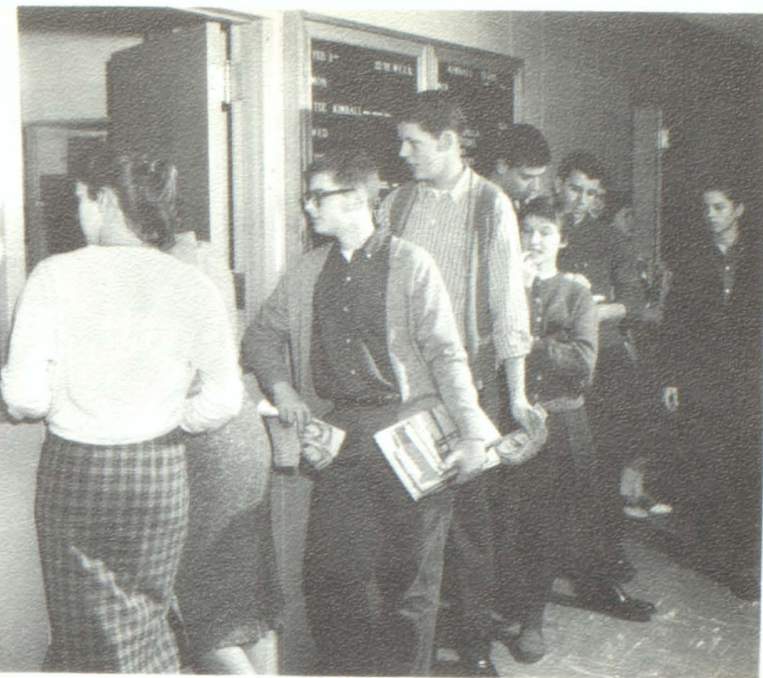

"On your mark, get set, go!" says Mrs. Donna Scherer to her Shorthand 3 class as they anxiously prepare themselves for the day's dictation in hopes of bettering their records.

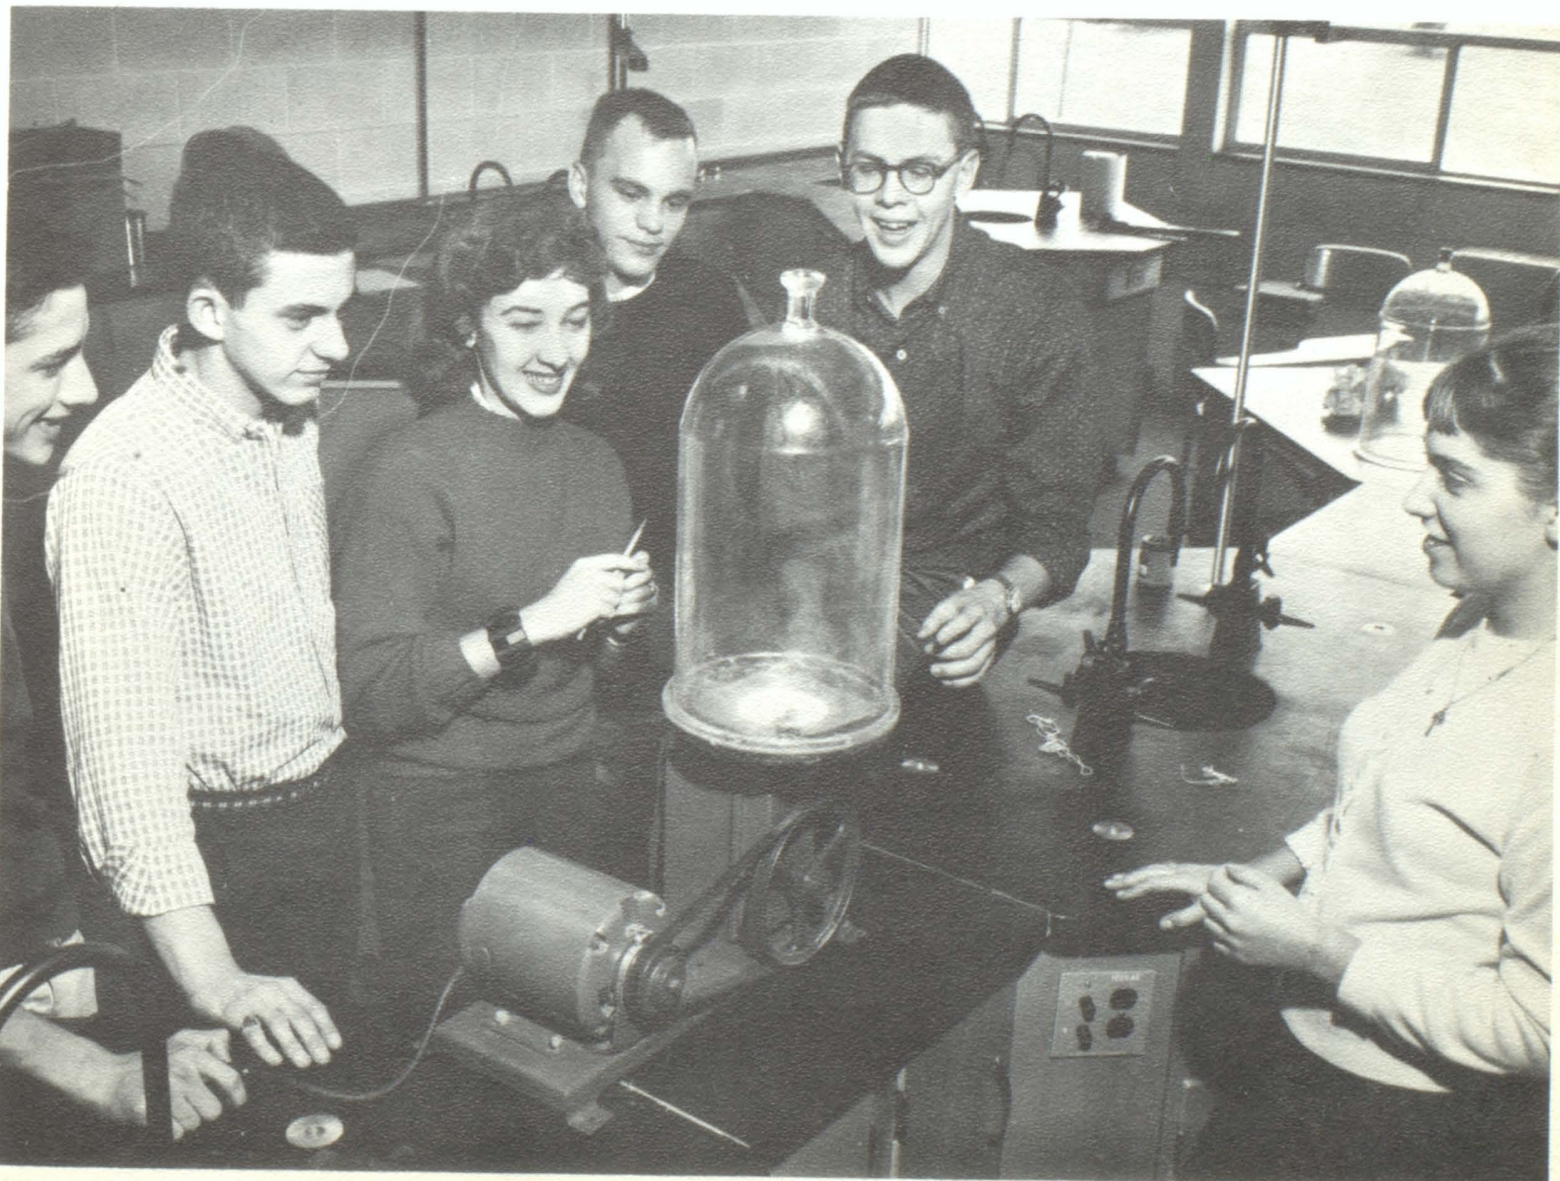

Frank Voeffray proudly accepts the highly cherished pin of the National Honor Society for all-around achievements from Dr. Matthews.

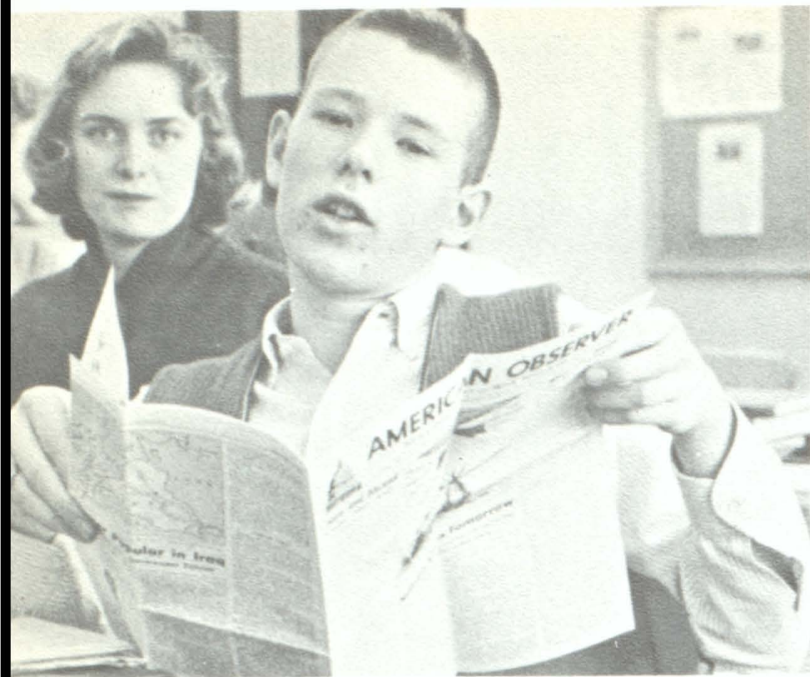

Judy Morgan, Dawn Tovey, Paul Jones, Mike Montgomery, Myrna Birdsall, Gary Krause, and Ron Anderson are making a payment on their senior trip.

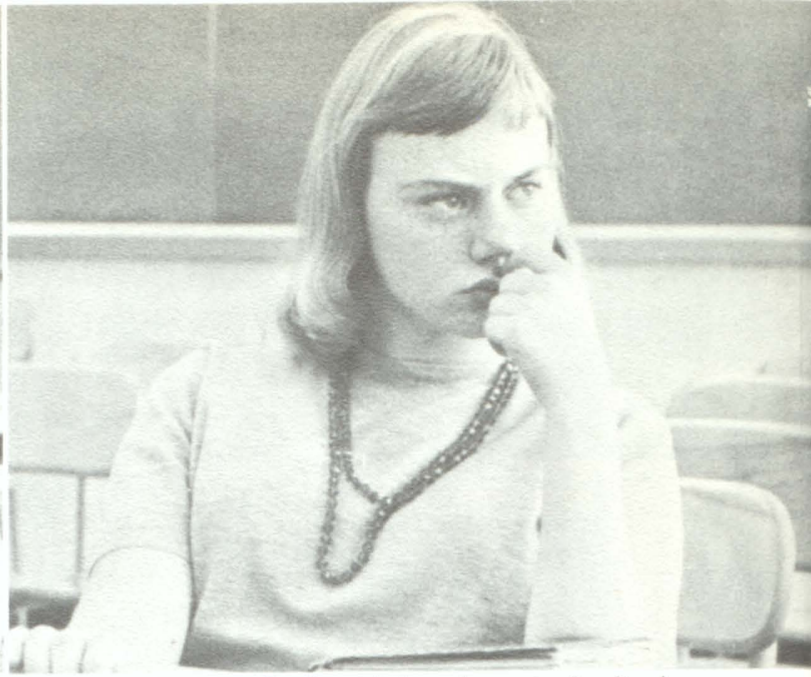

The glow on Jon Chesney's face, without a doubt, proves that physics can be fun. Diane Gustairs looks as though she is verifying the fact as Dick Groulx, Jim Nenni, John Kreag, and Nancy Ellis carefully watch this exciting experiment.

"What'd'ya mean I can't read my government homework during English class?" sneers senior Brent Nettle.

"Gee, I wonder if he will call tonight," ponders senior Sue Stenzhorn. "I sure hope he does."

"I wish Mr. Rosen would take this picture and leave so we can listen to Elvis instead of Shakespeare," says Bill Pace. Roberta Jones, Bob

Chutorash, Carol and Frank Voeffray appear to be bored, but they are actually (?) enjoying Willy Babel

"Egad, how can one man be so boring!" Carol Patrick seems to be thinking as she pretends to read her English. John Kreag, Doug DeForest, and Sue Stenzhorn seem to be pretending too.

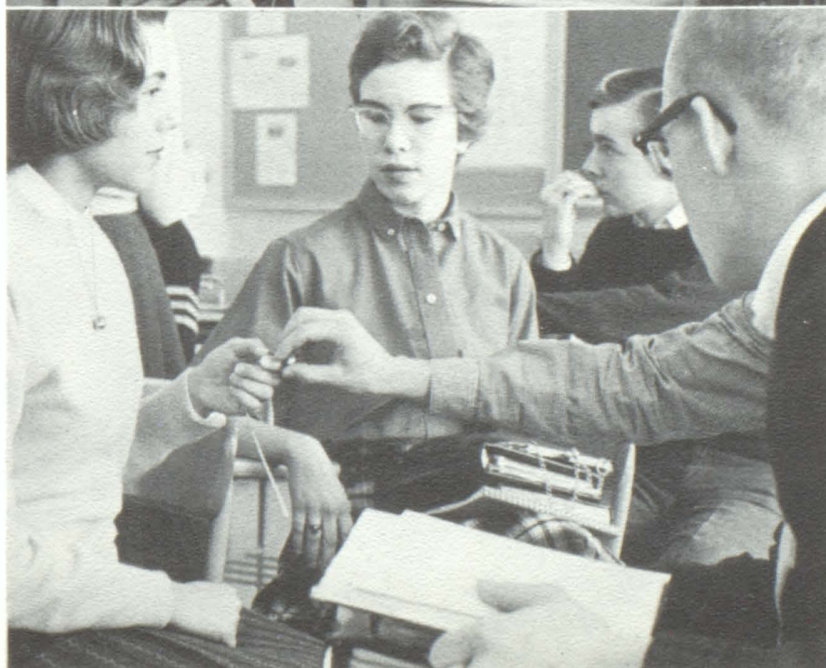

Senior

"W-a-a-a-i-i-i-t a minute!" smirks Donna Marie Lemma, co-editor of the Lancer, at the click of Mr. Rosen's sneaky camera. "I certainly didn't bargain for this when I took the job."

Scene

"One more word out of you, Miss Benner, and you will get this stapler right in the mouth," warns Roy Passerelli as Carolyn Browning and Julie Shtrogren await the outcome of this threat.

"Golly, why couldn't he have given that to me instead of her," thinks Gayle Stock as she watches Bill Pace hand Judy Hoffman the last piece of Double Bubble gum from beneath his chair.

"Watch out or I'll get you," says Chuck Dallavo. The other people making jeers at the photographer are members of the June '59 classes from Kimball and Dondero high schools. They were present at the senior party at Kimball in March.

"Down you go," say four senior girls to Carl Goeckel at the senior party held at Kimball.

"What am I supposed to say?" ponders Bob Chutorash as Gay Westerby waits patiently at the senior party.

Poor Carl! He has girl-troubles again.

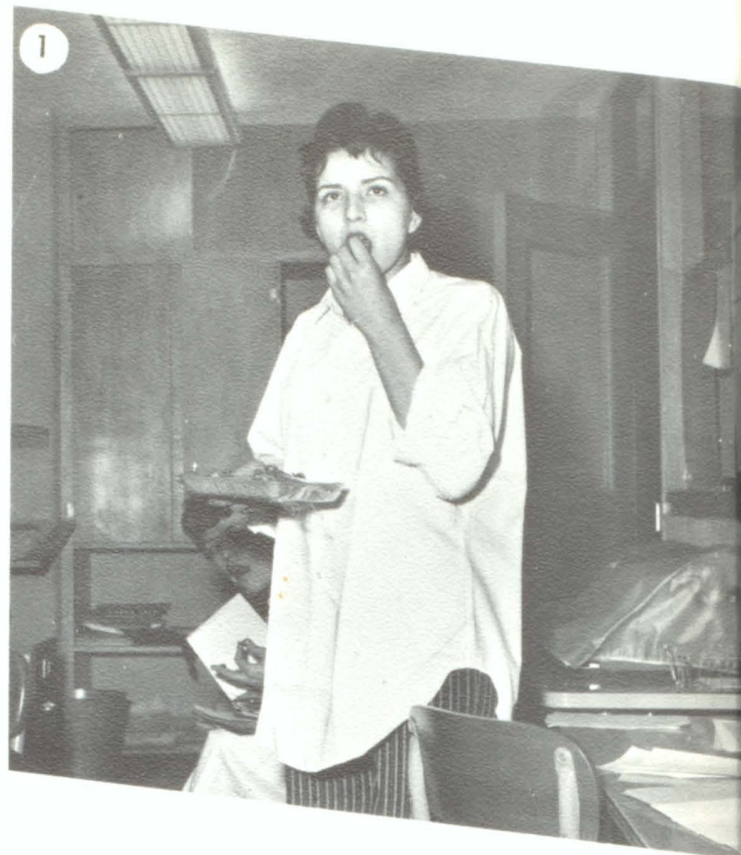

Now, take it easy Benner! We were only kidding.

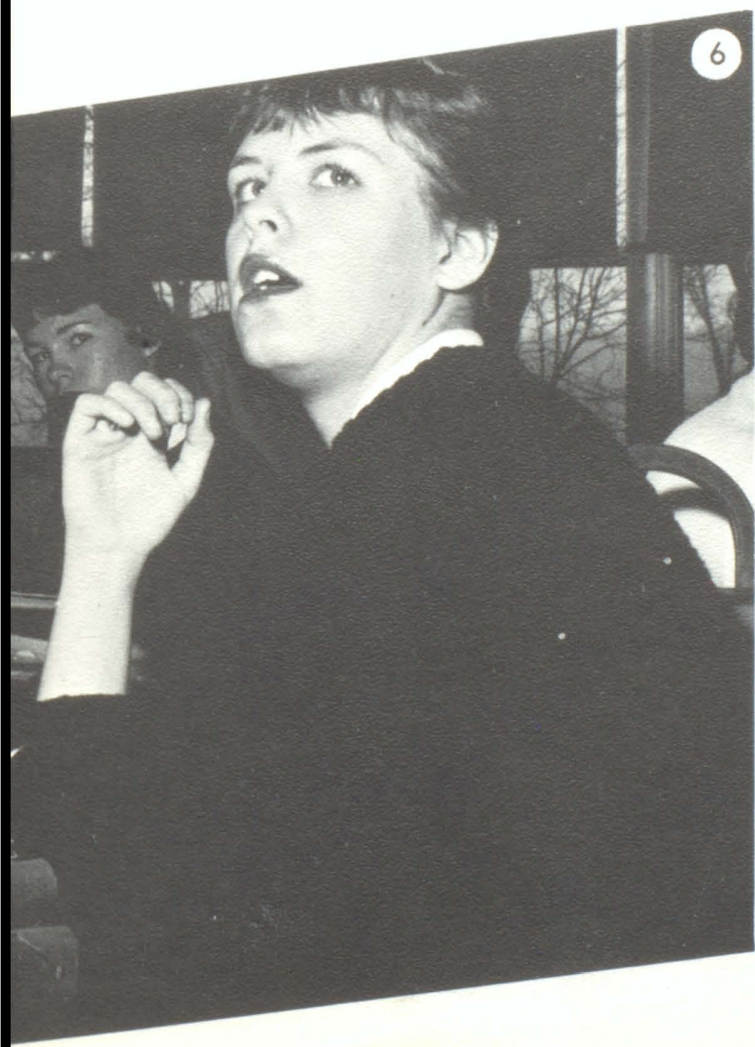

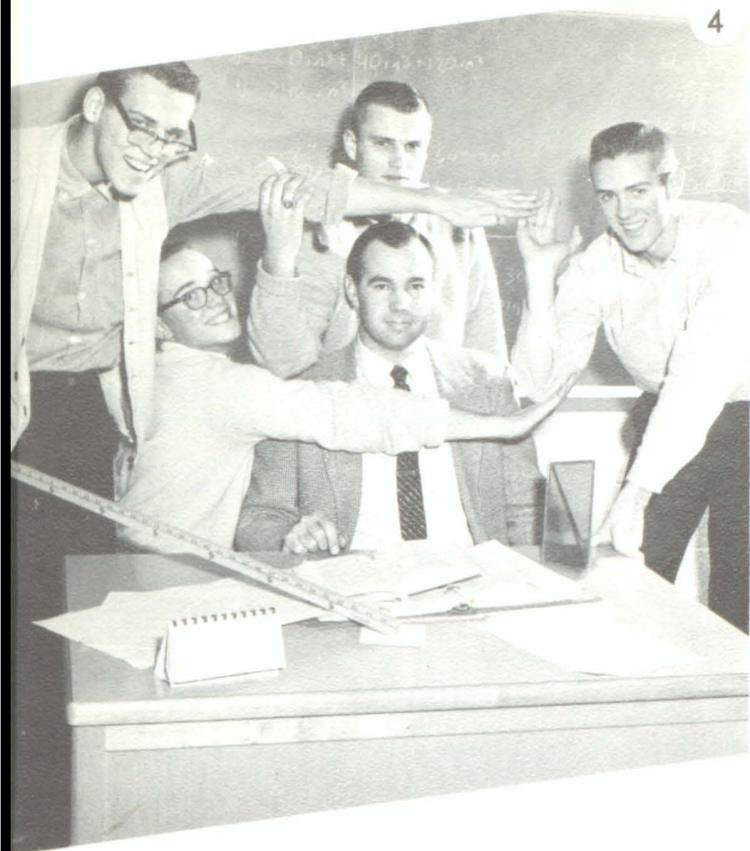

Members of the senior class here do the bunny-hop as well as can be expected with no music.

Memories Are Made Of This

1. "Why not? I can't get any fatter ! ! ! "
2. "1492, 1492, 1492 — I must remember that date!"
3. "Smile Chip, that's a Kimball photographer," says Karen.
4. Seniors, Norm, Chuck, Dave, and Mike frame their favorite teacher, Mr. Zulch.
5. These three girls all agree that the dance is too, too exciting!
6. "Rahllly dahling, I wouldn't possibly consider it!"

Homerooms

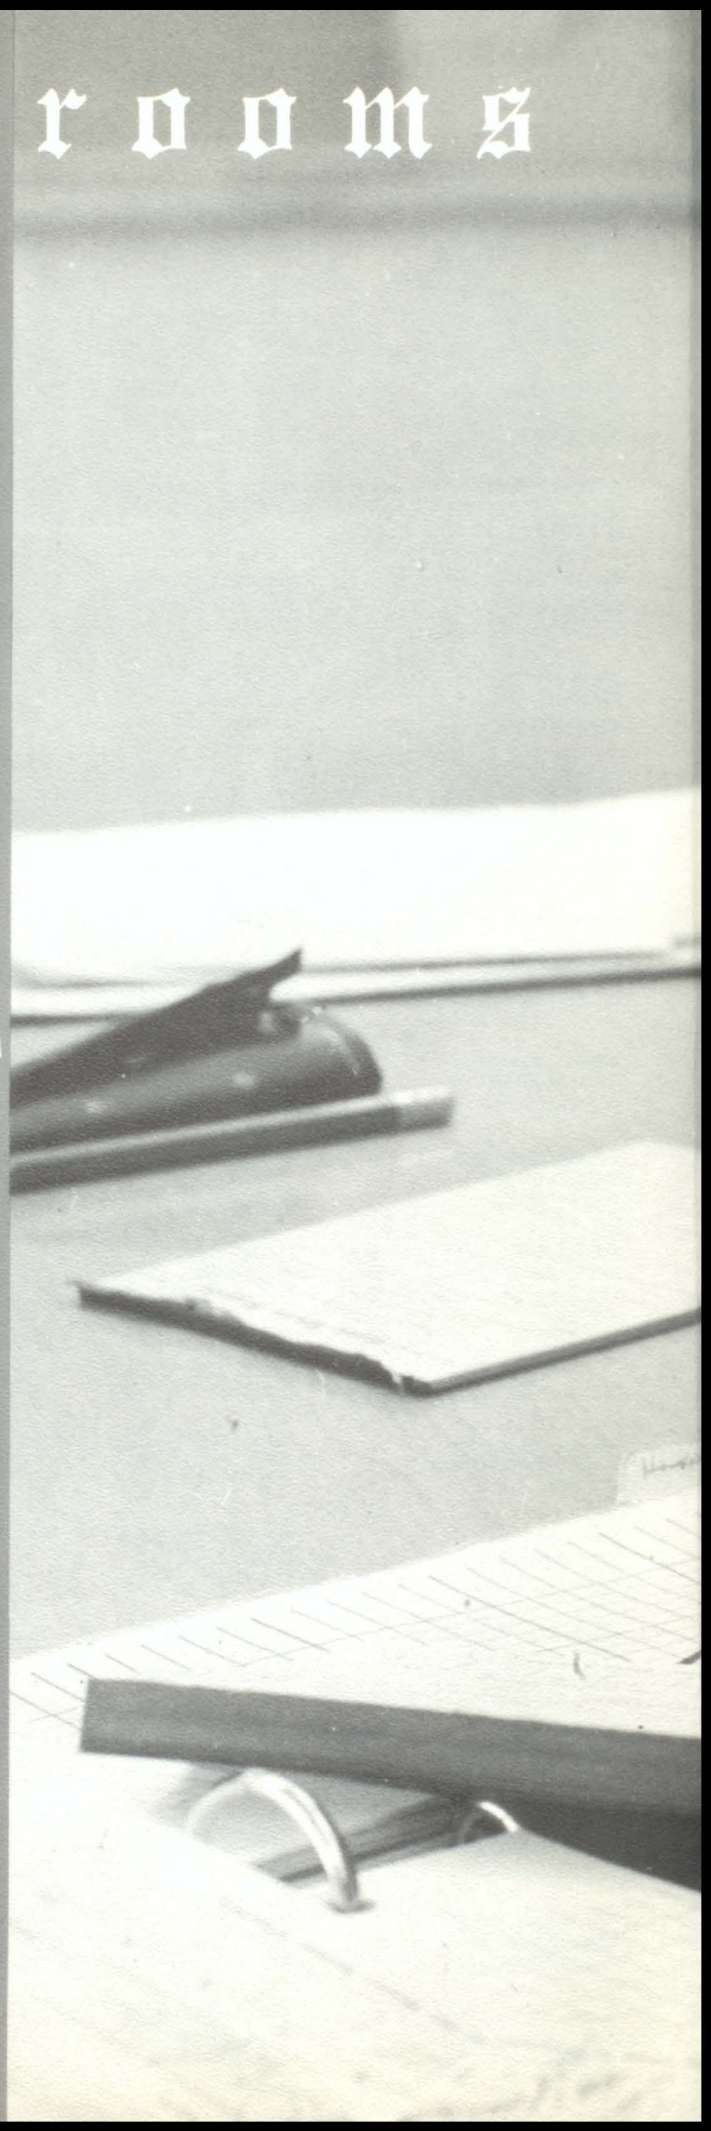

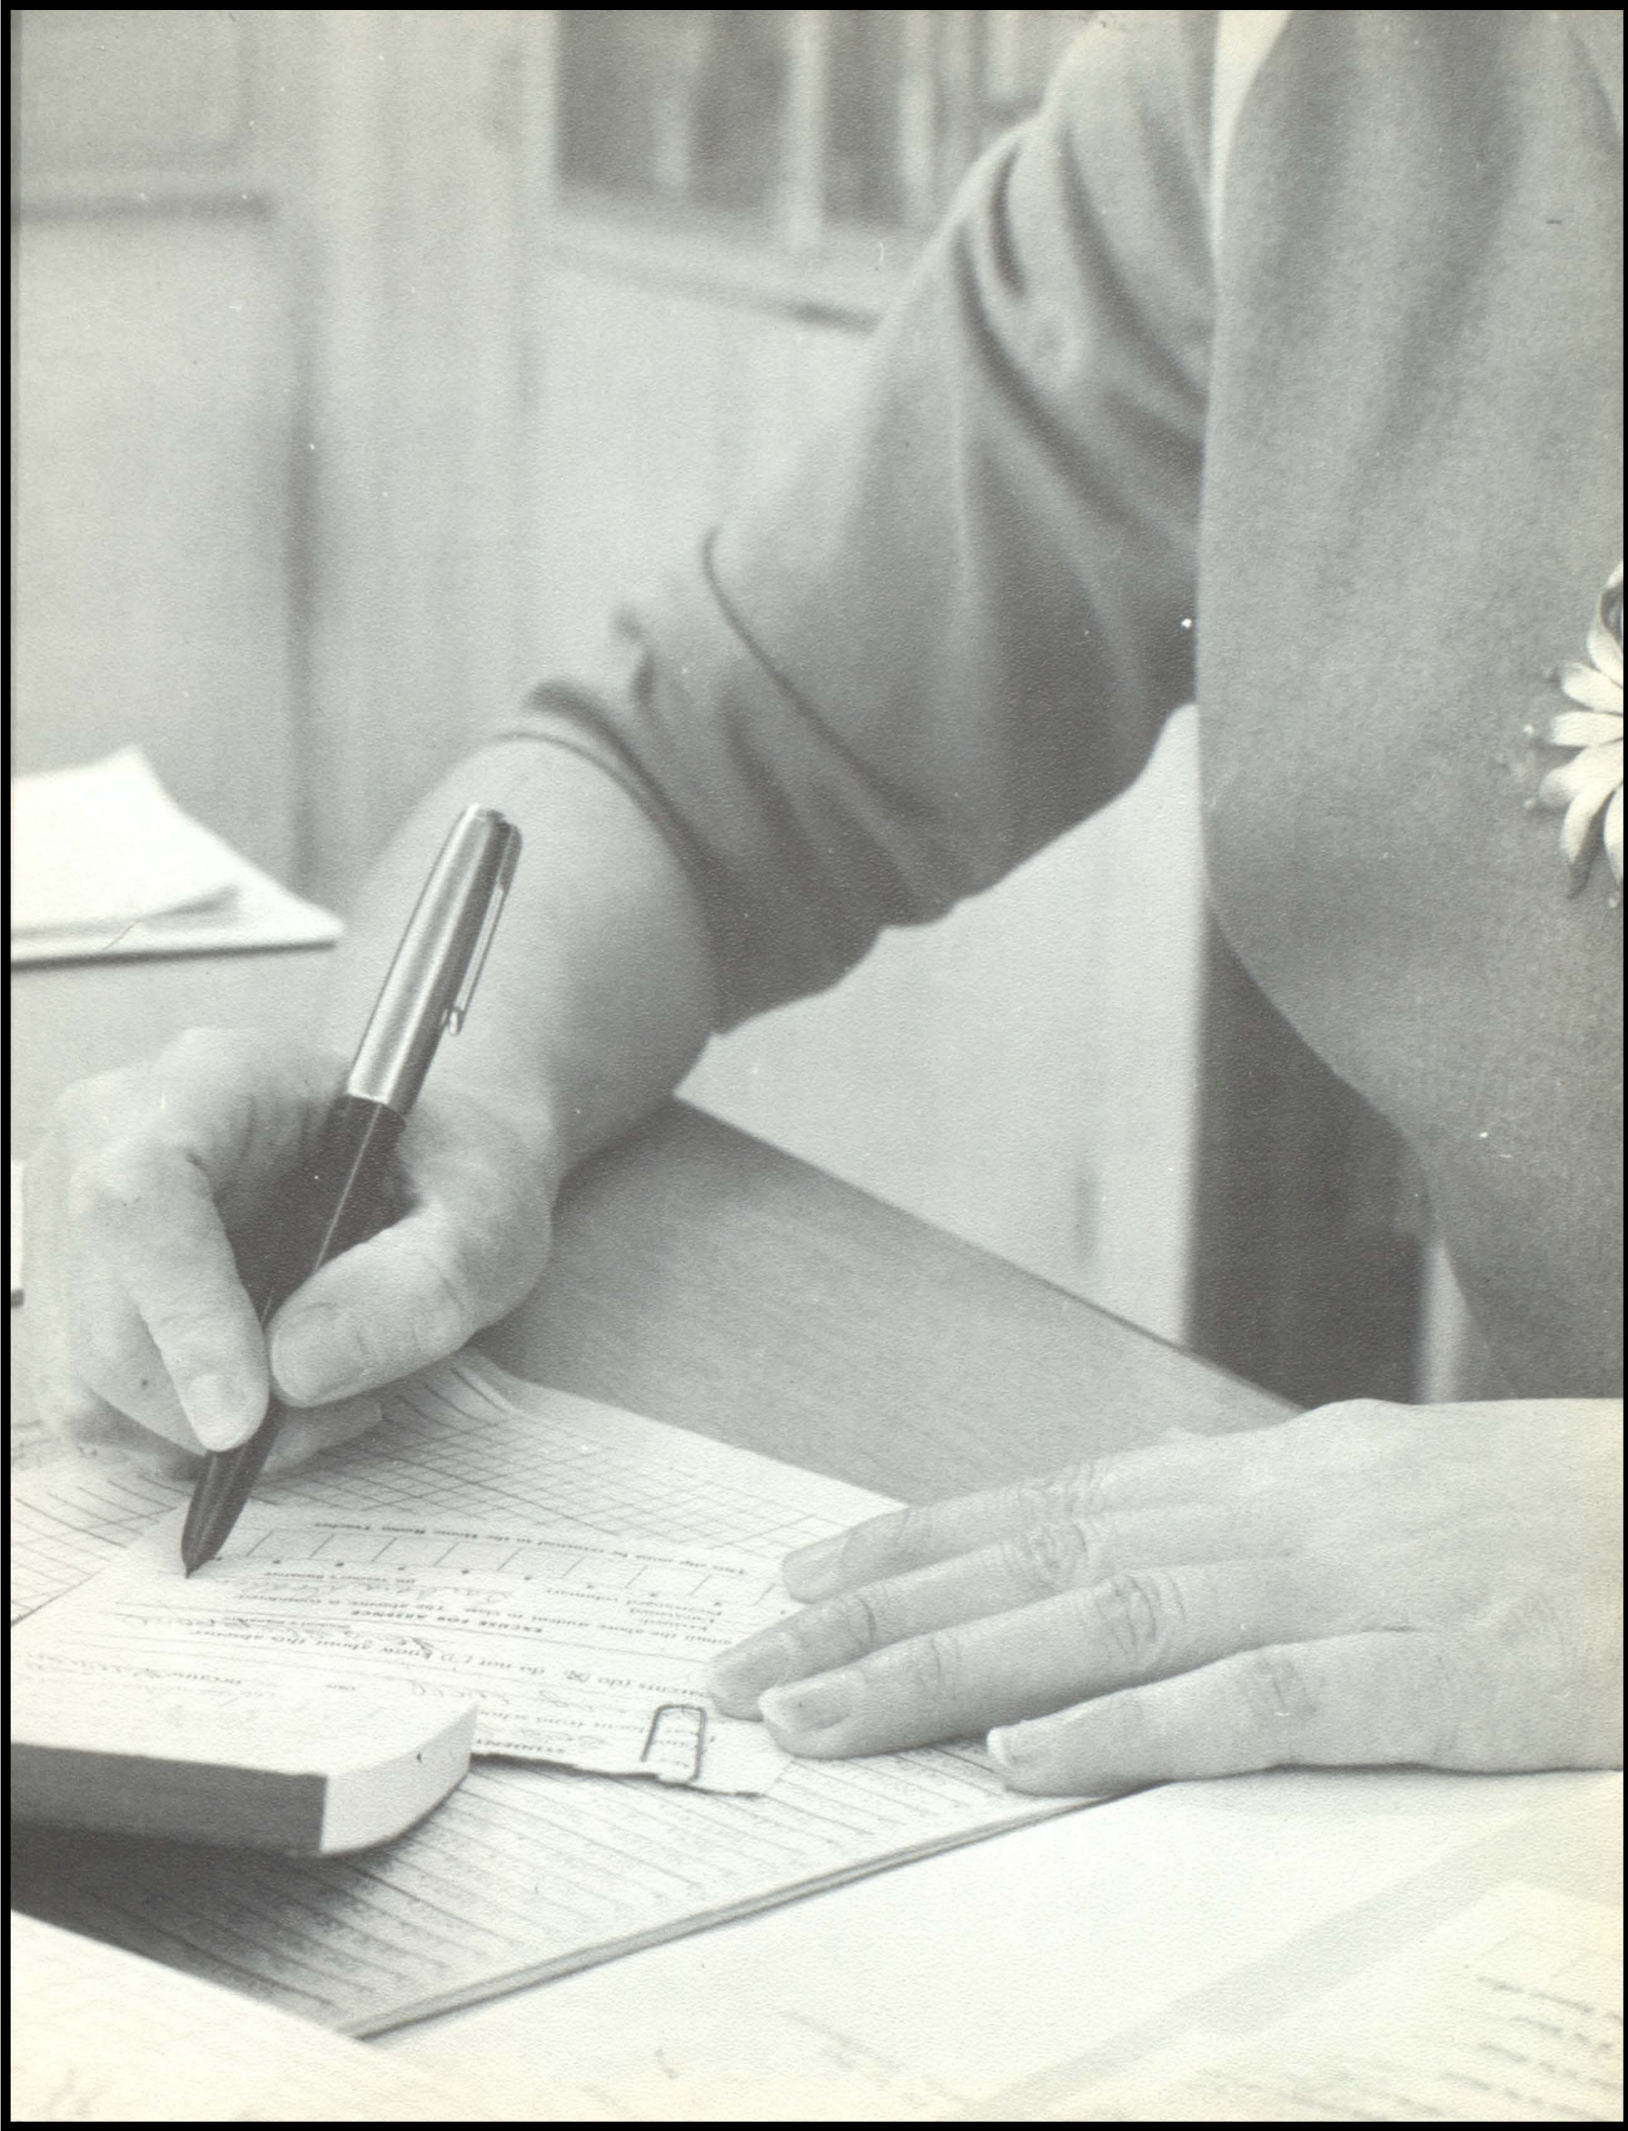

“Good-morning! These are the P.A. announcements for this morning,” — and so began the mad scramble of events which was called the homeroom period at Kimball.

“Jane, George, Mary, and Jim, come up and get an absence excuse for yesterday.” “Bill when are you going to get that car fixed? You’ve been tardy every day this week!” “I’m sorry your mother had a headache, but that was no reason for you to stay home for two days!” Thus, the harrassed teacher distributed the absence excuses for the previous day, collected the signed excuses, and proceeded to take attendance for the present day. “Jim, will you please stay in your assigned seat until roll has been taken.” “Has anyone seen Bob this morning? No? Then he must be absent.”

“Sue, Bob, John, and Pat your counselor would like to see you, immediately.” “Bob, when did you arrive? Oh, you were stuck in the parking lot for ten minutes.” “Here are some special notices for Dick, Nancy, Don, and Janet.”

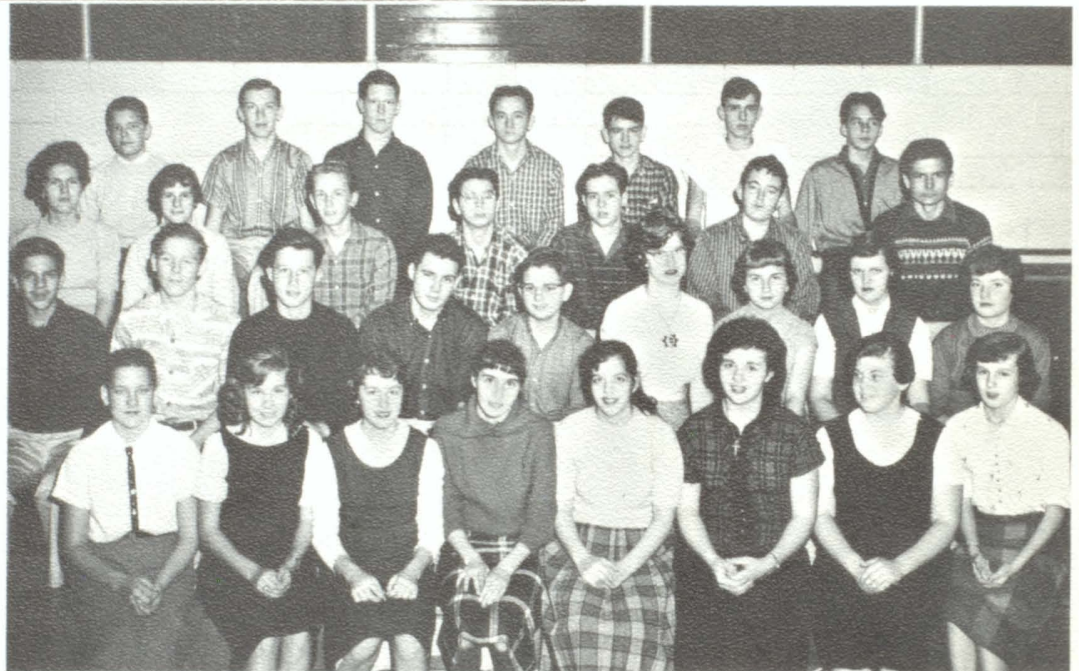

“All right now, class, may I please have your attention. I want your complete co-operation now, because we have four forms to fill out and only five minutes in which to do them. Do not do any writing until I tell you to do so. All right now, print your name on each form. No, last name first, first name second, and your middle initial. Do not write, print.” Etc., etc. Finally, the bell rang and thirty students in sixty different rooms tore out of homeroom to their first hour classes.

Epilogue

WE HAVE tried to recapture some of the happy as well as the more serious moments and events of the past year at the Kimball Kastle.

This year was another important step in the academic and social preparation for the future years in the lives of the Knights - for some it was the final step, for others it was just another in a long series. Those educational ingredients have been blended, and, if the students took heed, the outcome should be a well-rounded and balanced Knight.

The chivalrous Knights of yesterday were absorbed in Astrology; the Knights of Kimball have been involved in all types of complex sciences. The mysterious Knights studied the art of alchemy; the present Knights have studied chemistry and its mysteries.

The Knights of King Arthur's court might have sung songs and written poems to their fair ladies, but the noblemen at Kimball have escorted the ladies to many different activities, including dances and football games, during the year.

When the noblemen were knighted, they were expected to live up to certain standards. So it is with the Knights of Kimball. However, when they graduate from the Kastle and enter the business world, they can face it with confidence, because they know they can utilize the knowledge they have acquired in the past four years . . . and they shall live happily ever after.

"There's a girl I'd like to meet"

"I've been watching all evening how pleasant and charming she is to everyone. I'm told her name is Betty, and she works for the telephone company."

Yes, Betty, through her day-to-day training on her telephone job, has gained poise and confidence—real assets to an attractive, winning personality.

When she started her job, Betty had no experience in telephone work. But she was trained with other beginners by Michigan Bell's friendly, understanding supervisors. Today Betty's proud of her work; enjoys a fine salary, regular wage increases, and many new friends.

What more could any girl ask in a job? Get in touch with us—perhaps you'll find there's one of those interesting telephone jobs for you.
